

ROADS NOT BACK OF MOVE

Park of Union Pacific Says Employees' Association is Spontaneous.

SAYS MEN ACT INDEPENDENTLY

Thinks Readiness with Which Employees Respond Disproves that Railroaders Promulgated the Scheme.

The Nebraska State Railway Employees' Protective association continues to grow, its membership now being over 10,000. The promoters are meeting with a heavy response from all employees who have decided to take an active interest in things political and otherwise, saying they believe what is to the interest of the railroaders, their employers is also to their own interest.

Employers State Their Plan. The railroad employees have prepared a pamphlet labeled "Railroad Employees' Viewpoint," which has been generally distributed among the railroad men. The pamphlet presents the various arguments against rate reductions and gives the object of the association in these words: "The present move on the part of not only the railroad men of Nebraska, but those of other states, is almost spontaneous and has been brought about by the feeling of indignation which has been quite general, undoubtedly for the reason that this great corporate industry is so vulnerable to others and from its magnitude more conspicuous. People feel that the railroads are at present in a position of indubitable truth, in the interests of the general public, fairness must prevail and a calm dispassionate survey of the situation obtain."

Notwithstanding the great prosperity enjoyed by the people of the United States during the last few years, the railroads have grown up a sentiment that the railroads and their employees were not to be considered a part of the nation's necessities were advanced, not in accordance with the law of supply and demand, but in many cases, simply because of the cause of the general prosperity. Unreasonable prices were made possible by lack of competition. The railroads have been deceived by promises of legislation in their behalf, which, when it materialized, proved to be a mere shadow. The railroads have been deceived by promises of legislation in their behalf, which, when it materialized, proved to be a mere shadow. UTES BACK TO RESERVATION

Bellefonte Indians Are to Be Returned to Where They Came From.

Arrangements have been practically completed by the War and Indian departments to send the runaway Bellefonte Indians back to their reservation in Utah. This is the bunch of Indians that made the sensational tramp across the country from their reservation into Wyoming and the Powder river country a year or more ago.

The party, several hundred in number, was headed on Powder river by the Tenth and Sixth United States cavalry and were taken to Fort Meade and kept on the military reservation there for the remainder of the winter and then moved up to the Cheyenne reservation of the Cheyennes at Thunder Butte, B. B. Healy they threatened to break away on a raiding expedition because of the lack of supplies and for the further reason that they were required to send their papooses to school at the Indian school at the Cheyenne agency, some eighty or more miles east of Thunder Butte.

Later he says Mr. O'Keefe advised him the land was not worth more than $4 an acre and he executed a transfer at that price. Robinson says he learned one section of the land was sold to E. V. The letter went on to state that if the probation officer turned down the bribe it would next be offered to the detectives.

LAW AND JUSTICE DISAGREE

At Least County Board So Decides and Holds Up Election Fees.

OFFICERS GET NO PAY AS YET

Commissioners Come Dangerously Near Passing the Roll, but One Patriot Turns the Switch in Time.

Because there is a conflict between the law and what they consider justice the county commissioners Saturday failed to pass the pay roll for clerks and judges at the special election held last month. Through an oversight the law governing special elections in law clerks and judges was not amended at the same time the law governing regular elections was changed. Hence the law provides the members of boards at regular elections shall receive $5 and at special elections only $3.

When the board started to pass the pay roll allowing each member in Omaha $10 and in South Omaha $5, the county's share, Bruning voted no and Trainer moved to omit the Omaha portion of the roll and take it up later. The motion carried, Kennard voting no. An effort will be made to reconcile the law and what the commissioners consider the job to be worth.

Jurors' claims were also allowed, the board rejecting the allowance for Saturdays when the jurors do not report for duty. There has been a controversy over whether the jurors should be paid for every day in the term for which they are drawn or only the days upon which they serve. With the understanding a friendly suit would be instituted to decide the question the board rejected the claims for Saturday.

Work at Detention Home. Commissioner Bruning of the Detention home committee has asked permission to employ three men and a team to clear up the new Detention school grounds at Fourth and Bancroft streets. He also asked to be allowed to secure bids for architects' plans for the proposed hospital ward, boiler room, wash room and girls' quarters, the whole to cost not more than $9,000.

A. C. Hart and a number of other members of the Federated Improvement Clubs addressed the board asking the road running north along the east side of Krug park be paved to Ames avenue from the inheritance tax fund. They argued that as most of the money in the fund is paid from Omaha estates the money should be spent near the city.

W. Farnam Smith, agent of the property located on Harney street, the court house, submitted a proposition to the board for a temporary jail. He offered to erect a building costing $15,000 provided the county would pay an annual rental of $3,000 a year for five years, 6 1/2 per cent costing $15,000 if the county would lease it for five years at $4,200 a year.

VETS GLAD TO MEET IN OMAHA

Spanish War Soldiers Delighted that Second Reunion is to Be Held Here.

Nearly all of the Omaha contingent of Spanish War Veterans who attended the first annual reunion of Spanish War Veterans in Nebraska at Lincoln, returned yesterday, highly pleased with the good times at the capital city, where about 150 of the veterans were in attendance, and stated that the second annual reunion is to be held in Omaha, at the invitation of Camp Lee Forby, on or near to next April 27 as convenient, in celebration of the eleventh anniversary of the day when President McKinley called the volunteers into action for the Spanish war.

The plan, as developed at the reunion, is to organize at that time the department of Nebraska of United Spanish War Veterans, which will take charge of the reunions after next year, holding them in conjunction with the annual encampments. There are now two camps of the United Spanish War Veterans in the state, located at Omaha and Lincoln, but as a result of the enthusiasm engendered at the Lincoln reunion several more will soon be organized, leading with Fairbury, and there will be a sufficient number of camps to organize a big and husky department by April next.

To plan for the next reunion and keep alive enthusiasm among the veterans until that time, the "general committee on second reunion of Spanish War Veterans in Nebraska" was organized with these officers, the first three constituting the executive committee:

President, Major E. H. Phelps, Lincoln. First vice president, E. W. Crook, Omaha. Secretary-treasurer, A. D. Feterman, Omaha.

Vice-presidents: Governor George L. Sheldon, Lincoln; General P. H. Barry, Sheldon Center; Colonel William Hayward, Nebraska City; Colonel Frank E. Enger, Lincoln; Major G. A. Eberly, Stanton; Lieutenant H. B. Hildner, Omaha; Lieutenant RAY Dammereil, Hastings; Captain H. H. Holdenman, York; Colonel J. A. Storck, Culbertson; Captain W. M. Teague, Beatrice; Captain P. James Cochrane, Lincoln; Captain J. F. Zellinger, David City; Captain Fred C. Gagner, Kearney; Captain A. Williams, Geneva; Lieutenant Chris Hansen, Bagnet; Captain A. L. Rollin, Columbus; Major W. E. Crook, Omaha; Colonel V. C. Talbot, Broken Bow; Major C. Hoover, Kearney; Captain Hjalmer Gudmundsen, Ord; O. Wood, St. Paul; P. J. Hand, Nebraska City; Lieutenant W. E. Schultz, Fairbury; Colonel E. C. Shaw, Lincoln; Lieutenant J. A. C. Kennedy, Omaha; Captain Allen G. Fisher, Chadron; Captain E. A. Johnson, Schuyler; Captain A. J. Koenigstein, Norfolk; Captain George R. Rieder, Grand Island; George H. Johnston, Lincoln; Lieutenant A. Rawls, Plattsmouth; Captain S. Pinto, Omaha; Captain W. E. Paul, Omaha; F. W. Haller, Blair; Colonel John E. Canine, Tarkenton; Captain J. M. Vicker, North Bend; Captain W. R. Brooks, Fremont; Lieutenant Frank Mills, Osceola; Captain R. B. Hester, Hastings; Lieutenant A. L. Sheridan, Indianola; Lieutenant Charles Hall, O'Neill.

HITCHCOCK STILL IN RACE

Will Be Candidate for Democratic Nomination Again This Summer.

"Knocking is our business and soaker our motto." Beating the tom-fom of democratic politics, denouncing the work of the Sixtieth congress, disposing of everything republican as bad and Secretary Taft as "not standing a ghost of a show," beating Bryan in the White House and offering nothing new on that $15,000 from Wall street, Congressman Hitchcock came steaming into Omaha from Washington Saturday.

The currency bill put through congress at the eleventh hour is nothing but a bombastic measure for political capital, is the nearest Mr. Hitchcock comes to speaking favorably of what congress did.

It is La Follette Mr. Hitchcock thinks the democrats have a friend and supporter for "the third battle." He bases his assumption on the fact that "La Follette made a life-and-death struggle" against the currency bill, although nobody was killed.

"Mr. La Follette has a large following in Nebraska and other midwestern states," says Mr. Hitchcock, "and he will command this following in this campaign."

Mr. Hitchcock admits now at the outset, so that H. B. Fiehrer and any other pretender to the throne may take due warning, that he will be a candidate for the democratic congressional nomination again.

KING WILL ROPE COWBOYS

Ak-Sar-Ben Has it Ready for Those One Hundred Boosters.

PLENTY DOING MONDAY NIGHT

Sheep Bells Will Be Worn by the Victims to Distinguish Them from Those Who Have Gone Before.

One hundred festive cowpunchers will be driven into the royal of King Ak-Sar-Ben, and made to feel the sting of their own riatas when the are brought up with a jerk. Monday evening, for the Bellringers who toured Colorado and Wyoming last week will ride in the great pirate ship of the King.

It is to be boosters' night at the den, the men have been widely advertised and the harekins, jesters and camareros about the great white throne, will attempt to take the somberos, chappis, red handkerchiefs and other regalia of the plains away from the vaqueros.

Sheep bells will be worn by the cowboy business men throughout the ceremony to distinguish them from the subjects of the king, in the event they are stripped of their cowboy clothing or lost in the rigging of the ship.

For this purpose, E. M. Sunderland, the musician of the Bellringers, has tuned the bells and every one will sound like fifteen notes of a home made phonograph.

Jeff is Bell Wether. "Bimah my taffrail if I believe those practitioners of manual labor will ever be able to lead the bunch through the slumgullion on the deck of their old mud scow," said W. Jeffries, who will be the bell wether for the boosters. "After living for a week on Uncle Sam Breakfast food and getting that Jim Jeffries feeling, there will be nothing for the Ak-Sar-Ben crew to do but pin on the buttons and buy the cowboys a barrel of Allice-Bit-By-the-First-Water. Cavorting around in Wyoming gets a fellow's trigger finger ready to wriggle and when the cavalcade goes over the rail of the King's ship, there'll be nothing for the king to do but get up and dust, if he don't want the whole cargo skygirded."

Others feel the same way about the time they are to have at the den and predict that Tuesday morning will seem like the Fifth of July to Ak-Sar-Ben's crew.

Some of the Bell ringers will be in danger of being sacrificed by their own men, as they failed to wear the cowboy hats during the week. Others have worn them since Monday and, regardless of the pleadings of wives and children, the reproaches of friends and wondering stares of strangers, he's gone about the streets at high noon, wearing hats decorated with Indian beads and topography which looked as though the so. brecces had been in the explosion of a "cuge mill."

List of "Big-Backers." Will L. Yeter has a list of the delinquents. They are: Allen, Oscar R.; Nichols, E. A.; E. E. Eaton, E. P.; Boyd, Frank; Ke, George H.; Cole, J. Clarke; Kelly, Joseph H.; Cullerton, Captain; Krug, Fred A.; Davis, T. L.; McCune, O. E.; Dickson, O. L.; Edholm, Albert; Potter, S. J.; Griffitt, E. C.

Haverstick, G. E. special entertainments which will be given at the den will be a picture by C. W. Martin of Martin Bros., who has worked all week preparing lantern slides to show those who stayed at home some of the things which the boosters saw and some of the things they did while on the trip.

Addresses of the evening will be made from a platform erected especially for boosters' night and resembling the rear end of the train, with the brass railings of an observation car, displaying the transparent sign—"For Omaha."

HOMESICK, ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

Frank Berke, Longing for Bohemia, Shoots Himself in Cemetery and May Die.

With the "heimweh," the homesickness for the old country gnawing at his heart in a strange land, Frank Berke walked out in the storm and the pouring rain Friday night to the Bohemian cemetery west of the city, unbuttoned his coat and vest, placed the muzzle of a revolver over his heart and pulled the trigger. But the bullet missed his heart by a hairsbreadth and punctured his left lung. In this condition he wandered away and finally fell exhausted in a ditch at Forty-seventh and Marcy streets. There he was found early in the morning by Officer Brown, who was on his way to his home at 473 Marcy street. The officer called the patrol wagon and he was taken to the police station, where he was at first booked merely as being drunk. Not until his wet clothes

ELOQUENCE WINS DISCHARGE

Colored Man Pleads Service to Country and Family and Judge Lets Him Go.

Merino Lobock Gomez put up a great talk to Police Judge Crawford Saturday morning. Merino Lobock is a young negro and had been arrested for vagrancy.

He watched the court narrowly and when the signal was given for him to tell his story he turned open the flood gates of his oratory with all the fluency of a book agent.

"I've been in the army, judge," he said, "I served my country four years—"

"In the African army," murmured somebody, but this did not stop Merino Lobock. "Ah just left San Francisco a short time ago and I'm on my way to Alabama where my father died and left my sister all alone."

"When did you leave San Francisco?" asked City Prosecutor Daniel. "The same day the fleet left."

"It must have been a dull day after both the fleet and you had left," murmured Mr. Daniel.

Mr. Gomez further explained that though he had had $40 he spent that on his sister, preferring to take the risk of getting to Alabama on the bumpers rather than to have his sister in the least danger of want. He proceeded to place on top of his army service and self-sacrifice in favor of his sister, a small budget of heroic deeds of which he, though not a boasting man, was compelled to acknowledge himself the hero.

It would have been a shame to sentence Merino Lobock Gomez. He should have had an vacation and a bunch of medals. He was discharged.
