Champions Not Only Outhit the lowe Boosters, but Play Rings Around Them in the Fielding Line.

DES MOINES, April 16.-Another slaughter of the innocents occurred here today. The champions repeated the dose of yesterday, outfielding and far outbatting the former champions. Beiden made a beautiful running one-handed catch in the right field and Welch caught one off his shoetops. The score:

LINCOLN EVENS UP WITH SIOUX Wild Throw by Catcher Henry Costs

LINCOLN, Neb., April 16.—All the base ball luck was with Lincoln today and Sloux City was beaten by a score of 2 to 1. Manager Fox put Johnson, a Winnehago Indian, in the box, and he did well. Pitcher Starr was invincible, except in one inning, the second, when Lincoln won the game. Fenion got his base on balls and Thomas sacrificed him to second, dropping the ball just in front of the plate Henry, who fielded it, threw over the first baseman's head, Fenion scoring and Thomas going to third, whence he scored on Reddick's long fly to Spencer. Sloux City's single run came in the third. Henry was given his base, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored when King muffed Campbell's fly, Boore:

DES MOINES PICKS PA TO WIN

Register and Leader Says Omaha Hua a Toe-Hold on the Pennant.

a Toe-Hold on the Pennant.

Of course it is to be expected that Omahans think Omaha will win the pennant this year in the Western league, but what do other cities on the circuit think, that is the proposition?

Des Moises, former champion, thinks ornaha will win at least the Register-Leader lakes that view of it. And it is equally interesting to note in the same newspaper that Charley Dexter, one of the grittlest men in the business, admits at the jump-off that with the present team Des Moines cannot hope for much, though he premises a sturdy fight, hoping to get the team strengthened later.

Hern is what the Des Moines Register-Leader said of the Rourkes on the day they played their first gams there:

"Just now it seems that Omaha has a toe hold on the top place. If Rourke does in not assume the position in this series, and hold it for weeks at least, another commentary will have been offered of the vagaries of the fate that rules the destinies of base bath. If the Des Moines team holds a high place the same uncertain element will tave intervened and John F. Higgins and Charles Dexter will deserve the plaudits of this publitude.

"But there are other uncertain factors in and Charles Derter will deserve the plaudits of this nutritude.

"But there are other uncertain factors in the lengue. Gutside of Omeha Bittle can be written of the prospects of any of the clubs. Danver has made a good showing to date. If win has new men on his list, but he has a lieger sprinkling of dependable veterans than Dexter boasts. Lincoln. Shoux City and Pueblo are practically an known quantities, but all three of them were dipping in the grab-bag for players long before the Des Molpes club changed hands, and before John F. Hisgins entered into the gigantic work of making order out of chaos left by the Cartillons.

"We can't be expected to held a place in the top division, and Manager Dexter this afternoon. That ien't saying that we won't try to win, nor that we are too disstanting the state of the plauding that we want too disstanting the factors in the top division, and Manager Dexter this afternoon. CARKEEK AND BEELL ARE HERE

Man Who Once Held Three Championships to Meet Little Wisconsin.

Man Who Once Heid Three Championships to Meet Little Wisconsin.

Jack Carkeek and Fred Beell, who wrestle at catch-as-catch-can in the Auditorium Saturday night reached Omaha Thursday morning, Carkeek coming from Chicago, Beell from Minneapolls.

Few men in the history of wrestling have had the career of Carkeek. At one time he heid three world's championships, as the records of wrestling show-catch-as-catch-can, Graeco-Roman and Cornish.

"And Fran beat them all at Cornish yet," says the old veteran.

Carkeek had three matches arranged with George Hackenschmidt, but they never met, as records which Carkeek has in his possession show Hackenschmidt backed out of everyone. It was because of his early discovery of the yellow streak in the Russian Lion that Carkeek predicted from the first that Gotch would make the big European holler "enough."

"Hackenschmidt was never world's catch-as-catch-can wrestler," says Carkeek, "and London never so recognized him. He was once Grazco-Roman champion, but catch-as-catch-can hever. He certainly was the most cleverly advertised man when brought over to meet Gotch. It was through this wonderful advertising that Americans got their idea of him, and then when Gotch showed him up in his true light Americans were amazed. I wasn't; nobody who knew the two men was.

"Contrary to the claims of Hack that he was never thrown, I called to his attention in the hotel at Chicago the fact that Cherpillod, whom I beat in the finals of a tournament at Oxford theater, London, in 194, and at least three other Europeans had defeated him and he had to admit it."

Besides winning in this tournament at Oxford, Carkeek came out victor in a world's tournament of three days in Edinburgh, and at least three other Europeans had defeated him and he had to admit it."

Besides winning in this tournament at Oxford heater, Legot his title as world's champion cat by defeating John Strong in London, January 27, 1904.

Carkeek takes great pride in a sonnet written by Douglas B. Caswell, professor of languages in Oxford, and published in the London Sporting Life, paying tribute to his prowess. The professor sent a note to Carkeek calling his attention to the poem and the paper gave him the original pen-written copy.

Though nearly 50, Carkeek is still a great man. His condition is excellent. He will weigh on the mat slightly to exceed 180 pounds, which is some twelve or thirteen pounds more than Beell. He is several inches taller than Beell, who is only five feet four. Carkeek is a well educated man and an athlete of the old school. He has never resorted to log and toe holds, staying mostly above the belf, but he says he will alter his styles with Beell.

Beell is in good form and promises his admirers a fast go. Manuger Gillan of the Auditorium is preparing for a big crowd, as Carkeek though a three-fold charging. Beell is in good form and promises his admirers a fast go. Manager Gillan of the Auditorium is preparing for a big crowd, as Carkeek, though a three-fold champion of the world, has never wrestled in Omaha, and his fame has aroused great interest.

"I couldn't think of any reason why I should not want to meet Chris Plerson," said Beell when advised on his arrival in the city that the Big Swede had been making some noisy talk to the effect that he couldn't get a match with Beell, Burns or any of the other wrestlers who have been coming to Omaha in the last two years.
"I will see to that at once," added Beell. "I have been in town several hours now and that's the first I've heard of this matter. I am at the Millard hotel and if Mr. Plerson doesn't come here to see me I'll try to look him up. I am always anxious to make a piece of easy monoy."

Emil Klank himself expressed a willingness to meet Pierson if the big fellow was aching for a match and didn't care to go against Beell. Since the notice has gone abroad that Pierson felt himself slighted the applications for matches with him have been pouring in.

Beell is in good for a big crowd, as Carkeek, though a three-fold champion of the world, has never westled in Omaha, and his fame has aroused great interest.

EVENTS ON THE BUNNING TRACKS Metropolitan Racing Season Opens at

NEW YORK, April 16.—The metropolitan racing season of 1908 opened today at Aqueduct Park track and the day's program was carried out without interference and with only slight changes in the usual system of hetting. Outwardly there were few signs that a stubborn legislative fight had been waged at Albany for two months to make track gambling impossible in this state, but to one familiar with the old conditions and methods on New York race tracks there were manifestly many concessions to the public sentiment against the betting system. Of the fields, the Carter handicap, with its rich prize of $10,000, was the feature. The race went to Jack Atkin, Barney Schreiber's good horse, Red River being second and Chapultepec, the fasorite, third. The time was 127% for the seven furlongs, a very credible performance considering the heavy track. Coach Pell to Retire.

DES MOINES, April 16—(Special.)—At the end of the present track season "Doc" Pell, one of the most prominent figures in Iowa athletics for the last ten years, will sever his connections with Drake university, where he has for two years been the head coach of athletics. Pell is an old Drake man himself, and was in his time one of the most feared men in the state, especially on the gridiron. After his graduation from Drake he was in charge of athletics at the state normal school at Cedar Falls for a number of years, and while there produced some of the best athletes in the country, chief among them being "Red" Hamilton, who will be remembered as the conference champion in the ghort sprints three years ago. Pell is to retire from the game entirely and will in the future give his attention to business in the west. Just what this business enterprise is to be Pell does not at present give out, but says that the proposition is too good to let go, and that he cannot afford to stay in the athletic circle any longer. A number of applications have already been made for the position that will be left vacant, but there is no faction to be taken on the matter for some time, although one of the board in charge has given it out that his successor will in all probability be an alumnus of Drake.
