FISH FLOCK TO HEAR MUSIC Pair of Vocal Soloists Lure the Fluny Tribe to the Water's

. Surface.

"Fish have a great many fine traits about them," remarked the veracious and erudite disciple of old Isaak Walton, as he was talking on that subject with some friends one day during the last week. "You would hardly suppose." he continued. "that a fish is fond of music, but he is, all the same, and I myself have had personal observation of the fact, and of all the fish that swim, these taylors, that herd by the thousands in the lower Potomac and in all the rivers about the eastern shore of Virginia, take the cake. They like fine operatic music at that, and none of this rastime stuff you can hear a datky whistling on the corner any day in the week.

"I'll give you one illustration," said the garrulous old gentleman. "You know I was born and bred around in old Accomac. and if there is any better fish anywhere under the sun I never heard tell of them. Only a year or so ago a lot of young people came to me to take them out on a sailing excursion, and, of course, I was agree-

"They had plenty of good things to eat with them, and they didn't care to spend any time fishing, but they danced and sang a-plenty. There was one young woman who could sing like an angel. She had a guitar with her, and she played on it while she sang "The Last Ross of Summer' and

"The Harp That Once Through Tara's Halls,' and all such beautiful things, and l am a red cow if a whole lot of these taylors didn't come to the top of the water and listen, just as if they were human creatures. I'll take my solemn oath to that, said the old fisherman. "Then, after a while, there was a young man who had a at the throttle for years, guiding and guarding the lives of those slooping in the darkened coaches behind. No. 15 is the Eig Four fast express which runs into Chicago over the Illinois Central tracks from Kankakee. The train is pulled by an Illinois Central locomotive, of which Mr. Seaver is the engineer. For fortythree years the veteran has been handling the throttle of Illinois Central engines.

For forty-three years Mr. Seaver has been a spiritualist, not one of the table-raising. bell-ringing kind, but an intelligent believer that spirit bodies exist. He ways he has had incumerable evidences that a spirit hand guided his engine through fearful dangers and happy escapes. Whenever he climbs up in his cab he knows that the spectral engineer is sitting beside him, ready to extend the hand of warning in time of need.

Hot Water at Thermopolis.

THERMOPOLIS, Wyo., April 35 .- (Sperial.)-An important discovery was mi a few days ago when C. W. Harold, while sinking a well for water for drinking purposes, encountered a strong flow of hot water similar to that in the Big Horn hot springs. The water raised to a height of thirty feet in the 108-foot well and, although no chemical analysis has been made, the water is known to be Im-'But it wasn't me that did it." said the pregnated with the same mineral subengineer, modestly. "It was something unstances that are found in the hot springs seen, something that we do not know waters.
