SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

We are not in that business. We don't want a name for a new addition, a new street or a new baby; we don't want you to count the dots, and we are not offering any piano, automobiles or gold eagles to first comers.

But if you want to buy acreage property, either for a home or for an investment, we can give you more for your money than anyone else in the state.

Keystone Park, three-fourths of a mile west of Benson, is not only the most beautiful suburban home addition in the county—it's also the safest and best paying investment. It covers 522 acres—a mile square—contains six miles of boulevards, thousands of fruit and shade trees and is reached by paved road from Omaha.

Lots are 2 to 10 acres each, at $15 to $200 per acre. This land will all be worth $1,000 an acre in five years; watch it grow into money, as Omaha grows into a 300,000 city.

We will take you out to see Keystone Park at any time—day or evening—any day. We will show you a most beautiful home spot in a picturesque country—show you the new houses erected during the last few months—show you that you can't buy land anywhere near Keystone Park for double our price, and show you how, in five years and with 5 to 10 acres in Keystone Park, you can make yourself entirely independent of your city employment.

CHINKS, SHY ON BUTTER FAT Chinese Restaurant Keeps Fall Under Ban of State Food Laws.

Really it is quite a joke, the fluid Joe Lee was serving in his restaurant and calling it milk.

The state pure food inspector took a sample which tested just nine-tenths of 1 per cent of butter fat. The state law demands that milk contain at least 3 per cent butter fat, and much milk contains 4 or 5 per cent. Joe calls his fat place at 104 Douglas street, the Golden Eagle, which is a very nice name and, perhaps, signifies the ambition of Joe to get the golden eagle, an ambition which would be materially aided by serving milk with so little butter fat.

Tom Ah, also a subject of the Celestial Kingdom, comes next on the state food inspector's list. The milk served by Tom in his restaurant, 411 North Sixteenth street, which he has euphonically named the Peerless, was found to contain just 1.5 per cent of butter fat.

Tom Roy, also a Chinese, apparently does not believe in endangering his patrons' stomachs with too rich milk, for the fluid taken from his emporium, known as the Metropolitan, contained just 1.7 per cent of butter fat.

James Henry of the Uneda restaurant, 1517 Capitol avenue, was a close follower on the heels of the Morgolans, as the sample taken from his milk cans contained only 1.9 per cent of butter fat.

CELEBRATION OF DISASTER Paxton & Gallagher Commemorate Building Crash by Filling it with Goods.

One year ago Friday the big warehouse of the Paxton & Gallagher company, 7511 South Tenth street, collapsed, at least the east end of it did, carrying down with it thousands of tons of merchandise, but no persons, as it was early in the morning before the employees had arrived. This disastrous event was celebrated by the company Friday by filling the re-established building with goods.

The building now is pronounced absolutely sound and stable, one of the largest and best warehouses in the west. Five carloads of merchandise were placed in the building on the first anniversary of this disaster. The goods were carried up into the Metropolitan restaurant, a freight elevator, which has a carrying capacity of 400 pounds and is lowered by gravity, thus being safeguarded against possible accident. It is the third such elevator in use in the United States.

The building covers a ground space of six and a half acres high and has a floor space of 18,000 square feet.
