LINCOLN, March 30.-(Special.)-Goveror Sheldon returned today from Washingon more than pleased with his efforts to obtain modifications in the government cattle quarantine covering Nebraska. There is a will soon issue a proclamation to take the strong bearing toward criminal careless place of the one issued several months ago, but there will be little difference beween the two decuments. The dividing line between the western division, which is to remain under quarantine, and the cast- gressors, ern digision is the same as that outlined by State Veterinarian McKim and Governor Sheldon after they had obtained reports from countles in regard to the existence of scables in cattle.

In the way of spectacles nothing im pressed the governor more than the drill and rough riding of the United States cavalry at Fort'Meyer, where more wonderful feats of horsemanship are performed than are ever seen in any circus or wild west

Patrons Ask for a Depot. Joseph Marshall, a stock raiser and stock feeder, living near the station of Darr. today filed a complaint with the railway ission asking that the Union Pacific road be compelled to build a depot, stock yards and chutes and keep an agent or telegraph operator at that place. Darr is an unincorporated village eight miles west of Lexington and seven miles east of Cozad. Mr. Marshall says stockmen are compelled to drive their stock either to Lexington or Cazod to lead for shipment to the market. He says the company has refused to provide facilities that are greatly needed. In the last twelve menths there have been fed and fattened in that vicinity more than 100 cars of cattle, sheep and hogs and more than fifty cars of stock are now being fed.

Much Damage by Prairie Fire. MULLEN, Neb., March 30,-(Special.)-The Burlington railroad is causing great damage by fire in this metion of the mandhills country and nearly one-half the land along the right-of-way has been burned over. Despite the hard fighting of the citizens in that locallty the flames swept merrily on, leaving destruction, misery and homeless homesteaders in its wake. Sam Hayden, Company A, Thirty-fifth owa, has not yet reached his destination, Dorchester, Neb. It will be remembered that Sam is an old soldier who was tried Saturday on a charge of drunkenness and who explained to everybody present in the court room that his name among men was Sam Hayden and that he was an honorable member of Company A, Thirty-fifth Iowa. He also explained to the court at that time that he had been merely passing through the city and had alighted from the train to get something to eat when he

Sam was discharged Saturday and, it appears, celebrated the regaining of his freedom by taking several drinks and then taking several more. Zimman, Funkhouser and Bridges all spoke against the ordinance and took the part of the lunch wagon people and fruit venders. Zimman declared that 500 men would be affected by sustaining the ordinances and that it would be better to regulate them than prohibit them altogether. Funkhouser said he thought it was unfair to invite these people to come here and then "shut the door of opportunity in their faces," and Bridges thought the "little fellows" ought to have a right to live, for the world owes every man a living. McGovern of the council, F. E. Sanborn of the Commercial club and Charles C. Belden spoke against the wagons, declaring that the taxpayers should be protected and that it was an injustice to the business men to allow the push carts to remain on the streets. An ordinance making more stringent rules for the market master and requiring a daily report was recommended for passage, as was also the condemnation of a long fist of buildings prepared by the city building inspector.

GILLETTE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

Composure to Last.

HE FINALLY ADMITS HIS GUILT

Last Statement to Spiritual Advisers Indicates that No Legal Error Was Made in the Case.

ALBANY, N. Y., March M.-Chester E. Gillette today paid the full penalty of the brutal murder of Grace Brown. He went to his death in the electric chair at Auburn presion without a sign of weakness and with the same lack of emotion which has characterized him from the day he was arrested charged with the crime.

Gillette appeared to have been fully rec enciled to his fate, and in a statement incidents out of the ordinary occurred. E. nedlately after the execution, it is indicated that he had made a confession of been asked by the county attorney if he his guilt. Any fear which the prison officials may have entertained that Gillette's remarkable composure would desert him at the last noment was quickly dispelled when he stepped from his cell to the corridor leading to the death chamber. His step was firm and strong and he walked rapidly toward the instrument of death. Not even by the quiver of an eye lash did he betray the least sign of emotion and at no stage did he require assistance from the keepers and his spiritual advisears who accompanied him in his last walk. He seated himself in the chair, the straps and electrodes were placed and within two minutes Gillette has been officially pronounced statement today, in part as follows:

Mrs. Gillette, mother of Chester, made a statement today, in part as follows:

Though it is a very hard thing for me to feel Chester was responsible for Grace Brown's death, yet it was the wish expressed to him continually by me that if he was guilty he should say so before the world and that in his triumphant death I feel that God has answered my dearest wish and prayer.

And I am also so thankful to know that he did not strike Grace Brown, as described by the prosecution. A full account will never be given out, for he did not strike Grace Brown.

I feel that he should have had another trial, where he could have had an opportunity before an unprejudiced court and jury and where fair statements could have been made and considered, but my boy was ready to go and I have nothing to say against Governor Hughes' decision. I think he decided what he thinks is just, but he has shown no mercy.

God has not failed us, and He never will those who trust him. I trust that there will be a strong protest against capital punishment in this—that a young life recently given to God has been cut off by the law when it might have been spared to be useful to the world in one of the darkest places of that world—a penitentiary.
