AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

E. T. Graham Tops Market for Six Years With Two Cars of Cattle.

REBUILDING Q STREET VIADUCT

Steel Companies Now Ready to Deliver Material Ordered Some Time Ago for Its Construction.

E. T. Graham of Creston, Neb., one of the heaviest cattle feeders in the state, has the distinction of selling the highest-priced fat cattle during the last six years on the Omaha market. In 1907 two cars of cattle brought $5.18. Mr. Graham had thirty-six head on the South Omaha market Thursday that brought $7.00 per 100 pounds, the cattle averaging 1,626 pounds. These steers were Wyoming-raised cattle, bought in South Omaha shortly before the first of the year. They were mostly short-horns.

Viaduct to Be Rebuilt.

It is likely that the last complaint concerning the condition of the Q street viaduct at Twenty-seventh street will receive scant attention from the city council, for the reason that, although the viaduct is badly in need of repair, the Union Pacific railroad and the Union Stock Yards company are almost ready to begin the work of reconstructing the entire structure. The Q street viaduct is the oldest viaduct in the city. It has stood many years. In fact, it has stood until it is in danger of falling of its own weight. Last year one of the main stringers broke under the weight of a passing street car. After that accident, which fortunately had no serious results, heavy timbers were placed under the viaduct and props set to strengthen it. It was then the matter of repairing the viaduct was successfully urged on the Union Pacific and the Union Stock Yards companies. A tripartite agreement exists for the construction of the viaduct.

The interested corporations let the contracts for the steel many months ago. The steel companies are now ready to deliver. It is likely within the next two weeks the companies will be ready to proceed. As soon as the city receives this notice to this effect the present viaduct will be closed entirely and removed as soon as possible. Travel will be permitted across the tracks at this point while the work is in progress.

The street cars will run a stub line on West Q street. The managers of that corporation recently served notice on the city that they intended to pay no license, such as is contemplated in the tripartite agreement. This amounts to about 3 per cent of the total value of the license. It is intended that the fund derived from this license be used for the maintenance and repair of the new viaduct. The railroad company and the Union Stock yards maintain that as the street car company is the largest user of the viaduct it should therefore pay the license. While not arguing the merits of this theory the street car company maintains that the license fee cannot be collected under the franchise.

Bee Branch Office Moved.

The branch office of The Omaha Bee, which has been located for many years at the north end of Twenty-seventh street, has been moved to the Live Stock National bank building. The removal was made yesterday. Patrons of the paper will be able to reach the office much more conveniently, as it is now directly on the street car line.

MOCK CONVENTION AT CHURCH

Subscribers Appear and Make Effort to Stampede the Body, but Fail.

Prominent attorneys, professional and business men trooped through a mimic republican convention at Hanscom Park Methodist church last night for the benefit of the church repair fund.

Postmaster E. F. Thomas called the mock convention to order and acted as sergeant-at-arms after C. E. Herring had been chosen permanent chairman. Miss Mildred Clark was made secretary. Things started off with a real fight on the delegations from Oklahoma and Utah, which furnished some amusement for the crowds. The protest of the New York delegate against allowing women to sit in the Utah delegation was interrupted by a band of suffragettes, who carried the convention by storm. E. C. Page made a sentimental address on the subject of "Forest Preservation" and Elmer Thomas, a delegate from Georgia spoke feelingly on an anti-slavery resolution. James W. Maynard demanded shorter hours and more pay for union labor and then the proceedings were interrupted by the entrance of a German band, which furnished suitable music at intervals during the program. Mrs. A. Wagner and Mrs. Strawn made suffragette speeches and Mrs. B. F. Thomas took the platform and demanded more hats and fewer rights.

The real burst of enthusiasm came when William H. Taft was escorted to the platform, accompanied by the German band. He was represented by E. R. Misner, who weighs close to 130 pounds. After the enthusiasm had subsided nominating speeches were made by G. W. Claiborn of Maryland, who named Richard Pearson Hobson, James W. Batten, who nominated Colonel Dallas Cottonfield of Texas, E. L. Gustafson of Minnesota, who named "Tim" Hill, Ed Berryman of Kentucky, who presented Carrie Nation, Carrie was there with her natchie in the person of Mrs.

CONCERT FOR CHURCH BENEFIT

Pleasing Musical Program is Given at Trinity Methodist Church.

Three hundred people comfortably filled the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-first and Binney streets, last evening to listen to a concert given by the choir of the church under the direction of its leader, Walter B. Graham. The proceeds of the entertainment were divided between the church and the choir for music for that organization.

The program was musical with the exception of one number, a reading by Mrs. Grant W. Williams. Tennyson's "Enoch Arden" was her selection and she read the pathetic poem to accompaniment on the piano by Miss Grace Hancock. Soprano solos were given by Miss M. Bosworth and Miss Lela Galloway, the former singing "Carmena" and the latter the "Flower Song" from Faust. Mr. Graham sang a baritone solo, his selection being from "Tannhauser," and the full choir of seven male voices and ten female voices sang an anthem. The program was opened and closed by selections on the pipe organ by Martin Bush.

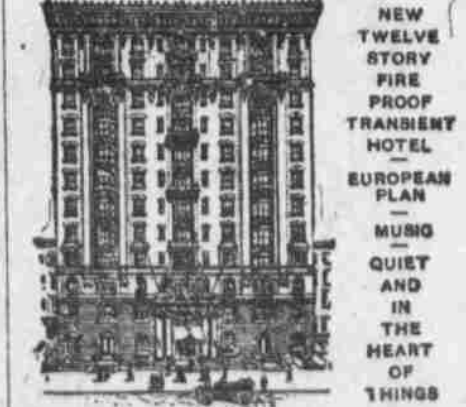

The program was a pleasing one and elicited much applause, each number being encored.

BENEFIT FOR LITTLE ONES

Concert at First Congregational Church for Child Saving Institute.

A large and representative audience greeted the concert given in the First Congregational church Thursday evening for the benefit of the Child Saving Institute by the choir of that church, assisted by Mr. John McCrary, Mr. Robert Cusaden, violinist, and Mrs. Harry Loftus, accompanist.

The program comprised a choral "Sanctus et Benedictus" from Gounod, by Mr. McCrary, tenor; Miss Vera Allen, soprano, and the choir. Miss Ruth Ganson, alto, sang the three "Flower Songs," from MacDowell, Mr. J. J. Naven, tenor, sang the aria "M'appri" from Flotow. The two violin numbers by Mr. Cusaden, a "Legende" from Weinlawski, and a "Scherzo" from Van Goens, were so excellently rendered that Mr. Cusaden was required to respond to an encore. "With Verdure Clad," from Haydn's "Creation," was a pleasing number by Miss Allen, and the first part of the program closed with a duet, "Death to Our Mighty Foe," by Miss Susan DeGraft, mezzo contralto, and Mr. Ira H. Pennington, baritone.

The program closed with a pleasing cantata, "The Young King and the Shepherdesses," from Max Vogrich, the entire choir participating with Mr. McCrary as Goldmar, Miss Allen as the shepherdess, Miss DeGraft as the narrator and Mr. Lester D. Ladd as the old king.

LARGE ALFALFA MEAL PLANT

Factory Will Be Established in City by New Jersey Man.

EAST OMAHA BUILDING BOUGHT

Work Will Begin at Once On the Installation of Fifteen Thousand Dollars Worth of Machinery.

After comparing the advantages of various western cities, Charles P. Wolverton of Trenton, N. J., representing the Oradell Dairy Farms company, closed contracts Thursday for locating a large alfalfa meal factory in Omaha which will consume eighteen to twenty carloads of raw material weekly at the start, when the mill opens September 1.

The decision of Mr. Wolverton is largely due to the fact that the Commercial club of Omaha was able to show that the city has peculiar advantages in the matter of transportation, is closer to the fields where the best alfalfa is produced and is a grain market where the necessary cereals can be bought for the mill.

The company will be incorporated at once for $50,000, with J. P. Propst of Englewood, N. J., as president, C. S. Chambers of Newark, N. J., vice president and J. L. Loxter of Oradell, secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Wolverton has bought the buildings of the Underfeed Furnace company in East Omaha and leased from the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company a site 125x200 feet. The old buildings will be remodelled to suit the purposes of the alfalfa meal mill and two new warehouses will be erected, one 62x100 feet and the other 61x55 feet. When the furnace company buildings are remodeled, the company will have a grinding room 26x55 feet and a shipping department 26x41 feet, both being two stories in height.

Work starts at once.

Work will begin at once on the installation of $15,000 worth of automatic machinery and a 125-horse power engine, the boilers for which will burn crude oil.

Because most of the machinery is automatic the mill will employ some ten or fifteen at start, but will have a capacity of 200 tons of meal weekly. The raw material used will be alfalfa, corn and molasses, the company aiming to make a product which will be shipped direct to the east and be just the article which the Oradell Dairy Farms company and similar institutions want. The alfalfa and corn will be from the fields of Nebraska and Colorado and as the business increases it is expected that the meal mills located in Omaha will offer a new outlet for the thousands of tons of alfalfa which is growing in the fields of the west.

The new plant in East Omaha will be on the tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad company, which has co-operated with the Commercial club in securing the location of the new industry.

Flag Day—At Krug Park.

Sunday, June 14, will be observed at Krug park as Flag Day. Manager W. W. Cole is arranging for a special observance of this patriotic anniversary, at Omaha's Polita Resort. He placed an order with a large wholesale house for several thousand miniature American flags, and one will be given to each person entering the park.

The band concerts on that day will be given almost exclusively to patriotic selections and a distinctive feature will be a national medley by Finn's Greater Omaha band. The solo part will be sung by Mme. Pallansch, the band furnishing the accompaniment, and the members joining in the chorus, large American flags being waved by them during the finale.

The Zoyarras in their balancing "two-high" ball walking athletic act have made a most decided hit on the Krug park arena during the past week and they have been warmly applauded at every performance. Their engagement has been so entirely satisfactory that it has been continued for another week.
