Omaha made two runs in the second by the fun with a single and Welch drove him home for the first run with a corking double which soared over the head of Mr. Andreas. Belden was satisfied to sacrifice Weich to third and Jimmy Austin, who was again batting right handed, singled to left and Welch scored.

Combination Works Again.

In the fifth inning with two out Householder singled again and a passed ball put him on second. Dr. Welch repeated his performance of the second inning by driving Householder home with a double which barely missed clearing the fence. Hollenbeck got into his next tight place in the sixth inning. Weed and Henry started the inning by hitting for singles and Welch was passed, filling the bases with no one out. Severeld, who has been hitting the ball all year, struck out. Captain Franck saved the day this time by pulling down a hard, high liner with one hand and then scooting the ball to Austin in time to complete a double. In the eighth two more singles were made by the Bloux, but they could not cash them in because of the sharp fielding of the Champs.

The Champions made two more runs in the seventh just to cinch the game. Autrey had not made a hit until that time, so he singled to make his record good. Householder and Welch each went out on grounders to Severeld and on each out Autrey advanced a base. Belden then made the feature hit of the day by driving the ball to the middle field fence for a threesacker. Belden then came home himself on Austin's second hit.

Distinguished Spectators.

Sharing attention with Hollenbeck and the other champs were James J. Corbett and Yesta Victoria. the ex-champ and the ligh salaried vaudeville star. They occu-pied a box with some other members of Mr. Corbett's company. Every man on the Omaha team but Captain Franck made one or more hits, while for Sloux. Henry made three of the six safe ones. Austin's second hit was guite a marvel as he had to alide into first to beat out a throw from Granville. Weed was also starring in right in the first inning when he robbed King of a base hit by a one-hand-grandstand catch of a fast one. Austin won considerable applause by a onehand pickup he made in the ninth, in fact Harden, Carr, 1b. A Liberal Proposition.

It is the purpose of the Independent Telephone company to secure 1,000 stock

The corperation offers to investors as security a first mortgage on all its property and will pay a liberal rate of interest on came until it returns the principal at

As a further inducement, each first mortgage bondholder receives a block of preferred stock certificates as a premium, which alone draws 4 per cont per annum rom July 6, next.

The dividends are assured by the number of telephones already in use and sub-scribed for. The plant is now on a paying basis, and the probabilities are that at the present rate of growth the company will be earning at the end of the current year much more than the interest on its first mortgage bonds and the 4 per cent on its preferred stock.

The pelicy of the company is an exceedingly whe one in thus strengthening its position with the public.

There is no question that as a business proposition it will be a splendid success. The Omaha plant is the last and best of eighty-two properties organized and built by the same people. They are all succonstul.

The company on May 5 secured by a vote of 12 to 1 a very valuable franchise in South Omaha. Outside of this, it is
