COLONEL DENNY A GOOD TYPE Venerable Resident of Council Bluffs

Has Stirring Career. Among the esteemed and venerated residents of Council Bluffs is Colonel William N. Denny, a splendid type of the American citizen and soldier, and of that make of men that have builded up the west and whose clean record as a soldier, public officer, partisan and citizen is a standing refutation to the often repeated assertion that no good can come of a politician.

Colonel W. N. Denny, the son of William and Catherine Denny, natives of Kentucky was born May 12, 1833, at Bruceville, Ind. In 1853 the family removed to Vincennes, where the elder Denny at once took a prominent part in the religious, social and political life of that section. Colonel Denny eceived his early education at the old Vincennes university, and early took an active part in the stirring political times of that period, and was made deputy clerk of that county.

He took up the profession of law, and was about to engage in the active work of that profession, with the most brilliant apportunities opening out before him, when there came from Washington that resonant call for the nation to arm and offer up every sacrifice of ambition and life for country. Young Denny was one of the first to respond to the call of President Lincoln, tive in enlisting the young men of the county, himself being one of the first to sign his name to the enlistment roll. Still but a youth, he started to the front as a first Beutenant, and served throughout the with distinction that won for him the nelcy of the Fifty-first Indiana volunaccept a commission in the regular army, but he refused the offer and returned to Vincennes to take up the work he had laid down five years before. In 1867 he was united in marriage to Ellen K. Lemen of Salem, Ill., the sweetheart of his war-time days, and whose cheering letters, urging aim onward and upward were the stimulus of his gallantry and bravery, as the knight errant chivalry of old.

Recognizing his eminent worth, President Grant in 1869, offered him the appointment quist. as postmaster at Vincennes. He served in that position for thirteen years, with the same distinguished fidelity to duty that had characterized his army life.

Naturally a leader in every undertaking in which he engaged, he at once assumed a front position in the councils of the republican party of southern Indiana. He wrought not for himself, but for the good of the community, and the good of his country, believing that its best interests bny through the policies of the republican party. He led without being conspicuous. Four great qualities have been the distinguishing features of his career, patriotism, unselfishness, retirement and frankness.

Eight children were born to Colonel and Mrs. Denny, of whom only three daughters are living. Colonel Denny has for some years, since his retirement from public life, made his home with his daughters in Council Bluffs, where they are engaged in religious and literary work. The youngest, Mary P. Denny, is associated with 'The Word and the Way," in special editorial work, and is a contributor to many other publications.

WICKHAM SUES FOR ACCOUNTING

Claims Half Interest in Old Officer & Pusey Bank Building.

Claiming to own a half interest in the property, E. A. Wickham brought suit in district court yesterday to restrain the Security Building company, T. G. Turner, Mrs. J. W. Hannan, widow of the late Charles R. Hannan, Charles, R. Hannan and Hazel Hannan from proceeding further with the remodelling at the buildat the corner of Main street and Broadway. This is the building in which the new bank to be established by Mesars. Turner and Hannan is to be located. Mr. Wickham also asks that he be decreed to have a half interest in the title to the property and for an accounting of moneys received and spent for the property since its alleged joint purchase in August, 1901. The court is further asked to, appoint a receiver for the Security Building company in which the title to the property controversy is vested

In the petition, it is set forth that Mr. sekham and the late Charles R. Hannan. who was said to be acting as the agent for Mrs. Hannan, purchased the property question from John Beresheim and L. F. Murphy, receivers for the defunct banking firm of Officer & Pusey. consideration was $23,100 of which 100 per cent, or $2,310, was paid jointly by two, each contributing, it is alleged, half the amount. The balance of the purchase price, it is stated, was paid from the proceeds of a $31,000 loan secured immediately after the purchase of the The deed to the property was taken out in the name of the Security Building company, which, it is said, was organized for the purpose. Mr. Wickham alleges that the late Mr. Hannan took posession of the building, collected the rents. amounting to about $20,000 and refused to make any accounting with him. As the company, Mr. Wickham alleges, never held any meetings and kept no records, he does not know the exact amount collected for rents or the amount expended for taxes and keeping the building in repair. The National bank of St. Louis began suit yesterday against Flickinger Brothers, a firm of attorneys, for $300, which it is alleged was wrongfully withheld for services performed, from the amount collected upon claims against the Union Transfer company in the bankruptcy proceedings against the company. It is alleged that certain notes were placed in the hands of the defendants for collection with the understanding that no expense should attach to the bank, and that a letter stating the conditions upon which the notes were placed in the hands of the defendants was sent with the notes. It is alleged that 1200.69 was collected as the percentage due the bank upon the notes, in the bankruptcy court and that the defendants withheld $200 for their services.

VETERINARIANS ON HOG CHOLERA Belief Cure Has Been Discovered for

This Disease. AMES. May 29 .- (Special.)-For years the veterinarians of the United States Department of Agriculture and the different state experiment stations have been trying to find a practicable cure for hog cholera Their efforts have been successful and in order to celebrate the event and to arrange the many details in connection with the preparation of the remedy on a commercial scale and get it before the farmers of the state, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry Dr. A. D. Meivin have called together at Ames today a ten day congress of the veterinarians of the corn belt states to talk the matter over with the officials of the bureau of animal industry. At this meeting instruction in the process of administering the new remedy will be given to the different state veterinarians and meat inspectors. The process will be scattered throughout the afflicted states. During the last fiscal year, of the 151,615 hogs slaughtered in the great packing centers under government inspection, over 19,329 were cholera suspects. This number takes no account of the great amount of damage done to individual herds throughout the country every season. The process consists of the injection of the blood of an affected animal into the circulation of one not yet under the int disease. This must be combined with the injection of the serum of an animal already immune. cine by means of infected blood instead of artificial cultures of the germ is the basis of the dure. These deductions were the of the dure. These deductions were the result of observations of the action of the disease upon hogs that had once been through an attack. The method has been so successful that it is generally conceded by prominent veterinarians that it will completely rob the hog cholera scourge of its terrors.

For over six months the veterinaians of Iowa, Missouri, Minnesota and Nebraska have been working in cooperation with the federal authorities to determine to what extent the process would prove of value in practice. It now rests with the state and government authorities to see that this process is efficiently carried out. At the present meeting it will also be decided whether this cholera cure will be distribuiled by state or federal authorities or by private individuals.
