FAMOUS PAINTING IN CHICAGO

Picture by Rembrandt Believed to Be

Hanging in Chicago Art Institute.

CHICAGO, May 22.-What proved to be a master picture by the great Rembrandt, worth $10,000, is hanging today, as it has been hanging for many years, in the Hutchinson gallery of old masters at the Chicago Art institute, catalogued and labeled as the work of another and inferior hand. The picture is signed by Rembrandt. Not even the owner, Allison

V. Armouh of New Jersey, knew the signature was there.

It is a somber painting of a young man, Rembrandt, it is worth $50,000 or more. Except under close observation and in bright sunlight, it bears no signature. On the frame is the name "Ferdinand Bol."

Bol was a pupil of Rembrandt. It remained

Who Chastises it is Discharged.

Edgar Allen, who spanked a mule with a large piece of building material, on the grade leading to the court house, was dis-charged in police court Friday, because the owner of the animal appeared and said he examined the mule and there was not

Allen admitted he had it in for the mule, but said he did not chastles the animal hecause of that, nor because the animal could not pull the load up the hill. A year ago the mule saw a bad man looking out between the bars at the county jail and was scared so badly that a bushel of white hair was carried off his hide the next morning. Since that time the mula has refused to go near the jail and the driver has been compelled to remove the prejudice as far as possible by slapping him severely with a dainty piece of one-a mark on his hide.
