Large Addition Made to Endowment on the all western team two years in suc-Funds. cession, hence Wesleyanites rejoice.

UNIVERSITY PLACE, Neb., June H .-(Special)-Yesterday the board of trustees of Nebrasica Wesleyan university held its final meeling for the year and it was determined that the year just closing has been the greatest in the history of in the reports of Educational Secretary J. R. Gettys, and Chancellor Huntington. The financial outlook of the institution is hopeful and at present the interest bearing endowment is $124,000, as against $46,000 a year ago. The great movement is for an endowment of $500,000 in the near future.

The College of Liberal Arts is growing rapidly and new men were added to its teaching force. Dr. D. W. C. Huntington was elected chancellor-executive and professor of biblical history. Dr. L. D. Swingle of the State university was elected assitant professor in the department of zoology. A new department was created, which will be known as the Department of Economics and Sociology, with William Henry England as professor. Mr. England is a graduate of Wesleyan with a Ph. D. degree from the State university. For the last two years he has been instructor in goology in the Wes-

In the reorganization of the board of trustees John M. Stewart of Lincoln was elected president, G. W. Isham of University Place, secretary, and A. L. Johnson of University Place, treasurer.

Wesleyan students and supporters are re-Joicing over the approuncement that arrangements have been made with Prof. Z. G. Clevenger to remain as professor of physical education for the next two years. Prof. Clevenger has worked wonders with the athletes at Wesleyan this year. The teams in the different lines of athletics have had remarkable success, winning the pennant in basket ball, tieing for place in base ball, winning out in the hockey league and coming from fifth place to second in the state-track meet. Prof. Clevenger is one of the best all round athletes ever turned out by an eastern institution and he has remarkable success in turning out winning teams during the last years of his coaching. For the first last years of his coaching. For the first time in the history of the institution athletics have been self supporting under his management and this is very gratifying to the board of trustees. If the students take up foot ball, as is anticipated, Prof.

DELAY IN THE ASSESSMENT

Know Railroad Valuation, TIME SHORT FOR THE SCHOOLS

State University Graduates the Largest Class to Its History-Charles A. Towne Delivers Address to the Students.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, June 11 .- (Special.)-The action the State Board of Assessment in delaying the final assessment of railroad property has created considerable worry out in the state among county and school officers, and letters are now being received at the state house asking for school district valuations. The law requires that annual school meetings be held on the last Monday in June. At this meeting estimates of expenses are made for the year and it important that the school officers know the assessment of railroad property in their several districts. The delay of the Board of Assessment makes it practically impossible for the returns to be made to the county superintendent in time to be of use at the coming school meeting. The board has not even officially assessed the railroads yet, and with the exception Secretary of State Junkin no work is being done toward getting at the valuation of railroad property under the provisions of the terminal tax law.

Governor Sheldon and Land Commissioner Eaton leave Saturday night for Chicago to attend the national republican convenion, which meets Tuesday. This makes it practically impossible for the board to do anything before the following Monday, June 22. Should the assessment be made on that date, it is necessary for the secretary to the board to certify the values out to the county clerks, who in turn certify the school district valuation to the county superintendents and he to the school district officers. The work cannot be done by the 29th, when the school meetings are

In the opinion of one member of the board the railroad assessment could have been finished a week or ten days ago, but it has been impossible to get the board members together, though frequently all of the members have been in Lincoln during these days. The date of the next meeting of the board has not been fixed and it may or may not be held in time to clear the decks for action in the matter of equaligation of county valuations.

Big Increase in Valuation. The indications are the valuation Nebraska property this year will be higher than ever dreamed by the most optimistic of the state's boosters. An increase of from $50,000,000 to $70,000,000 in real estate alone would occasion no surprise around the state house. So far no county assessor has made his eturns on county property because the County Boards of Equalization are meeting, but reports from officials have been received through correspondence from two of the smaller counties. One of these increased its real estate $6,000,000, or rom $4,100,000 to $10,000,000. Another county still smaller has made an increase of $2,000,000. The increase in the value of real-estate in the eastern countles, of course, is expected to be less than the increase in the western counties, where land during the last four years has soared out picked by Stagg of Chicago for a position of sight, but with two countles sending in an increase of $6,000,000 it would not be surprising if the ninety countles

Another explanation has been offered for the action of the Northwestern railroad returning its physical property so much higher than ever before, especially bridges. Under the provisions of the terminal tax law, as it likely will be worked out by the State Board of Assessment, the higher the physical prop erty is valued the less will be the value of the property in towns where it would be soaked for municipal taxes. To find the value of the franchise and rolling stock the board will deduct the physical value from the total value last year, the total values being the same for this year Should the physical value be high the franchise value will be low, and this is the value which will be added to the property in town. Should the physical value be low then the franchise value to be added in the towns and cities would be high and the town and city taxes cor-
