TWO KILLED NEAR BOELUS

uprooted and fences down from seven miles southeast of Hildreth to three miles northwest. During the afternoon ten distinct tornado clouds were seen from Upland. A terrific rain, hail and windstorm is reported for all this section. It has rained nearly every day for a week.

Friday Morning's Sports from the storm that swept between this city and Axtell and north to Kearney and into Howard and Sherman counties indicate the loss has not been overestimated in early reports. No reports have come in of loss of life in Kearney county. Mrs. Charles Stacey, who was struck by a flying board, is not improved today, and the result in her case may be serious.

At the home of Godfrey Hansen, where the house was destroyed and the family saved with difficulty, the tornado killed four horses and a number of cattle. Mr. Stacey had a remarkable experience while driving a team hitched to a lumber wagon. The tornado smashed the wagon, detaching the heavy box, breaking the axle of the rear seat, wheels, hub and lifting the horses and the light wheels, depositing them here & there, the place where the wagon was struck. The animals were stunned when found, but not dead. It was reported that the elevator at Newark, six miles from Kearney, was demolished.

Not Serious at Axtell.
AXTELL, Neb., June 5.--(Special Telegram.)--The storm of Thursday night favored Axtell and, while the wind was high and a number of small buildings were damaged, only two barns were blown over, one belonging to Carl Sherman and the other to Mr. Hansen. Telephone wires were blown down for half a mile from the city, service being restored this morning on the toll lines.

Bert Wells, while driving a team four miles northwest of here, was struck by the storm and blown into a barbed wire fence and severely cut, but his injuries will not be fatal.

Kearney Organizes for Relief.
KEARNEY, Neb., June 5.--(Special Telegram.)--There were three distinct storms in this vicinity, with tornado proclivities. The one that passed through Kearney was about two miles in length and very narrow, the storms moving from east to west. The storm swept everything in its path. Seven houses were blown from their foundations and ten barns met a like fate.

Nearly everything was destroyed. In the line of the storm, which finished its course as it reached Norris Brown's residence. The citizens of Kearney have organized a relief committee to assist the sufferers by the storm.

Another tornado prevailed about five miles north of this city, destroying a number of farm houses and much property, but full details are at present unobtainable. Still another tornado passed several miles south of town, doing much damage. All of the storms were accompanied with hail, destroying a large area of crops. These storms also passed from east to west.

The rainfall during the night was over two inches, the rain continuing all night.

Little Child Drowned.
FAIRBURY, Neb., June 5.--(Special Telegram.)--Five inches of rain fell during last night, doing great damage to the streets and city work. No railroad trains are running west or south. The Rock Island local trains are doubling back here on the main line. Grand Island trains are doubling back west, but no trains arrived from the east. Reports from the county show many county bridges washed out. The river is rising tonight and more damage will be reported tomorrow, as it is raining west of here at this time.

Near the town of Jansen, east of this city, a fatality is reported. Joseph Plamling, a farmer, was aroused at 4 o'clock this morning and found the flood waters of his creek flowing into his house. Plamling and his family fled on horseback, the father leading the animal, while his wife and two children clung to its back. Their 3-year-old child was swept away and drowned. Several other houses near Cut creek are submerged, the water reaching to the eaves.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 5.--(Special Telegram.)--The cloudburst which visited this section caused the Blue river and creeks to overflow their banks. An account of washouts the Burlington was running its Denver-Kansas City main line trains through here today. No trains were operated on the Concordia branch south of Wyoming on account of high water. The Union Pacific passenger which started to Manhattan, Kan., this morning failed to make the trip. The west approach of the Court street bridge was washed away today, causing damage of about $2,000. The river is rising rapidly this evening and fears of a flood are entertained. Wheat was badly damaged by the high wind.

HEBRON, Neb., June 5.--(Special.)--The heaviest rain of the season fell last night, a downpour of over three inches. The Little Blue and Spring creeks have raised six feet this morning and are now flooding the bottoms. The island bridge between here and Gilead is out and others are likely to go. No rain in years has so damaged crossings, bridges and cellars.

ST. PAUL, Neb., June 5.--(Special.)--A splendid rain measuring 2.90 inches fell here last night. This will bring the season's rainfall here nearly up to the normal per cent. While the section was not needing rain, particularly at there has been frequent showers, still most of the showers so far had been light. But this one was a regular soaker. It was accompanied by severe lightning and a strong wind part of the time.

HARVARD, Neb., June 5.--(Special.)--Another rain fell last night, measuring one inch, while yesterday one-quarter inch fell. This gives for June to date 2.17 inches rainfall.

Four Tornadoes at Minden.
MINDEN, Neb., June 4.--(Special Telegram.)--Four distinct tornadoes passed through the section north of here today, doing a large amount of damage to property, but so far as known at present no lives were lost and the only person injured in this section was Mrs. Charles Stacey, who was struck by a flying board. Her injuries are painful but not believed to be fatal. The storms all passed between this city and Axtell and moved in the direction of Kearney.

At the farm of Chris Anderson his house and farm buildings were all destroyed, but no one was hurt, the people taking refuge in an outdoor cellar. One mile from Minden one of the storms struck the residence of Ed Schmidt. This was one of the finest farm residences in this section. It was entirely demolished together with the other farm buildings. The family saw the storm coming and ran to a neighbors, where the Schmidt family, as well as several other neighbor families, took refuge in a storm cellar, and none were injured. There were a number of horses, cows and other farm animals killed in the wreckage of the buildings, as well as all his farm machinery broken and destroyed. This storm extended over a strip of four miles in length.

Family Runs for Refuge.
Another of the storms struck the home of Godfrey Hansen. The house and other buildings were completely demolished. The father, mother and nine children took refuge in a storm cellar and escaped injury.

ROOSEVELT TO GO TO AFRICA

Will Leave on Year's Hunt for Big Game Next March.
PLANS ALREADY UNDER WAY

Definite Arrangements for Departure When He Leaves Office Are Being Made by the President.

WASHINGTON, June 5.--Important significance in connection with President Roosevelt's determination against a third term is contained in the admission made today for the first time that the president is making definite plans to leave the United States in April next year for Africa, where he will spend a year hunting big game. Rumors that Mr. Roosevelt was to leave the country at the conclusion of his term of office have been printed heretofore and when confirmation was sought at the White House the answer has been that no definite conclusion had been reached as to the president's plan. But today it was stated positively that Mr. Roosevelt, with his son Kermit, would sail from New York for Cairo in April, 1909, just as soon as the necessary arrangements for the departure could be made after the 4th of March. It is the desire of the president to bring back at the end of the year from the wilds of Africa specimens of every specie of big game to be had on the dark continent. He will visit no other country. It is stated.

The outfit for the expedition will be obtained on reaching Africa, but an active correspondence in this connection already is under way. The exact size of the hunting party, number of guides and retainers, animals, etc., has not been determined. The president will take with him an assortment of arms which he will require in the variety of hunting contemplated. This outfit will include, of course, guns of the highest power. During the absence of Mr. Roosevelt in Africa Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the family will remain at the family home at Sagamore Hill.
