HEAVY OFFERINGS, NO DEMAND

Wheat Started Stendy, but Dropped and Corn Did Not Show Gimp it Has and Prices Dropped.

OMAHA, June 25, 1905.

Grain markets ruled dull and were disappointing. Offerings were heavy and there was considerable difficulty experisenced in seiling owing to the extreme lack of demand. Values ruled lower gradually and elesed somewhat lower.

Wheat started steady, but dropped off with lack of demand or support from the buying side. Offerings were liberal and were found hard to get rid of. July whoat opened at sibje and closed at sibje.

Corn did not show the gimp it has, and sithough there was some brisk demand early in the season, there was a bull in the buying later and prices eased lower with American Locomotive Rise: Five Points on Declaration of Regular Dividend and Traders Are Caught Short.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The shifting fluctuations in prices today marked the lack of speculative conviction on the present small operators who made up the market. Part of the idleness and indifference of the trading is attributable to the seasonable distributable to the seasonable traders who would be disposed to operate on the bear side of the market under these circumstances are tilmid about making committee and the seasonable floating supply of stocks and the occasional demonstration of the extent to which unfavorable factors have been discounted in the price level. evel. The action of American Locomotive today factors have been discounted in the price level.

The action of American Locomotive today served as an object lesson to bear traders who did not observe sufficient caution in selling stocks short. The declaration of the usual quarterly dividend on that stock proved an agreeable surprise to some holders and a corresponding unpleasant shock to the bears who have assumed with great confidence that the dividend was to be redeuced or even passed. The basis for this assumption was the known heavy decline in traffic of the railroads, their forced tesort to economics and their selection for first observation of these economics of the usual expenditures for new equipment. Not only have the railroad equipment companies suffered from curtaliment of outlay for new expenditures, but the financial disturbance last fall threw into arrears is reasonable and the laster phase of the resulcess of the new bond flotations by many of the railroads recently has served to relieve somewhat the latter phase of the troubles of the companies dealing in equipment. Now the consideration of these facts that had driven American Locomotive down to a price out of line with a 5 per cent dividend stock. The price was run up over 5 points today when the regular dividend was declared. The strength of American Car was partly in sympathy, notwithstanding the different policy already pursued by that company in a reduction of the dividend stock. The strength of American Car was partly in sympathy, notwithstanding the different policy already pursued by that company. The sustaining influence of these and a few other advances was offset at one time during the day by the renewed unsettlement in the Rock Island and subsidiary securities and in some of the Gould group. There was nothing new to explain the weakness of the wheat market in response to the denials gave them force. J. P. Morgan was reported, on the eve of his return to the denials gave them force. J. P. Morgan was reported, on the eve of his return to the best.

Idle money at work earning 7% interest is better than idle money in the bank. A wise man keeps his capital at work, makes it earn a good rate of interest and demands good security. The Updike Grain Co. of Omaha offers to the people of Iowa and Nebraska $200,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock in shares of $100 each. The rate is better than can be had on any other safe investment; the security is as good or

Better Than a Farm Mortgage.

The Updike Grain Co. secures the stock with its entire assets, consisting of one hundred grain elevators in Iowa and Nebraska; its great terminal elevators at Omaha, McCook and Missouri Valley and the valuable real estate on which they stand; the Updike Lumber & Coal Co., the Updike Milling Co., the Updike Commission Co., all in the city of Omaha. The entire security for this $200,000 of stock is more than one and one-half million dollars. More money is needed to handle the grain business and this company wants the people of Iowa and Nebraska to become stockholders. It prefers to borrow western capital in this way and desires the co-operation of the western people. Why not put your idle money at work? Write for full information or ask your banker.

around 5c lower than vesterday. This means that the hogs sold largely at $5.815, $65.875. Over half of all the hogs yesterday brought $5.90, while the droves today were costing about $5.50. The top for both days was the same, $6.00.

The market during the first half of the present week was active every day, the trade being in a good healthy condition. The advance for the three days amounted to $50, so that after allowing for today's decline the market is still about 20c higher than at the close of last week.

ARMY CALLS FOR DOCTORS Offers Good Positions to Young Mes Who Can Pass Medical

Test. Lieutenant Colonel W. B. Davis, chiei surgeon of the Department of the Missouri, is anxious for a number of young Omaha doctors and graduates of medical colleges to take the examination on August 3. for positions in the Medical corps of the United States army.

"The successful candidates will at once he appointed first lieutenants in the Medical Reserve Corps and ordered to Washington, D. C., on October I, for an eight months' course in the army school," says Colonel Davis. "Upon the conclusion of the course another examination will be made and all students officers, who pass it will receive their commissions as first lieutenants in the medical corps of the

"The pay of a first lieutenant in the medical corps is $2,000. It seems to me that this opportunity should be tempting to young physicians. Applicants must be between 22 and 30 years of age, and have had one year's experience as a physician or equivalent practice in a hospital."

OUR JIM IN GALLERY OF FAME Mayor Dahlman is Lined Up with Alfred Dreyfus and Other Notables.

Fame, fame, fickle fame! A recent issue of Lestie's Weekly contains the photograph of Omaha's distirguished mayor, James C. Dahlman, on the page entitled "People Talked About." Accompanying this photo is a sketch of that now celebrated $15,000 Ryan slush fund. On this same page are the photos of five other celebrated personages. One of these is the famous French army officer, Major Alfred Dreyfus, who came so near being a martyr and more recently the victim of an assassin. Another face in this gallery of fame is that of Colonel W. F. Steweart, of the United States army, who was exiled to a deserted fort in the western wilds and still another is Raisuli, the eminent bandit, whose name
