HUGHES FOR EXTRA SESSION

Governor of New York Comes Back at Legislature.

STILL INSISTS UPON PROGRAM

Anti-Race Gambling Bill, Direct Primary Nominations, Wider Scope of Public Service Commission Included.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 9.—Governor Hughes has decided to call a special session for the election of a successor to the late Senator Franchot, who represented the Forty-seventh district, comprising the counties of Niagara and Orleans.

The legislature has set April 23 as the date for final adjournment. It was suggested to the governor that certain opponents of the race track legislation had stated that in the event of an extra session being called a treaty would be taken until the end of the year.

The recommendations included: The passage of appropriate legislation to prevent the sale of liquor after the Perry-Ray act, which practically legalizes gambling on race tracks.

Legislation to reform banking methods. Direct primary nominating conventions. Legislation which will place telephone and telegraph companies under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

The governor also urges investigation by commission of first, Wall street speculation; second, the question of immigration; third, the question of the unemployed in this state, and the temporary maintenance of inferior courts to certain criminal procedure.

Relative to the Urges-Agnew bills the governor in his message says: I again urge you to enact appropriate legislation to abolish the existing discriminations in favor of race track gambling.

The failure of the upper branch of your honorable body to pass the measures designed to effect their abolition, rendering the passage in the lower branch cannot be regarded as disposing of the matter.

The constitution, with its temporary mandate still stands. The evil of race track gambling flourishes not in spite of the law, but because of the legislation intended to carry out the constitution.

SAINTS DISCUSS DIVORCE

Sentiment Unanimous that Something Should Be Done to Curb Evil.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—A record-breaking crowd was in attendance at the business session of the conference of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints today, the large attendance being due to an anticipated warm debate on a matter which had been made the special order for this day at the last conference, namely, the question of divorce and remarriage.

The resolutions which were made the special order are: Resolved, that in our opinion the marriage of persons who were formerly divorced for any other cause than fornication or adultery is wrong and should not be approved or condoned by the church.

Resolved further, That our ministers be required to honor this declaration and to refuse to perform the marriage ceremony in all instances among persons within or without the church where said wrong is involved.

Resolved further, That where it is in evidence that said crimes have led to the obtaining of a divorce, we do not deem it to be absolutely necessary that they shall have been urged in the civil court proceedings.

The special order was warmly taken up before a substitute was moved, which, in a general way was the same as the resolutions pending, except that inhibition for ministers to perform marriage in the case of divorced parties was eliminated.

While the Latter Day Saints, owing to the confusion in the minds of the people concerning this organization and the Mormons of Utah, are thought to be somewhat lax on the marriage question, any one who has attended the debate of the floor of their conference would be impressed with the fact that they are peculiar in their views on marriage, but the peculiarity consists of the rigidity with which they insist that there is only one ground for divorce and that the scriptural ground is adultery, namely, a violation of the marriage vows.

No debate on the floor today seemed to question that this was the unequivocal attitude of the church, but the heat of the debate is developing along the line of whether or not it is politic or proper for a minister to officiate at the ceremony of divorcing a party, or to officiate at the marriage ceremony of a divorced party.

The debaters seem to recognize and greatly deplore the wide extent of the divorce evil, as it is termed, or as one speaker termed it, "the curse of the nation," and it is evident that these men are earnest in their search for a remedy for the divorce evil.

It is anticipated that the debate will consume the sessions of conference for two or three days.

WYOMING STOCKMEN CONVENE

Land Leasing Bill Endorsed and Present Forest Policy with Some Restrictions.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 9.—(Special.)—The twenty-third convention of the Wyoming Stock Growers' association was held here Tuesday and the old officers re-elected, as follows:

President—W. C. Irvine, Ross, Wyo. President Elect—Bob De T. C. Secretary—Miss Alice Smith, Cheyenne. Treasurer—J. D. Frohman, Cheyenne.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Cason law, and the establishing of forest reserves was endorsed, but the convention believed that these reserves should be confined to the forest areas; also that the practice of making contracts which permitted the denuding of large areas of trees should be discontinued.

The most important action taken was the adoption of a resolution instructing President Irvine to appoint a committee of five members to arrange for a convention of the stockmen and others of Wyoming interested in the disposition of the unoccupied lands, to be held in Cheyenne on September 15 next, at which there will be general discussion of the questions of leasing, etc., by citizens, sheep men, horsemen and cattlemen generally, and at which an effort is to be made to evolve a measure, or system, of controlling and leasing the ranges that will be satisfactory to all.

The report of inspectors showed that 1907 was the best year in the history of the cattle business in Wyoming, cattle netting $6.65 per head, or 10 cents more than the previous year. The inspectors inspected 236,641 stray cattle at the several markets and returned several thousand to members.

POLICE MAKE BIG ARREST

Capture Man Whom They Believe Killed Josephine Rummelhart.

OTHER LIKE DEEDS LAID TO HIM

Chief Donahue Certain He Attacked Miss Gran and Regards His Capture as of Most Importance.

Attempted assault and murder of Mrs. Annie Grabowski, south end of Twenty-sixth street, Tuesday three weeks ago. Two other assaults on women in the last two months.

Attempted assault on little daughter of Assistant Chief of the Fire Department Dineen in 1906.

Assault and murder of Miss Josephine Rummelhart, Twenty-sixth and Dodge streets, October 7, 1906.

Ben Marshall, a porter in a saloon at Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets, was captured by Detectives Davis, Pattullo, Maloney and Van Dusen shortly before noon Thursday while trying to make his escape.

Chief of Detectives Savage has gathered a number of men, with scarcely the shadow of a doubt, as the man who attempted to assault Miss Mollie Gran, a telephone girl, Monday night.

He is the man arrested and tried for assault of the little daughter of Assistant Chief Dineen in 1906. Because the girl was a child no convicting charge could be secured and Marshall was only sentenced to ninety days in jail.

Chief of Police Donahue believes firmly that Marshall is the man who on the night of October 7, 1906, crept up behind Miss Josephine Rummelhart at Twenty-sixth and Dodge streets, struck her a stunning blow on the head, dragged her away and assaulted her, and then cut her throat.

Since the bold assault on Miss Gran last Monday night Chief Donahue and his men have exerted every effort to locate the man who has been perpetrating crimes of this nature, with reckless persistence.

The moment the negro was just at hand, every officer was on watch. Thursday morning Policeman Holden saw Marshall in Reimers' saloon. He called for Miss Gran and she came down and saw the negro, who was washing the saloon windows. She said he was the man.

When the negro saw the girl he dropped his brush, rushed into the saloon, secured his hat and coat and disappeared.

Immediately Chief of Detectives Savage sent out his entire available force of plain clothes men on the trail. The four detectives named surrounded the negro on South Nineteenth street. He was making toward his room at 303 South Eighteenth street.

Circumstantial evidence brands Marshall unmistakably as the negro who attempted the assault on Miss Gran. The rope which he placed around the girl's neck when he seized her and with which he attempted to strangle her as he dragged her away was secured by the detectives. It is a ragged but stout rope, about six feet long and with a snap at one end. This rope was taken to Reimers' saloon and shown to Reimer.

"If that isn't my rope I've got one just like it," he said. He went to a drawer where he kept the rope and it was missing.

Answers the Description. Marshall is about five feet four inches tall. This is the description given by Miss Gran of her assailant. It is also the description given by Mrs. Grabowski.

It is the description given by the only two persons who saw the negro in the vicinity of the Rummelhart murder just before that crime occurred.

Chief Donahue, Chief of Detectives Savage and all the department are relieved by the capture of the fiend.

"I consider it one of the best and most important captures ever made in Omaha," said Chief Donahue. "I have lain awake at night many a time in the last month tormented by the thought that we might wake up in the morning and find that this man had committed some horrible crime like the Rummelhart murder. I myself worked until after 2 o'clock Monday night in an effort to trace the negro who attacked Miss Gran."

NOT SETTLED IN WISCONSIN

La Follette Supporters Claim Solid Delegation for Him in the Badger State.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 9.—Special dispatches to the Milwaukee afternoon papers indicate the election of Walter Alexander of Wausau as a Taft delegate to the republican national convention. It is said that the race for the second delegate in the Taft camp is close and that an official count will be necessary.

In the Eighth district George W. Payne, a Taft supporter, is running a nose race with Harrison of the La Follette slate.

At La Follette headquarters in Madison a solid delegation is claimed for the Wisconsin senator.

RECORDS IN WISCONSIN. Returns received from the Eighth district at the La Follette headquarters in this city indicate that George M. Payne, who is for Taft, is defeated and that a complete La Follette delegation to the republican national convention is elected from that district. Their figures also indicate that Theodore W. Bryson of the Taft district, also for Taft, will be defeated.

READY FOR THE PAPER TRUST

Fight Against Combination Will Be Taken Up in Courts by Department of Justice.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The house resolution introduced by Speaker Cannon requesting information as to what steps have been taken to prosecute the paper trust reached Attorney General Bonaparte today and were by him referred to Mr. Bryan, assistant to the attorney general, who has been charged with the preparation of the reply to the house. It is understood that this reply will show that the Department of Justice already has taken the initial steps to bring the paper trust officials to trial on criminal charges and that probably for that reason it will not be possible to supply congress with much detailed information, which might jeopardize the success of the prosecution.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The Department of Agriculture has issued an interesting bulletin on the result of the soil survey of Lancaster county, Nebraska. This survey was started through the persistent efforts of Senator Burkett, commenced two years ago, and is now complete and in published form.

The pamphlet contains twenty-four pages and a map of Lancaster county.

Senator Burkett was today advised by the Postoffice department that two additional clerks have been allowed on the Lincoln and Kansas City railway postoffice trains Nos. 41 and 42.

Water is now ready on a portion of the south side canal north of the river, as well as on the inlet canal of the Belle Fourche irrigation project in South Dakota for 12,000 acres of land. It is believed that about 4,000 acres will be put in crops under this portion of the Belle Fourche system this year. Water will furnish on this land through the inlet ditch, Johnson, and through the temporary canal that was built on Dry creek to conduct it to the south canal and there will be an ample supply for all land that will be put in crop.

The Civil Service commission, it is understood, say they have an eligible list of more than the number of teachers needed to teach the Philippine islands.

R. E. Moore and wife of Lincoln are in Washington and today were guests of Senator Burkett at luncheon in the senate restaurant.

R. E. Morgan of Lincoln, secretary to Senator Burkett, and bride arrived in Washington last night and were entertained at Martha Washington Inn on Capitol Hill. Owing to the pressure of business Mr. Morgan's wedding trip was cut short and he was at his desk this morning in the senator's office in the capitol.

Senator Burkett tendered Mr. and Mrs. Morgan a reception tomorrow night. Nellie Yates of David City, Neb., has been appointed stenographer in the national museum.

W. W. Brown of Waterloo, Ia., has been appointed clerk at Panama.

Rural route No. 2 has been ordered established June 1 at Columbia, Brown county, South Dakota, serving 200 people and 74 families.
