

See the Making of Real Irish Lace. You Are Invited to View the Making of REAL HAND MADE IRISH LACE. MADE IN BRANDEIS' STORE TUESDAY BY 3 YOUNG GIRLS FROM COUNTY ROSCOMMON.

Thousands of visitors Monday admired the dainty hand work of these marvelously expert girls from Ireland. In an artistic booth at the west end of our lace aisle these lace makers demonstrate their art and every man and woman in Omaha should see this exhibition. You will be delighted at the sight of the deft fingered girls working out the beautiful and intricate patterns of real Irish lace by hand. Father M. O'Flanagan, the young Irish priest who has brought these girls to America, will be in attendance.

In Connection With This Interesting Exhibition of Lace Making We Devote an Entire Section to a Great DISPLAY OF GENUINE IRISH LACE AT VERY MODERATE PRICES

Some of the most beautiful specimens of genuine Irish lace ever shown in America. We have imported fine lots of embroideries and insertings, lace yokes, boleros, collar and cuff sets, entire lace coats, etc., etc. Prices lower than real Irish lace ever sold for in Omaha.

DR. HYDE ON EMMANUEL MOVE. He Regards It Not as Discovery in Psychic Realm and Offers Criticism. The feature of the meeting of the Omaha Ministerial Union Monday morning at the Young Men's Christian association was a paper on the "Emmanuel Movement" by Rev. R. S. Hyde, pastor of Hancock Park Methodist church. The Emmanuel movement takes its name from the church in which it was born, the Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal church, the largest parish of the faith in Boston. A few years ago the rector of this church, Dr. Worcester, and his assistant, Dr. McCumb, conceived the idea of putting into practical use the theories and principles of psychology which had been the common acceptance of the class room. Convinced of the intimate and potent relations of the psychic and the physical part of man they saw a field for religious operation which the churches had wholly neglected. Rev. Mr. Hyde held that the promoters of this movement have not made a discovery in the psychic realm, but that they make rather bold to teach that the church has not done for man its whole duty in maintaining that the physical and the spiritual are not separate entities, the physical to be treated by the physician and the spiritual to be ministered to by the priest. Mrs. G. W. Covell and Mrs. Clara Burbank of the Francis Willard Women's Temperance Union were present at the meeting and invited the co-operation of the ministers to the work of the organization of a Young People's Temperance Union in Omaha.
