RAILROAD MEN AT NORTH PLATTE

He Tells Them He Has Heard Nothing of Any Reduction of Salaries of Railway Omcials.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 3.-William Bryan began the last day of his Nebraska tour at North Platte, where he arrived at 7:30 this morning. A stop scheduled for Sidney at 8 o'clock last night was cut out of the linerary because of the late hour he reached there. He was hurried to the opera house here, where he spoke for an hour, direting his remarks particularly to the railroads.

Mr. Bryan's audience was made up largely of railroad men. He congratulated them en their efforts to build up a railroad Young Men's Christian association in their town and covered the relation between railroad officials and their employes.

'I do not believe railroad managers have a right to threaten a reduction in wages of employee." he said. "in order to coerce them into the circulation of petitions to prevent the enactment of legislation affecting railroads interests. I have been surprised, that in considering such petitions, I have been unable to learn of an instance where these officials have suggested a reduction of their own salaries, as well as those of the ordinary employes.

"I have often thought there would be no occasion for even a threat to reduce the wages of an employe if payment of dividends might be withheld from every form watered stock."

Last Meeting at Lexington. LEXINGTON, Neb., June 2.- The meeting at Lexington was the last of William Bryan's Nebraska trip, and in this city he was greeted by the largest crowd to which he has spoken during the week. A reception committee met him at North Platte and when he reached here the crowds who welcomed him filled the station platform and street for nearly a block away.

A long automobile procession escorted the party to a local hotel where the committee had prepared a banquet. A feature of the Lexington gathering was the presence of fifteen automobile loads of farmers, some of whom came from points forty miles distant. An hour's speech was delivered at the opera house, following which the party left for Grand Island.

Mr. Bryan in his special referred to his campaign of 1896, then took up the issues rather than attempt any general overof the day. He said that while Mr. Rooseured some anti-ratiroad legislation he had failed to secure what the people demanded, because he was not supported by his party. He further stated that no national platform of the republican party had ever had a plank therein favoring railroad regulation, while the platforms upon which he (Bryan) ran did contain such planks. He said that Taft was not sincere in his opposition to trusts. Further, that no farmer had ever become a multimillionaire through farming. He claimed the republican party is the party of the aristocrats, the democratic party that of the common people. He was listened to throughout with wrapt attention, yet the school to succeed A. H. Waterhouse old-time cheers were lucking, though he was frequently interrupted with applause.

Stops at Other Points. The trip from North Platte to Lexington kee road. was marked by demonstrations at Cozad, Gothenberg, and Maxwell, and Mr. Bryan stopped to shake hands with the crowds gathered at those towns.

At Cosad, 112 survivors of the Bryan clu of 1905 bourded the train and accompanie the party to Lexington. One of the mer bers of the Cozad club was William I Taft who was introduced to Mr. Brys by Richard Mansfield.

Really you do not resemble my Was ington friend, remarked Mr. Bryan. I do not recognize in Mr. Mansfield t actor I formerly knew by that name. Valentine I met a man with my own f name, and I never before knew Nebrask had so many men with names of d tinguished men.'

LUXURY HAS EFFECT ON CHILD

Some of "e Possibilities of Medical Science in Transposing Organs from Body to Body.

CHICACO, June 3 .- Wives, who from noice, foster race suicide, should be held riminally responsible."

This was the deciaration made by numer ous women physicians, after Dr. Walter B. Dorsett of St. Louis had delivered an address denouncing the attitude of women who oppose the Roosevelt theory. Several speakers who followed Dr. Dorsett declared that the laws should be so amended as to permit the punishment of these women.

The sectional meeting, which was held vesterday by feminine practitioners in attendance upon the American Medical association convention, finally adopted resolutions providing that a propaganda of education be launched. A committee will agree upon some method of reaching the lay mind, either by popular lectures or by a legitimate publication.

Dr. Dorsett had asserted that ignorance was the chief cause of trouble of this sort. He claimed that the present conditions will be remedied only when the profession takes an active part in the education of both boys and girls.

In the section devoted to children's allments, physicians came to the defense of infants in a determined manner. Automobiles and luxurious living, as well as alcoholic beverages, according to Dr. Edwir G. Graham, were preferred to children. Race suicide, he said, was the result.

Some of the Causes. Dr. Graham produced statistics purport ng to show that burial associations and children's life insurance had much to do with a high death rate among children. Removal of unsound organs and the replacement of sound ones from bodies of persons killed in accidents was suggested as a possibility in the discussion following the paper of Dr. Alexis Carrel of New York on "Transplantation of Blood Vessels and Organs," delivered to the section of surgery and anatomy. The paper was illustrated with lantern sildes, showing a dog whose leg had been removed and replaced with one from another animal. Dr. J. W. Draper of New York after the address made the suggestion that the experiments in transplanting described by Dr.

WASHINGTON, June 1 - President Roosevelt late yesterday afternoon had an exceedingly narrow escape from a serious ecident while horseback riding in Rock Creek park. Mrs. Roosevelt was with the president. Rumors of the affair which gained currency last night were denied at the White House at the time, as neither the president nor Mrs. Roosevelt spoke of the affair upon thely return. The rumors came from the occupants of several carriages who saw the accident.

relyed the slightest injury. President Roosevelt's two regular riding horses were out of commission yesterday, both being indisposed. The president's orderly wished to try out the new horse, but the president took it upon himself to do this. The president was dressed in khaki and the fact that he got thoroughly wet did not become apparent to those who saw him after the accident,

The dropping of the Maine from the fleet is due to the fact that its steaming radius is limited to about 3,700 miles without recoaling, and there is a stretch of about 4,000 miles to negotiate after the ships leave Honolulu and before they reach New Zealand.

The Alabama is to be detached because of its inferior engines, which may cause trouble at any time, although thus far they have kept up fairly well.
