

CORN FROM MOUNTAIN TOPS

Exposition at Omaha Will Show Grain from All Altitudes.

FUNK FOR FOREIGN EXHIBITS

President of National Corn Association Will Get Samples of Grain Grown from American Seed in Foreign Lands.

Corn is not only coming from all latitudes of the globe to the National Corn exposition in Omaha...

Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois corn grows in an altitude ranging from 1,000 to 3,500 feet above sea level.

An interesting exhibit is to be arranged showing the corn which grows like the pine trees along the high plateau of the Rocky mountain district...

President A. B. Funk of the National Corn association has promised exhibits of corn from all the foreign countries to which American seed is sent.

But down in South Africa, where Illinois and Nebraska seed corn is sent, 37,000,000 bushels of corn were produced...

South American Exhibit. Then, South America will have an exhibit, where 195,000 bushels were grown...

From Russia and North Caucasus, where 11,000,000 bushels of corn were produced last year, exhibits will come to the big show at Omaha...

The part which the United States government will take in the National Corn show is yet a mystery, but a number of the close friends of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Governor Sheldon are urging on him...

Another process which the government may demonstrate is the making of denatured alcohol from the waste about the farm.

NEWS FROM THE ARMY POSTS

Guard Officers Who Have Been Attending Post School Complete Term's Work.

FORT CROOK, Neb., March 28.—(Special.)—Colonel and Mrs. Gardner are entertaining Mrs. Gardner's mother, Mrs. Patton of Detroit...

First Lieutenant P. L. Smith, Sixteenth infantry, gave an interesting lecture with an account of his travels in Europe last fall to the officers of the Sixteenth infantry at their last moon meet on St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. C. E. Morton, whose husband, Captain Morton, was recently appointed as captain, Sixteenth, to the pay department, passed through Omaha, stopping over a train to see the friends he met on his way to San Francisco...

Lieutenants P. L. Smith, Brown, McCune, Sixteenth infantry, and Miss Bonney were dinner guests of Major and Mrs. Blauvelt and Mrs. Bennett last Friday night.

Captain and Mrs. Crimmins entertained several of the bachelors of the garrison at an informal bridge on Saturday night.

Mrs. Cornelius Gardner, wife of Colonel Gardner, has been suffering with a severe cold for the last few days.

Lieutenant and wife, who recently arrived at the post from Plattsburg, Minn., are the guests of Captain and Mrs. W. C. Bennett until their quarters are prepared for occupancy.

Miss Bonney seems to be the champion at bridge among the officers and ladies of the post as she has carried off first prize at the last three meetings.

The following transfers and assignments of officers in the Sixteenth infantry were made: Captain J. C. Minus, from Company F to Company A; First Lieutenant C. R. Stone, Jr., from Company A to Company B; First Lieutenant D. B. Lawton, from Company B to Company A; Captain George E. Ball, recently assigned to the Sixteenth infantry, from first lieutenant, Twenty-first infantry, has been assigned to Company F; Captain Ball, who is now on duty at Fort Logan, Colo., has been directed to join his company at Fort Crook for duty.

A general court-martial, consisting of the following named officers, has been ordered to convene at Fort Crook for the trial of such persons as may be brought before the court: Major Blauvelt, Captains Dalton and Crimmins, First Lieutenants Hartz and Shortland, Second Lieutenants James and McCune, Sixteenth infantry, with First Lieutenant Morrison as judge advocate.

The judge advocate has been authorized to employ a stenographic reporter. Private Claude C. Shipp, Troop A, Thirtieth cavalry, who deserted at Fort Riley, Kan., March 28, 1907, and who again enlisted under the name of George L. Watson, and was assigned to the Sixteenth infantry at Fort Omaha, Neb., was tried for desertion and sentenced to dishonorable discharge, forfeiting all pay and allowances, and to confinement in a military prison for eighteen months at the United States military prison, Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The prisoner remains at Fort Crook. Private Edward M. Wylie, Company D, signal corps, who was tried at Fort Crook for larceny, was sentenced to dishonorable discharge and to be confined at hard labor for six months under the guard at Fort Crook.

First Lieutenant O. E. Michaelis, Sixteenth infantry, has appointed as athletic officer, with Private Humache, Company E, Sixteenth infantry, as his assistant.

Private Gibson, Company L, Sixteenth infantry, has been detailed on special duty as assistant to the officer in charge of the examination of the officers pursuing the course in officers' school in the subject of "The History of the Regiment," which will take place at 3:30 a. m., the 27th inst.

Colonel Storch, Captain Shaleneberger, Captain and Private Lieutenants McNebraska National guard, and Captain Snoddy, Kansas National guard, who have been attending a garrison school at the post since November 1 last, will complete the prescribed course and will leave about the 1st inst. for the respective homes throughout the two different states.

All the above named officers have been very attentive to their studies and recitations and have never missed a recitation in any of the subjects during the five months they have been on duty at the post. During their long stay at the post they have made an everlasting impression among the officers, who were willing at all times to assist them in any branch, and which could devote his time exclusively to the construction of the motor cars, but the depression put an end to this talk.

Among the shopmen and others in local railroad circles the impression has prevailed for some time that Mr. McKee's official status was undergoing a change that would elevate him and promote his assistant Superintendent Fuller to his present place.

As to the report that present shop forces in Omaha were insufficient to meet the requirements and that work was piling up at a rapid rate, and that higher officials were urging the shop foremen to turn out the work, Mr. McKee said:

"This is always the quiet season. We have some engines awaiting repairs and others awaiting demand for service after having been repaired. All our engines will be in service by August."

"Are the forces now at work sufficient to meet the demands?" "We always keep an adequate number of men at work—yes."

Mr. McKee declined to say what proportion of the normal number of men was at work in the shops. Asked if the regular number was to be restored immediately to meet the large demands of repairs, he said no.

Haverly Swears to Report. County Clerk Makes Certified Statement of Finances of the Commission.

This statement has been issued by County Clerk Haverly in reply to certain publications regarding the amount of money spent by the county commissioners for livery and auto hire.

As a matter of fairness to those interested, I desire to refer to the published statement appearing in the evening issue of the Omaha Daily News of March 26, 1908, under the caption, "County Commissioners' Auto and Livery Hires Which the County Clerk Said I Look Omission to Verify that Statement from the records made in my office and found that a clerical error was made in this office in the distribution sheet, from Captain Moore was commissioned as second lieutenant of the Connecticut infantry in 1886 and was honorably mustered out in March of the following year. He was assigned to the Fifteenth infantry as a second lieutenant the same year, and very soon afterwards was transferred to the artillery. He was promoted to the rank of first lieutenant May, 1901. He was an honor graduate from the artillery school in 1904 and promoted captain in 1905. He was then in command of the Fourth battery at Fort Eban, Allen, Va., and upon the formation of the artillery into regiments was assigned to the Sixth and given command of Battery A.

Captain Moore is a very popular officer and his many friends at the post, although they are glad of his success and sorry to have the captain and Mrs. Moore leave St. Louis, which landed the look-out of the construction work at this post, has already begun work. Monday morning a party of the band headed for the hospital quarters was commenced and work was started on the big addition to the post hospital the following day. Excavating for the band barracks of the artillery post have also started. The work already underway is giving employment to about fifty men and this number will be increased from day to day until at least 200 men in all will be employed on the different works.

Jacob Althouse, also of St. Louis, who was the low bidder in the bachelor officers' quarters which are to be built in the cavalry post near the Seventh cavalry monument, will begin work in a few days on this immense building. It will be by far the largest building in the post, with the exception of the riding hall.

When James Plucker, the ex-Seventh cavalryman, was arrested in town last week for soliciting for whiskey houses in Kansas City he was tried in police court and sentenced to thirty days and a fine of $50. When his father got wind of his case came up from Texas, bringing with him R. A. Dunn, Jr., the well known lawyer, and it was only a short time after he took hold of the case that he showed the city officials how unlawful had been Plucker's arrest and sentence and the mayor was very glad to sign a release. There were no fines or costs and in fact those connected with the affair were glad to get rid of it.

MOTIVE POWER HEAD, THE PLACE

Report that Reduced Shop Forces Cannot Do the Work is Treated Very Cautiously by the Superintendent.

Has the revival of business become so general that the Union Pacific will have to restore its normal shop forces in order to turn out the repaired engines needed in the service, and is W. R. McKee, superintendent of the motive power and machinery of that road to be made general superintendent of motive power in the Harriman system?

These two reports current in Omaha were put up to Mr. McKee upon his return from Chicago, where he had been on official business. His answer to the latter inquiry after deliberating as if shaping his reply with the utmost caution, was:

"I have received no such instructions. There is nothing to the report, then," he was asked.

"That would be my answer—I have received no such instructions." Mr. Mohler, vice president and general manager, said there was nothing to the report. He admitted there was talk before the financial depression last fall of placing Mr. McKee in a position where he could devote his time exclusively to the construction of the motor cars, but the depression put an end to this talk.

EASTER EGGS PENNY EACH

Price is Lower Than it Was Last Year.

FURTHER DECLINE IS PREDICTED

Fish Also is Cheaper, as Mild Winter Has Brought Forth Much Larger Supply of the Young.

Easter eggs will cost 1 cent each this year instead of two for 5 cents, the price last year. But they should be secured early, as most anything is apt to happen to the price before April 15. The prediction of dealers, however, is for lower prices.

Fish is cheaper and is to be lower, according to dealers, who say that one of the beneficial results of the mild winter will be the large number of fish hatched this spring. Even in the rivers and lakes where whitefish come from up north, the ice did not freeze to a depth that had any harmful effect on the fish, and there will be very few cases where they are frozen.

MIND RAMBLES ONTO MONEY

Prisoner Offers Novel Excuse for Having $250 Belonging to Another Man.

Thomas Johnson, colored, made a plea in district court Saturday morning which opened a new field for the legal lights to investigate.

Johnson was arrested on a charge of connecting up with some $250 which belonged to a saloon keeper. He pleaded as a legal excuse for having the money, the possession of a "rambling mind."

"I found sentiment greatly improved in New York over what it was a month ago. Now there is a complete change. The opening of the Kpikerbocker Trust company seems to have had a great influence on sentiment, and sentiment is a great factor in business."

"I believe we have reached the bottom and have turned the corner. Railroad earnings are as poor as they can be and the next change will be for the better. I believe that from this time business will show an improvement. I don't mean there will be any sudden change or that it will be in two or in three weeks, or three months, for that matter, but if we have good crops everything will be better and there is no telling what will happen next year."
