OMAHA, March 25, 1905.

Cables came lower and indifferent and grain values slump on general seiling after a steady opening. Bears were in control and had the rains in the south been general, coupled with the decided weakness shown by all cash grains, the decline would have been much broader.

Wheat opened fairly steady, with traders waiting for something to decide on either way. After minor shorts and some local longs came in the market eased off, with no demand on the decline, easier outside markets and the weakness in corn being the feature for the decline. May wheat opened at 22%c and closed at 22%c.

Corn was weak and unsteady and soid off easily, with no sustaining power in evidence. The heavy country movement and the fact that the corn is of a much better grade than expected caused the easier feeling among those holding the long corn. May corn opened at 28%c and closed at 59%c.

Outs were stationary with no outlond.

Oats were stationary, with no option trading, and the cash market 1/2 lower. May option opened at 50% and closed at Primary wheat receipts were 412,000 bush-

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market Shows the Strain of Attempt to Keep Up Prices. NEW YORK GENERAL MARKET

> United States Steel Also Drops on Rumors of Selling by Inside

Interests-Bonds Are Firm.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The stock market today showed quite plainly the strain of the attempt to keep up prices which has been persisted in during the last week in face of some natural tendency towards reaction growing out of the disposition to take profits on the considerable advance already achieved since the rise set in.

The suspicion of the character of the market was aggravated by an extraordinary speculative demonstration in the curb market, where a new mining stock was introduced after a preliminary flourish of the advertising trumpet which has been going on for several days past. Accusations of manipulative operations on the stock exchange in the last few days with the object of furthering the curb flotation found voice in the current discussion in the market and contributed appreciably to the disposition of the professional element to attack the market. The metal industries, especially those connected with the copper industry, were especially vulnerable, owing to the sympathetic relation they were supposed to bear to the exploitation in the outside market. There was a recurrence of sharp pressure, also on Union Pacific, owing to revived effect of the proposed scheme of financing announced by the company earlier in the week. The nature of the selling of the United States Steel stocks made an appeal to the reactionary sentiment owing to the suspicions that the selling came from informed and influential sources. Moderate resistance was shown to the depression at times, some support centering on Northern Pacific. The passage selling came from informed and influential sources. Moderate resistance was shown to the depression at times, some support centering on Northern Pacific. The passage of the Africh bill by the senate made a good impression, but the action had been expected and led to some realizing sales. Mercantile agencies reported some revival of spring trade on conservative lines, Additional curtailment in New England mills was a counteracting influence. Last prices were not far from the lowest. The statement of banking averages for the week was much more favorable than that of the actual condition of the clearing house institutions on Friday night. The $37.542,900 loan increase reported by the institutions outside the clearing house is connected with the resumption during the week of the Knickerbocker Trust company. An announcement that caused much gratification was that the last clearing house certificates outstanding since the financial crisis which developed on October 25 had been retired.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $1,446,000. United States 4s registered have declined ½ per cent on call during the week.

At the close of the week it will be a very conservative estimate to call the market 2550c ligher than at the close of last week. As a matter of fact there have been sales fully for higher than anything brought last week. The market on most days has been active at the advanced prices.
