Spring Meeting of Southeastern Nebraska Teachers' Association.

ILLITERACY IN UNITED STATES

ctivities of Various Educational Institutions in Middle West-Educational Notes and Personals.

The Southeastern Nebraska Educational association will hold a three days' session in Beatrice beginning April 1. An extensive and varied program has been arranged. in which are featured a contest by the Inter-high School Debating association; two addresses by Alfred Montgomery on 'Educational Advantages of Art Study' and "Dilleiantism in Art, with Chalk Talk on the Power of Simplicity," and a lecture on "Some Present Day Ideals in Education," by Dr. Nathaniel Butler of Chicago university,

"The program," says the Nemaha County Teacher, "contains much of special interest to you. May we not count on you meeting the other 999 teachers there? Progressive superintendents are making a decided effort to attend and have the faculty do likewise. Superintendent Fulk of Hebron sounds the slogan by announcing that the Hebron board grants leave of absence on full pay to all who attend. Superintendent Simpson of Auburn announces that he will be there and do his best to bring all the lege will take place in Mount Vernon on and come with us.

"An illiterate is a person 10 years of age or older who cannot write in any language." This is the test applied in the United States census compliations, says the American Journal of Education. It may be assumed that one who cannot write can- its long list of intercollegiate victories. not read, and this is true with few exceptions. In 1870 there were in each 1,000 of stes; in 1880 there were 170; in 1890 it had pears that in our country about one person in every nine of 10 years and over is illiterate. In England, Scotland and Holland there is but one in forty, in Switzerland Review on "Some Psychological Suggesone in 165, in Denmark one in 500, in Sweden and Norway one in 1.259 and in Germany illiteracy is almost unknown. The ratio in 1908 among all the recruits in the army was but one in 2,500, and illiteracy is probably even less among the German people generally than among the recruits.

These facts are not such as to make Americans proud. Nor can we excuse ourselves on the ground that we receive great numbers of immigrants from the less intelligent peoples of Europe, for in many states the illiterates of native parents outnumber those whose parents were born in foreign lands; nor is it in the south only which this is true. In the state of New York in 1900 18,000 illiterates were of foreign parentage and 29,000 of native. Moreover in the large citles, where our foreign-born population is largely congregated, the percentage of illiteracy is lower than in smaller cities of 25,000 or less, and in the large cities it is no greater than in the average four-year course, according to the present country district.

Boost for Bellevue College

Anderson Crain, B. D., manager of Bellevue college, University of Omaha, gives that institution a lively boost in the form of a challenge addressed "to the graduate of Nebraska and other high schools," in which he says:

There is nothing so stirs the blood of youth as a challenge: I want to challenge you to attempt higher education! The imes are calling for young men and women of higher intellectual attainment!

Prolong Life

In hundreds of instances Dr. Miles' Heart Cure has prolonged life many years, after all hope had been abandoned. It is a heart tonic. By its strengthening influence upon the heart nerves and muscles, the heart : tion is increased.

"My heart was weak and at times I thought I would die. I lost conscious-ness one morning, and did not recover for hours. My wife gave me whiskey and applied mustard. A friend advised Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I took two or three bottles and it weeps the old heart going right along. Have never had one of those spells since. I should have been dead years ago had I not found relief in this valuable remedy." W. H. SOULE.

The Commercial club at its meeting Fri-day evening of last week put a ticket in the field for the coming spring election. Those recommended were Oscar Kayser, J. C. McChesney and A. N. Purcell. The yillage council selected an election the party employed by the county commissioners to drag Cut-Off lake to find the body of Carl Nelson, the milkman, who is supposed to have been drowned in the lake ONE-WAY RATES while crossing it on the ice January 27. 1908, said at the Schlitz hotel: "We have been engaged on the work about two weeks now and have hunted every possible place for the body. We have to submit our final report today. Thus far not the slightest trace of Nelson has been found. We have dragged the lake thoroughly and inspected the old cave, wells, straw and hav stacks in that vicinity, without result. Nelson had about $60 on his person when he disappeared, and unless his body still remains tangled up in the weeds at the bottom of the lake he has probably just dropped out of sight. We can get nothing tangible out of his Danish companions. Many of them refuse to believe that he was drowned, but that he simply went away. I talked to Mrs. Nelson yesterday for the first time. She still believes that her husband will return. He had no insurance, and according to her statement the family relations were pleasant. She does not think he was drowned, but that he has just gone away under a fit of temporary insanity and will come back some time.
