TEXTER REPLIES TO CHARGES

Electric Railway Official Says Litigation is in Bad Faith.

NO DEMAND FOR A HEARING

Petitioners for a Receiver Fail to Take Advantage of the Court Rule and Default is Claimed.

Charges that the suit for a receiver and an accounting against the Omaha & Nebraska Central railroad was brought to discredit the company and prevent its getting a franchise into Omaha are made by officers of the company, who also assert the suit was not brought in good faith. To support this last assertion they say the plaintiff, John W. Ege, has failed to comply with the court rule requiring him to serve notice for a hearing on his application for a receiver within five days and that this part of the case has defaulted. Failure to suggest the names of their proposed bondsmen has also, they assert, made void that part of the petition. Now, they say, the only part of the suit remaining is for an accounting which they are willing to allow.

Anthony Texter, vice president of the road, asserts the filing of the suit is part of a fight to prevent the road getting a franchise from the county board along West 42nd street. The course of the road will conflict with that of the road proposed to be built by the Ralston Township company and he claims the litigation was instituted to discredit the road before the board when the hearing for a franchise comes up July 8. He also denies the validity of the claim of Henry G. Meyers for $200, which forms the basis of the suit in Justice Long's court, upon which attachment was issued against the furniture belonging to the company. The obligation was incurred by the former manager, J. C. Baker, who says the claim should not have been more than $5.

Owing to the situation brought about by the suit a meeting of the board of directors will be held Monday and a general meeting of the stockholders will be called later at which the matter will be taken up.

Mr. Texter Makes Statement.

"The company is perfectly solvent," declared Mr. Texter, "and the books will show this to be the case. Mr. Meyers and his client came to the office the other evening to look over the books and we were able to account for every cent we have collected. They looked up some transactions they thought would show something wrong, but they found everything accounted for."

"The statement in the petition that we have only four miles of right-of-way is incorrect. We have spent for right-of-way $60,000. We have conditional deeds for enough more to make thirty miles, the condition being that the deeds will become effective when the line is built to the property represented. We have contracts for still enough more right-of-way to make a total of 100 miles taken care of. The company has some debts which were contracted without the knowledge of the board by the former manager, who has not been connected with the company since February. It is not true we are paying our officers $150 a month each. I receive a salary, but it is nowhere near $150 a month. We pay the auditor for the time he puts in and we also hire a stenographer. No one else receives a salary."

Mr. Texter says he would not be surprised if the suit was brought to discredit the company and prevent its getting a franchise into Omaha.

COOLEY CASE TO BE SCANNED

Charges of Unprofessional Conduct Ordered Investigated by Judge Sears.

Following a statement by Landing E. Jackson, a negro prisoner at the county jail Saturday morning, Judge Sears directed Deputy County Attorney Magney to make an investigation of the conduct of Julius S. Cooley in the Jackson case. Unprofessional conduct in trying to get money from Jackson in return for his alleged influence in securing a light sentence for Jackson in the specific charge made against Cooley.

Jackson was convicted of cutting S. B. Stewart, a barber, with intent to wound. He was represented by D. M. Vinsonhaier. When he was brought before the court for sentence Saturday he declared Cooley had come to him at the jail and told him he could prevent his being tried for a serious offense if he would give Cooley $5. Jackson says he gave Cooley the address of his sister in Kansas City, and that Cooley wrote to his sister telling her Jackson was in bad condition, and that owing to the unsanitary condition of the jail was liable to go insane unless he was released in a short time. He demanded $100 in return for which he could get Jackson a sentence of thirty days in jail because of his influence.

After Jackson had made the statement Judge Sears immediately announced he

BOND SENT UP FOR LIFE

Should Be Thankful, Court Says, He Did Not Get Death Penalty.

George L. Bond, who was convicted of the murder of John Wrede, a South Omaha saloon keeper, during an attempted hold up, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary Saturday afternoon by Judge Sears. The penalty was fixed by the jury which returned the verdict.

In commenting on the action of the jury, Judge Sears repeated his previous statement that Bond should congratulate himself that the verdict was for life imprisonment instead of death.

The sentence was pronounced in the presence of T. A. Hollister, Bond's lawyer; County Attorney English, District Clerk Smith and Deputy Sheriff Osborn. It was hurried because of the demonstration made into Friday night by a number of men from South Omaha who were dissatisfied because the jury did not impose the death penalty. Bond was taken to Lincoln on an afternoon train.
