CHICAGO, June 4—Improved weather for crops in this country and abroad caused weakness in all grain pits on the exchange today. At the close wheat for July delivery showed a net loss of Eg. Con was divery showed and net loss of Eg. Con was divery showed and the loss of Eg. Con was diverged. The wheat market opened weak and grew atesatily weakness as trading progressed until prices had touched a point more than English based on weather conditions and on two crop reports that were made public during the day. Shorts were the best buyers. Much better weather for the maturing crop was reported from the southwest and foreign advices claimed that the crop in Roumania and southern Russia had been greatly benefited by rain. According to the Ohio report the crop in that state has gained 2 per cent in condition since May. STOCKERS AND PEEDERS.

HOGS—The market on hogs was in a good healthy condition from start to finish, in fact, it was as good a market as one could ask for. It opened steady to strong, firming up until it, was strong to ic higher on the good kinds. The trade was active at the advance and everything in sight changed hands in good season in the forence. Today's advance wipes out most of yesterday's decline, leaving the market about where it was on Thursday of last week.
