The primary receipts were 632,000 bushels, compared with 1,067,000 bushels last year. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 431 cars, against 511 cars last week and 745 a year ago.

The corn market was strong all day, with the exception of a slight drop at the opening caused by the weakness of wheat. Shorts and leading longs were active bidders and offerings were light. Unsettled weather, a decrease in the visible supply, an improved demand for cash corn and reports of small country acceptances were the builleh factors. The market closed strong. May opened a shade higher to keep 14c lower at 65%c to 65%c, advanced to 65%c, and closed at 66%c. Local receipts were 35 cars, with twenty-seven cars of contract grade.

Trade in oats was more active than of late, and the market was moderately firm in sympathy with corn. May opened unchanged at 55%c. The close was at 55%c. Local receipts were 18c cars.

Provisions advanced sharply because of the strength of corn and liberal shipments of lard. May pork closed 57%c00c higher at 131.7541. Lard was up 17%c at $5.00. Ribs were 27%c higher at $7.37%.

FOREIGN MARKETS ALSO LOWER

Sharp Slump in Eric, Due to Low Prices for Company's Short Time Notes, Leads the Decline.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The course of prices of stocks was downward today, but with a decline from time to time. Foreign as well as the home market was rather pressed, the New York reaction exercising some general initionce abroad, especially in the coppers. Continued weakness in the London market was reflected in the copper mining and industrial stocks.

The sentimental influence of this weakness is enhanced by the suspicion attaching to last week's rise in those stocks as being of manipulative origin and designed to facilitate the exploitation of the curb market for a newly floated mining stock. The breakdown in the much advertised program from the movement of the stock today aggravated the feeling of suspicion of it. There was no notable thing in the complexion of affairs as shown in the day's news, but speculative sentiment took on the inevitable darker hus which comes with prices declining. A pronounced effect was produced by the slump in the Erie stocks, which was traceable to the uncasiness caused by the sharp concession in the price at which the company's notes maturing in April were offered in the outside market. Importance was attached to the movement owing to the knowledge that a meeting of the directors of the company was in contemplation for a later hour in the day. The recent rise in the companies securities has given confidence that this meeting would develop a plan for meeting the notes. This confidence was shaken by the market action of the stocks and no authoritative information could be secured from the company's bankers before the regular meeting. The tenor of the siling of United States Steel also kept alive fears that liquidation for inside account was in progress in those shares. Speculative sentiment was tinged by the seneral conjecture that recently fostered rise in prices of stocks might have been designed to furnish a favorable basis for some further necessary liquidation. Published reports of the views of railroad officials on the traffic situation did not bear out their claims in circul drawals from the banks that would insure sufficient supplies to come to the relief of the money market in the fall in the way that has now become customary. This suggestion was coupled with an intimation that attention of administration of ficials had been attracted by the growth of margin speculation in New York and that operations to sahorten the supply of government funds might be conducted with a view to cut off this form of activity. The effect was somewhat disquisting to the speculative element. The day's clearing house statement showed a subtreasury debit balance of nearly $4,000,0000 due to special operations of the United States comptroller's office in connection with the adjustment of banking affairs holding over from the period of the banking crisis, the exact nature of which was not officially explained.

fact that this market was high last week as compared with other market points made the decline all the more sharp today. Some of the best cows and heifers did not show so much drop, but the medium grades and from that down were both slow and lower, the amount of the decline being figured at 15c and in some cases as much as 25c. The reason that best fed cows and heifers did not show so much decline was to be found in the fact that the supply was not very large.

The sharp break in beef steers naturally took the nerve out of feeder buyers and they were pretty weak-kneed from start to finish. There was some demand for the best feeders, but stockers were very slow and prices were generally 100/15c lower.
