

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Weaker Because of General Good Reports from West.

CORN REMAINS UNCHANGED

Clearances Show Slight Decrease as Compared with Last Year, but Corn Receipts Indicate More in Country.

OMAHA, June 6, 1908.

Market values show some strength after the severe liquidation yesterday, but values eased some at the close and fell off yesterday's final figures.

Moisture throughout the grain belt is generally good, but in southern localities is somewhat of a question, owing to continuous rains.

Wheat opened steady and showed signs of weakening on free selling and very favorable crop reports generally. Values were maintained, however, as good support was made, July wheat opened at 84c and closed at 83c.

Corn started firm and rallied after the severe slump yesterday and showed a slight gain, only to fall later and closed on yesterday's final figures. July corn opened at 65c and closed at 65c.

Primary wheat receipts were 50,000 bushels and shipments were 30,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 43,000 bushels and shipments of 28,000 bushels.

Corn receipts were 45,000 bushels and shipments were 35,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 41,000 bushels and shipments of 30,000 bushels.

OMAHA GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices Based on Trade.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Favorable conditions for the development of the new crop caused a sharp decline today in the local wheat market.

Wheat and oats were each off 1/2c, provisions were unchanged.

The wheat market was weak, because of the generally favorable weather conditions, and after a brief rally, brought about again and continued weak until the close.

The weather reports from the north and west in the Canadian northwest, a moderate rainfall with high temperatures and a light breeze, which was a relief and little or no rain in the harvesting section.

This was considered as being ideal for the wheat crop, and the general feeling in the continental markets on Monday, it is believed, was not very different from that of the week.

Lower prices in Argentina and in various markets on the continent of Europe formed a further weakening of the market. The market closed weak, July opened 1/4c to 1/2c lower, and closed at 83c. Primary receipts were 30,000 bu., against 24,000 bu. on the same day last year.

Flour and wheat were each off 1/2c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 70,000 bushels, against 60,000 bushels and 27 cars one year ago.

The corn market was irregular. The general range, however, was about the same as last week. An easy opening caused considerable buying by shorts which brought about a second decline, which was followed by a rally to 65c, and then a decline and attempts of early buyers to sell brought about a second decline, which was followed by a rally to 65c, and then a decline.

The lack of demand in the cash corn market was a further weakening of the market. The market closed at 65c and 65c, and closed at 65c.

Local receipts for Monday are: Wheat, 30,000 bushels; corn, 45,000 bushels; oats, 15,000 bushels.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market is Inactive Because of Holiday Abroad.

POLITICS IS ALSO A FACTOR

Approach of National Conventions Seems to Discourage Trading—Prices Rise Despite Dullness and Close is Strong.

NEW YORK, June 6.—The scanty dealing in the stock market today showed that speculative interest and easy activity is not in the immediate past.

The holding in the London market was responsible for this, but there is a disposition to maintain a waiting attitude in the local speculative market.

The approach of the period of the national conventions of the great political parties is an influence in this direction.

Particular interest attaches to the nature of the platforms to be formulated by the conventions. The market showed little responsive to suggestions of possible developments in the political field that might prove unsettling to values of securities.

The undertone was firm to strong and substantial progress was made toward the repair of some of the market's weaknesses.

Union Pacific continued the dominant feature of the market. The evidence of over-support for that stock suppressed the inclination of the bear element to attack values and there was an almost total subsidence of any pressure to liquidate.

The postponement until next week of the public offering of the new Union Pacific bonds subscribed for by bankers has opened a field for conjecture amongst professional investors.

Port of that stock is to be carried over the period of the distribution to investors of the company's bonds.

Pacific suffered an opening break of 3 points in the morning, but recovered to its former level by the close.

The general market showed a steady, but not a strong, upward movement.
