GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Threshing Returns on Wheat Are Promising, but Grain is Unsafe.

STORMS HAVE DONE DAMAGE

Corn Was Driven Lower by Advices Indicating Larger Crop Than Last Year and Could Not Rally Again.

OMAHA, June 29, 1908.

Heavy rains over the west and southwest assisted markets strong at the opening with buying more general.

Later weather reports denied, and the domestic demand is limited and values worked lower, gradually after the light offerings were absorbed.

Later weather reports demerit heavy damage by recent storms.

Wheat was early acted weak with limited buying. All attempts to rally market met with selling and proper taking caused reactions. Threating returns are promising and fear is expressed for the ripening grain.

July opened at 81½c and closed at 81¾c.

Corn opened lower with advises of better crop conditions and a much noted advance in the growing crop. Cash corn ruled slightly lower and was particularly dull with trading light. July corn advanced at one and closed at 67⅝c.

Primary wheat receipts were 394,000 bu. and shipments were 135,000 bu. against receipts last year of 890,000 bu. and shipments of 478,000 bu.

Corn receipts were 726,000 bu. and shipments were 622,000 bu. against receipts last year of 852,000 bu. and shipments of [illegible]

Clearances were 350 bu. of corn, twenty bu. of oats and wheat and flour equal to [illegible] bu.

Liverpool closed unchanged to ⅛d lower on wheat and ⅛ to ¼d higher on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, June 29.—Rains in Kansas and Indiana weekly statistics were chiefly responsible for the strong tone in the local wheat market today. At the close wheat for September delivery was up ⅝c; corn, ⅝@¾c higher; oats were a shade lower and provisions were 5c higher.

The wheat market was irregular, during the first half of the day, the July delivery being rather weak and the deferred futures rather firm. Several leaders of the local bulls were free buyers of the future deliveries early in the session, while longs sold free July. The demand for the September option at the start was due to additional rains in Kansas and to the bullish features of the weekly statistics. The amount of breadstuff on passage decreased 2,232,000 bushels, the visible supply decreased 1,558,000 bushels, and the world's shipments for the week were about 2,000,000 bushels less than for the corresponding week a year ago. Demand became more general late in the session which caused a much stronger feeling in all deliveries. Active cash trade for cash wheat through the country and small primary receipts helped to increase demand during the final hour. The market closed firm. September opened [illegible] higher at 85¼@85c, sold at [illegible] declined to 80¾c. The decline [illegible] sold between 80c and [illegible] closing at 80¾c. Clearances of wheat flour were equal to 422,800 bushels. [illegible] receipts were 394,000 bushels, with 850,000 bushels the same [illegible] Minneapolis, Duluth and [illegible] reported receipts of 239 cars, [illegible] cars last week and 589 cars a [illegible]

The market was inclined to be weak early in the day, because of selling based on reports from various sections of the corn belt, particularly in Illinois. The market, however, strong, with prices at almost at the top notch. September opened 1c lower at 68¾@68½c, sold up to 69c and then advanced to 69¾@69¾c, the top price was at 69¾@69¾c, July sold between 67½@68c and closed 69c. Local receipts were 261 cars, with thirty-five of contract grade.

Oats were easy at the start owing to more favorable weather conditions. During the last half of the day the market became firm in sympathy with wheat and corn. September opened a shade lower at 38¼@38½c and 38¾@38¾c; sold up to 38⅞@39c, and closed at 38¾c. July ranged between 44½@45c and closed at 45c. Local receipts were 135 cars.

Provisions were strong all day, because of active demand by local packers. The close was firm, with September pork up 5c, lard 2½c and ribs were each 5c higher at 9.35 and 9.50, respectively.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, [illegible] cars; corn, 377 cars; oats, 183 cars; hogs, 18,000 head.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Fair Tuesday and Not Much Change in Temperature.

OMAHA, June 29, 1908.

An area of high pressure, accompanied by fair weather, overlies the Missouri valley and northwest. The weather is showery and unsettled in the middle Mississippi and Ohio valleys and upper lake region. The western high will move over the central valleys during the next twenty-four hours and the weather will continue fair in this vicinity tonight and Tuesday, with no important change in temperature. The high wind and excessive rains of Saturday night were general throughout the lower Missouri valley and heavy rains occurred again last night at points in Kansas and Missouri.

Omaha record of temperature and precipitation compared with the corresponding day of the last three years:

	1908	1907	1906	1905
Minimum temperature	57	56	58	68
Precipitation	T	.56	T	T

Normal temperature for today, 75 degrees.

Excess in precipitation since March 1, 2.08 inches.

Deficiency corresponding period in 1907, 6.48 inches.

Deficiency corresponding period in 1906, 1.73 inches.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Market is Apathetic and Prices Drift Sluggishly.

UNDERTONE IS GENERALLY FIRM

Poor Showing of Present Conditions Unable to Shake Conviction that Better Times Are Ahead.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The stock market was apathetic today and the sluggish drift of prices represented nothing more substantial than the test operations of professionals. There was little to indicate any notable change in fundamental conditions. The present firm undertone of the market evidently is based on the convictions that improvement lies ahead and poor showing of present conditions seems not to have much effect in shaking this opinion. While securities are withheld from market because of this opinion, it does not stimulate demand for new holdings, even with the near approach of the semi-annual disbursements of probably $200,000,000 in New York and with an unsiedly surplus of banking reserves in the New York banks, which keep intrest rates at a level far below the rate of return on well secured share and bond issues, there is no symptom of the seasonable investment demand in the New York market.

There was a small engagement for gold for shipment to Germany today and Paris took practically all of the available supply of gold from the London market. These two sources of continued pressure for gold represent the only doubtful factors in the undeviating prospect of redundancy in the world's money market. London looks for a 2 per cent Bank of England rate during July and there is no apparent interruption of the inflow of currency from the country's active circulation into New York bank reserves.

Railroad earnings reports show no sign of the promised improvement in business, net earnings for May being poorer than those for April. Atchison returns made today improve the May average thus far shown, the gross decrease of $1,780,502 being cut down in the net return to a $529,147 loss by the curtailment of operating costs. This demonstration of the inefficiency of economies to overtake the fall in earnings of the railroads keeps attention centered on the problems of wage readjustments. The Washington estimates of $80,000,000 deficit in the governmental revenues for the fiscal year ending tomorrow point to the necessity of early withdrawal of government deposits from the national banks. This prospect receives small attention, however, in view of the bulk of the bank reserves and the wide margin of unemployed funds held by the banks. The crop news today was plentiful, but was so far balanced in its promise from different localities as to neutralize it as a stock market factor. Some of the demand which advanced prices as the day progressed was attributed to covering of shorts put out early last week.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,041,000. Unted States bonds were unchanged on call.
