

Springtime is Backache Time

To thousands spring is the miserable time of the year, a time of general weakness, with spells of backache, lameness, rheumatic pain, dizziness, headache and fits of "blues." You feel dull and tired all the time, and find the day's duties a heavy load. The kidneys are weakened by the long strain of winter and for a spring tonic nothing is equal to a good kidney medicine. Body and blood are laden with an extra burden of uric acid poison. The weak kidneys fail to carry it off. Brain, nerves, muscles and vital organs all feel the effect. The congestion sets up a heavy aching in the back. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly relieve this condition, cure sick kidneys, drive out uric acid, regulate the urine and strengthen the back.

Backache Tells of Sick Kidneys

Backache might well be called kidney-ache, for it is in reality an aching or throbbing of the kidneys when congested or inflamed. It is a warning that the kidneys need help, for sick kidneys cannot get well of themselves. That is why backache hangs on so persistently and gets worse from day to day. You may notice also that the secretions are dark colored and passages scanty, too frequent or painful. Neglect paves the way for gravel, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Do not delay. Doan's Kidney Pills give quick and special help for sick kidneys. They cure backache promptly and permanently, clear up and regulate the kidney secretions, stop dull headache, dizzy spells and rheumatic pains and restore the kidneys to healthy working order.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS CURE SICK KIDNEYS

OMAHA PROOF

Mrs. F. B. Kingsbury, 1823 Dorcas St., Omaha, Neb., says: "Since Mr. Kingsbury first used Doan's Kidney Pills in 1898, he has never been without a supply of them in the house. It may be well understood from this that he places a high opinion on their value. Prior to his first appeal to Doan's Kidney Pills, he suffered from kidney trouble for about two months, the complaint becoming so bad that he had to give up work. Doan's Kidney Pills went directly to the seat of his trouble, causing the pain in his back to cease and disposing of the kidney difficulty. On a few occasions since evidence of the trouble have returned but Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to promptly relieve him. This remedy has given ample proof that it acts as represented."

John C. Hoefler, 2818 Burdette St., Omaha, Neb., says: "A dull, heavy aching across the kidney regions bothered me for a long time, being especially severe when I stooped or lifted. I used medicines recommended for kidney trouble but my back continued to ache as bad as ever. At last I read the good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and believing that they would help me I procured a box. They positively removed my trouble and during the years which have since elapsed, I have had no recurrence of it. I take a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills now and then, and find that they act as a tonic to my system and keep my kidneys in a healthy condition. Words but feebly express my opinion of this valuable remedy."

SAVED FROM AWFUL SUFFERING

G. W. L. Nesbitt, living on Depot St., Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney disease had reduced me to a chronic invalid. I have suffered so severely from this complaint that for two months at a time I was unable to get out of bed, and no one can describe the suffering I endured. I often wished that death might relieve my misery. The secretions were thick, filled with a sediment, and my limbs were badly swollen. The doctor said I had dropsy and held out little hope of my recovery. I could not raise my arm above my head; in fact, there was an almost complete paralysis of the right side. I had no hopes of ever getting better when a relative advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and a box was procured for me. I improved from the first, and continued taking this remedy until all symptoms from which I had been a victim disappeared one by one. In three months I was a well man. I continued to take the remedy until I was back to work in the usual way. That Doan's Kidney Pills is the best kidney remedy in the world I am thoroughly confident."

OMAHA PROOF

Mrs. Augusta Bohlmann, 1913 Oak St., Omaha, Neb., says: "It gives me pleasure to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. What I stated several years ago about them was true and I can add today that no symptom of kidney complaint has ever returned in my case. A cold which I contracted and which settled in my kidneys brought on backache. As years passed the attacks became more severe, and frequent and I was truly in a bad condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They rid me of this trouble in a short time as well as disposing of other symptoms of kidney complaint which had been present. Considering the fact that my age is getting advanced and that I have never had a return of kidney trouble, I am sure that it can be seen how valuable Doan's Kidney Pills are in such cases."

Mrs. Rose Bellstein, 2004 Elm St., Omaha, Neb., says: "Both Mr. Bellstein and I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and think well of them. Several years ago I had occasion to use this remedy. Kidney complaint had annoyed me for some time, causing the most intense backache and pains across my loins. If I lifted anything heavy this trouble was greatly aggravated. Doan's Kidney Pills were at length brought to my attention and after procuring a box, I began their use. They proved of such great benefit to me that I allowed my experience with them to be published in the newspapers. In the time that has since passed I have been free from any sign of kidney complaint and it is only natural that my faith in Doan's Kidney Pills should remain the same. I take pleasure in endorsing them."

MACHINE DISPLACES MEN

Barclay Printers Installed by Western Union Saves Operators.

DEVICE EQUALS THREE OR FOUR

May Tend to Relieve Demand for Telegraphers Which Railroads Said Was Produced by Nine-Hour Law.

The Western Union Telegraph company is installing the Barclay printers on its trunk lines, which may aid the railroads in meeting the exigencies of the nine-hour law by other means than closing up depots because telegraph operators cannot be secured in sufficient numbers. The Barclay machine does the work of three or four operators.

The machine is operated by tape and sends about 100 words a minute, which are taken automatically on the receiving end of the wire by a machine similar to a typewriter, which writes the messages on the regular receiving blanks of the company. The tape is prepared by means of a machine which also works like a typewriter, but which perforates the tape similar to the Wheatstone system now in use in this country and Europe, the characters, however, being different.

The Barclay printers differ from the Wheatstone system in that at the point of destination instead of the message being received on a tape in telegraph characters it is printed by the receiving machine on

HOTEL ST. REGIS, NEW YORK

The Acknowledged Leader MODERATE RATES

New York has many famous hotels, but the St. Regis, at Fifth Avenue and Fifty-fifth Street, easily outranks all others. It has become the acknowledged leader, not only in the "city of great hotels" but in the world.

Those who have experienced the joys of living in this home-like and refined hostelry do not need to be reminded of its superlative attractions. But many people who frequently visit New York have been denying themselves the pleasure of what might easily have been theirs under the mistaken notion that Hotel St. Regis is a place only for the very wealthy or the ultra fashionable, and that "common people" would feel out of place within its portals. The truth is the St. Regis is a place where all good people feel at home. With all its beauty and comfort-giving appointments, there is entire absence of exclusiveness.

You may live at the St. Regis for a day or a year confident that everything possible will be done to make your stay agreeable and as fair a reckoning as at any high-class hotel.

In the matter of both restaurant and room charges there is a moderation. To dine at the St. Regis costs no more than at other first-class hotels, while a large outside room may be had at $4 a day. The suite with private bath at $5 ($6 for two people), or a parlor, bedroom and bath at $12.

the blanks of the company ready for delivery. The machinery works automatically, as one machine transmits as fast as three or four operators. It saves many men at each end of the wire.

When a message is taken into one of the larger offices it will be transcribed by a machine onto tape in characters, then placed in the sending machine, which sends it automatically and it is received automatically as described above. The Barclay system is quite new and has but recently been put in use between large commercial centers in the east. It is now being installed in Kansas City, Omaha and St. Paul, connecting them with each other, as well as with Chicago. The system is considered a great success by the Western Union company, who owns and controls the patents.

COMMITTEE TO BOOST RIVER

Omaha Men Appointed by F. D. Weed to Aid in Promoting Navigation Scheme.

F. D. Weed, vice president of the Missouri River Navigation congress for Nebraska, named a committee of Omahans Thursday to secure memberships in the congress, which is to do active work during the summer preparing to make a showing before congress next winter which will bring an appropriation which will open the Missouri river for navigation to the west.

The members of the committee are: Daniel Baum, Jr., Fred Schamel, F. B. Hochstetler, L. T. Sunderland, John A. Scott, W. H. Cray, Byron R. Hastings, H. T. Clarke, Fred Brodegaard, J. M. Guild, commissioner of the Commercial club; W. Scott King, Frank Koutsky, James G. Howard of Benson, R. H. Olmstead of Florence, W. P. Warner, Ezra Millard and the presidents of all the improvement clubs in Omaha.

Mr. Weed invited a number of business men to meet him at luncheon at the Commercial club Thursday and the means for securing memberships at $1 each and providing funds for the campaign to be waged during the summer and before congress next winter were discussed at length. The committee is the result.

Daniel Baum, Jr., reported on the affairs of the Omaha & Missouri River Navigation company, but it was decided to proceed to get memberships from all parts of the state independent of any boat line company and follow out the program of Congressman Ellis, who heads the Missouri river movement.

The committee will meet at the Commercial club Thursday, April 23, to discuss the work and other meetings will be held with the various improvement clubs.

MOTOR CAR AT SAN DIEGO

Omaha Machine Carries the Gate City Fame to the Great Fleet.

Omaha is well represented at San Diego in the festivities incidental to the arrival of the battleship fleet. A Union Pacific motor car, with its sharp nose and windows like the port holes of a battleship, is dividing attention of visitors with the fleet itself. President Babcock of the Los Angeles & San Diego Beach railway ordered this car especially for this occasion, and as the order was late, the car had to make a record run from Omaha to the coast to be there in time for the festivities.

It was necessary to start the car from Omaha without the customary trials or breaking-in. The monster 30-horse power engine propelling this car was not put together and tested until the afternoon of April 4, and had but three hours of actual service before starting on this long trip. Leaving Omaha at 5 a. m., April 3, the car arrived at Los Angeles at 2:05 p. m., April 13, having made the entire run without mishap or any delay whatever chargeable to the car. This is probably the fastest and most noteworthy trip ever made by a similar vehicle, and demonstrates that the cars being built by the Omaha Union Pacific shops are not surpassed, as far as workmanship is concerned, by the product of any of the great manufacturing industries of the world.

VICTIM OF THE GARBAGE TRUST

Old Man is Arrested for Hauling Feed for His Few Hogs.

Another victim of the monopoly garbage ordinance passed by the city council recently was Henry Nicklen, arrested Wednesday by the health officer for the crime of hauling garbage from the city to feed the few hogs from which he makes a bare living in his old age.

Nicklen is 76 years old, but well preserved. His shoulders are stooped with toil; his hands are gnarled; his clothing soiled; but his eye is clear, his complexion clean.

He told his story to Sergeant Vannous, who was in charge when he was arrested, and the sergeant promptly allowed him to go on his promise to be in court at 9 o'clock Thursday. Nicklen was there promptly, leaving his wagon and old horse tied outside.

"I've hauled this garbage for nine years," he told Judge Crawford. "And now they tell me I can't haul it any more. With my hogs I've made enough to lift a mortgage on my little place west of Ruser's park. But if I can't haul this garbage I don't know what will become of my hogs. I come into the city every day, west or dry, get my slops and go right home. I haul it in tight cans and my wagon bed is tight. Not a drop falls on the street."

Judge Crawford discharged the aged man, but if the garbage octopus wants to prosecute him further the ordinance gives them time to do so.

BANNER OF EQUALITY WAVES

Flag of Justice Unfurled by Police Court Clerk Jack Mahoney.

Clerk of Police Court John J. Mahoney unfurled the bright banner of equality before the law Thursday morning when he denied to G. Collins, wealthy property owner, living at 1400 Cuming street, the privilege of going out and finding a bondsman without paying a fine of $5 which the police judge had imposed upon him for maintaining a nuisance.

"I'm a well known citizen and I own property and have money," said Collins. "Makes no difference," said Mahoney. "Before the bar of justice you are no better than the humblest hobo. You either pay your fine and costs, amounting to $50, or you go behind the bars."

Collins claimed he didn't have the money with him. He was pointed to the telephone, but he said he couldn't get his friends by telephone. An officer was called and escorted the citizen to the bull pen. Incarceration for about one hour cooled his spirit and he capitulated to General Mahoney.

ROMANCE NIPPED BY PAPA

Young Couple Elope, but Telegram Prevents Their Marriage.

As Both Are Catholics Their Wedding Would Have Been Invalid Under Encyclical Against Elopements.

The little god of love perched himself happily on the rear platform of a train which left Lincoln Thursday morning and laughed slyly.

On the train were J. V. Masully and Miss M. G. Scarsoline and back in the city fast disappearing was the father of Miss Scarsoline, all unconscious of the fact that his daughter was eloping with her sweetheart of four years.

But Cupid wore a smile on the other side of his face when he arrived in Omaha and fiercely the little cherub cursed that modern invention, the telegram. For the father had learned of the elopement, had telegraphed the police in Omaha and Detectives Ferris and Dunn were at the station to receive the couple and to smash the romance.

In the best parlors of Police Matron Mrs. Gibbons' select hotel at Eleventh and Dodge streets, the young couple awaited the arrival of the father of the bride. They took the escapade philosophically and showed they have in them the qualities to laugh at misfortune's slings and arrows.

Both are Italians and Catholics and thereby hangs the clue to the elopement. For on the coming Easter goes into effect the new encyclical of the pope declaring that runaway marriages are invalid. They sought to evade this.

Miss Scarsoline is a pretty girl, tall and brunette. She was beautifully dressed in blue.

"I can't see how papa learned we had gone so quick," she said. "I wore my everyday clothes to the place where I work and changed there. They said they wouldn't tell, but I guess some one must have told. Hateful things!"

Masully, a tall, dark young man of 23 years, dressed in a blue serge suit, patent leather oxfords and altogether a model of elegance, declared in good humor that they will be wedded in the end, anyway.

"She is nearly 18 now," he said. "I've been going with her four years. I guess we're old enough to get married. But after she is 18 they can't stop us."

An officer from Lincoln arrived in the afternoon to take the young woman back to Lincoln and the young man went along of his own accord. Cupid occupied a seat in the Pullman sleeper and, though his services were in temporary abeyance, there was an expression about his mouth which indicated that the "cool payment" will yet meet defeat.

MORE IOWA AT CORN SHOW

Montgomery Asks for Exhibit at the National Exposition in Omaha.

A. C. Gustafson, secretary of the Montgomery County (Iowa) Short Course in Agriculture, was in Omaha Thursday afternoon making arrangements for an exhibit for Montgomery county, Iowa, at the National Corn show. Such arrangements were finally completed so that the Montgomery county exhibit will be made a special division of the Iowa state exhibit.

Montgomery county enjoys the distinction of being the pioneer in the institution of the Short Course in Agriculture in the United States. It was Judge H. E. Deemer of that county and at present a member of the Iowa supreme court that was the author of the bills passed by the Iowa legislature establishing agricultural high schools in that state.

HENRY GOOD NOT ARRESTED

Father of Son by Same Name Has to Bear Odium of Boy's Difficulty.

Henry Good, 268 Capitol avenue, who owns a bakery at 215 North Twenty-fifth street, endured much undesired jeering Thursday, as a result of the publication in the morning papers of the arrest of a man by his name, giving his street address. But Mr. Good, the baker, was not arrested and he insists he was never arrested in his life. He has lived in Omaha many years, is a hard-working man, with a good reputation as a business man and the incident caused him much embarrassment.

The fact is, his son, Henry H. Good, was arrested on complaint of Mrs. Dan Baldwin, 225 Capitol avenue, that he ran amuck with a loaded revolver while drunk. And the difficulty to the father arose when the son gave the father's home address as his own. The father says the son has not lived at home for two years. The young man was discharged in police court Thursday morning.

CUT RATE FRUIT STORES NEXT

Disappearance of Push Cart Stands Opens Field for New Class of Business.

"Cut rate fruit stores" are to follow the disappearance of the "push cart" stands which sold fruit just a little lower than the regular dealers.

With Louis Hiller as manager a large cut rate fruit store is being installed in the room formerly occupied by the Hughes Grocery company at 182 Douglas street, who announces that "cut rates" and cash is the name as the street stands secured will be his plan of business and he is offering a cash prize for a name.

Besides the fruit department Mr. Hiller will run a "cut price" family liquor store in connection, following the plan of the large eastern and southern stores. He will open the store Saturday and predicts that other "cut rate" fruit stores will follow in his path, as the regular dealers will now secure the trade which has formerly gone to the wagons.

SOLOMON HOLDS RECEPTION

Meets All Comers at His Office and Dined Friends Last Night.

County Comptroller Solomon held an all-day reception in his office on the main floor of the court house Thursday and handed out cigars to all comers. The furniture was moved into the office late Wednesday and he was ready for business when the court house opened Thursday.

Last evening he gave a dinner at the home at which the guests were the county commissioners, County Clerk Haverly, County Attorney English, Deputy County Attorneys Magney and Ellick, who assisted in the test case involving the validity of the office, and his own attorneys, C. E. Herring and B. F. Thomas.

VAIN SEARCH FOR EMPLOYMENT

Two Gentlemen Parano Will-o'-the-Wisp Half Way Across Continent.

Gus Schaffer and David Cox told in police court a story of their fruitless pursuit of the will-o'-the-wisp, work, a pursuit which has extended almost across the continent. They started in New York. Cox told the court he had worked half a day he thought it was the week before Christmas, Schaffer told of arising at 4 o'clock one morning in Kansas City and looking through the want columns of a daily paper. Apparently the exertion of this feat was too much for the gentlemen, as they made no active campaign against idleness for several weeks following. They were assured that the elusive job was nowhere concealed in Omaha and, being satisfied apparently on this score, they agreed to leave the city and continue the search elsewhere.

W. H. BROWN ACCEPTS PLACE

Will Leave Omaha and Go to New Orleans with the Equitable Life.

Word has been received at the office of H. D. Neely, general agent of the Equitable Life Assurance society, that William Henry Brown, cashier at the Nebraska agency, has accepted the position offered him as cashier at the New Orleans office and left New York for his new office.

Mr. Brown expects to return to Omaha next week and settle his business affairs preparatory to making his residence in New Orleans. The position which he accepts is in the third largest office of the company.

In Omaha Mr. Brown is an officer in the Lowe Avenue Presbyterian church and a well known business man. The company pays him the high tribute of being one of the best cashiers among all of its officers.

DOZEN SALOONS CUT OFF

Those Outside Pale of Police Protection in South Omaha Will Be Closed.

South Omaha will have a dozen fewer saloons after May 1 than at present, and this will bring the number down to about seventy-four.

This is the mandate of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners decided upon in executive session Wednesday night and served upon the police Thursday morning. The board was led to this decision as a result of the recurring crimes committed in or about saloons on the outskirts of the city, or in dark places where police protection is not available. It decided the easiest way to reduce the number of offenses and insure greater safety to persons and property would be to close those places which the police could not guard.

ON THE SIDE THAT LOST, SIR

Ex-Confederate Veterans, Once Rich, Now Bowed and Broken, is Arrested.

Wilson Rothreck, 64 years old, cowed and leaning upon a cane, was arrested Thursday morning. Rothreck has seen many days that are better, days when the sun of prosperity shone brightly upon him, days when he was the master of a stately southern mansion. Tears blinded his eyes as he was registered at the police station as a vagrant. A question from Desk Sergeant Marks burst a change in his demeanor. "Are you an old soldier?" asked the sergeant.

"No, sir," came the answer quickly as the old man straightened up. Then he supplemented his answer. "I was a soldier, sir," he said, "but I was in the rebel army, sir. I'll tell the truth, sir, as a southern gentleman always does I was on the losing side, sir."

Elwood Man Wrote Letters.

CHICAGO, April 15.—(Special Telegram.)—Charles Bunnels, an Elwood, Neb., teacher testified in the matrimonial bureau that he corresponded with a Buffalo woman through the agency of
