MEXICAN TROOPS IN CONTROL

Government Soldiers Rapidly Put Down Insurrection.

BANDITS ARE HELPING REBELS

Executive Regards Men Behind Uprising as Ordinary Criminals—United States to Preserve Neutrality.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 29.—The internal troubles in Mexico which developed several days ago along the northern border of the republic have developed serious features. Today the storm centers around the city of Torreon and in the country between that place and Jalisco, where bandit bands are operating in conjunction with the insurrectionists.

In view of the latest developments, Ambassador Creel, who has been here on what promised to be a long leave of absence, has been instructed to return to Washington without delay.

It is the belief of the Mexican government that the revolutionary movement now in progress was fomented by cases of agitators who long have made their headquarters in the United States. On this ground, it is believed, Ambassador Creel will appeal to the United States authorities to assist in apprehending some of the revolutionists, particularly those who were concerned in the attack on Las Vacas.

At Las Vacas, where the first serious attack was made, the government has gained the upper hand. Troops are now in complete control of the situation in that city, the rebels and bandits who composed the attacking force having been driven back to the mountains. They will not be permitted to rest there undisturbed, however, as the government purposes to make an example of its force as an object lesson to others who might join the movement in other sections.

SHOWERS SCATTER CROWDS

Large Number at Krug Park in Afternoon When the Rain Came.

The just-before-sunset storm Sunday scattered the large throngs of people at Omaha's polo resort, Krug Park, and the following coolness of the atmosphere kept down the evening patronage to a minimum. The band concerts, with the instrumental solos, and the popular songs rendered by Mlle. Pallansch, were greatly enjoyed, as was evidenced by the frequent applause and the encore and extra numbers that were demanded.

Choosing a Great Teacher.

"God chose a great character to do His work and to teach His people. Moses was well born physically. It was God's design that his youth and manhood should be as it were the greatest of his life. He was in every characteristic of religion, morals and determination. It was necessary to God's purpose that he should be educated in the lore of Egypt and he was so educated that he might come in contact with all the phases of human character of that time."

Moses, the Military Man.

"Moses was a great military leader, a great organizer, a great patriot and a great world's greatest hero. Withal these qualifications was added the character of a good gentleman. He was meek, but not weak, and above all things he was a man of God. The grandest moment of Moses' career was in the silent majesty of his death. God called him into the solitude of the rocks, where he died. His work was finished, and he died in the majesty of the completion of the greatest work ever performed by mortal man. The angels of God buried him, and no man knows the location of his tomb, so that no man of that day could point to his grave and say, 'There lies my enemy.'"

This is the second suit growing out of the incident. Last summer's suit was brought for the same amount, but at that time Hogg, through a husband-and-father, was still in the eye of the law at infant himself, being under 21, and the suit had to be brought through his mother. Since then he has become of age and is therefore able to bring his suit in his own name.
