

such a plank even if Mr. Bryan should... Until a caucus has been held by the New York delegation it cannot be said positively that Judge Parker will be the member of the committee on resolutions from the Empire state.

New Yorkers Not for Bryan. Neither Judge Parker nor Sheehan has made any effort to disguise the fact that they would prefer to have almost any democrat nominated for president than Mr. Bryan, but both denied that they had come to Deaver "with knives in their sleeves" for the Nebraska.

Judge Parker's disclaimer of having been involved in the preparation of an anti-Bryan program was in the form of a statement that he had not attended any conferences of any members of the New York delegation and that he had no part in the attention to convention arrangements that were expected to be arranged to come here after he had been elected as a delegate-at-large.

Anti-Bryan Alliance. The purpose of these conferences will be to ascertain what strength is possessed by the candidates opposed to Bryan and in the light of the showing made to analyze the situation throughout the country and determine whether it is possible to "keep away" from Mr. Bryan more than one-third of the votes of the convention, which it is necessary to do if his nomination is prevented.

PLAN POCKET FOR PARKER. Bryan Men Will Push Through Acceptable Cleveland Memorial. DENVER, Colo., July 3.—Alton B. Parker may be asked by Chairman Taggart of the national committee, to present to the convention resolutions on the death of Grover Cleveland.

Many resolutions on Mr. Cleveland are being drawn. It was stated that Mr. Bryan, himself, had set about the task. Roger C. Sullivan, the Chicago leader, admitted that he would draw the resolutions himself, and it was stated that Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, and Judge Wade of Iowa, were collaborating on the subject.

Chairman Taggart has not yet decided whom he will ask to introduce the resolution. It has been urged that the honor should go to a New York man and that Mr. Parker would have been the desirable person without question had he not precipitated the matter by the publication of his resolutions here.

of the convention, to keep secret the name of the person who will be called upon to present the resolution in the Bryan form. It will then be the duty of Temporary Chairman Hill to recognize this person immediately upon the conclusion of his opening address. The resolution will be presented and if possible voted through without opportunity for the submission of a substitute. There is no one here today authorized to discuss the plans of those behind the Parker resolution, in the event an attempt is made to "pocket" his resolution in the convention.

Clayton Arrives with OIL. Representative Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, who is slated for the permanent chairmanship of the national democratic convention, arrived here today, following a conference with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln yesterday. Like all the other leaders who have talked with Mr. Bryan en route to Denver, Mr. Clayton is confident of democratic victory next November. Mr. Bryan himself believes that the cause of democracy never had such a hold on the people as it has at the present time and he feels assured of the party's success.

The platform upon which the party will go before the country continues to form the main topic of discussion with all the leaders who stop off at Lincoln. It seems to be clearly settled that there shall be a clear and explicit pronouncement on the subject of injunctions involving labor disputes. Mr. Clayton said that the plank will be so drawn as to leave no room for doubt as to where the democratic party stands.

It was a mistaken idea, Mr. Clayton said, that the labor leaders are clamoring for a radical declaration which would, in effect, allow the party against the judiciary of the country. All they wanted was fair and reasonable legislation which will restore to them the right of notice in injunction proceedings which was provided for on the statute books for seventy years preceding the codification of the laws in 1828.

There is no question in his mind," said Mr. Clayton, "that the large majority of the labor organizations will be satisfied with the plank as it will be finally adopted by the convention." The negro question may come to the front in the convention. Report has reached Denver that Mr. Bryan would be pleased to see incorporated in the platform a rebuke to the administration for the dismissal of the colored troops on account of the Brownsville (Texas) affair and the southerners who are on the field are by no means friendly to the idea.

The prospective permanent chairman of the convention, Representative Henry D. Clayton of Alabama, got in before 9 o'clock this morning. He has been at Lincoln, conferring with Mr. Bryan, and indicated that he would give a premium for a nice, quiet place in which to write a ringing speech.

Later in the day, but not less in importance, came the New York train, which had been speeding west under the limelight since Wednesday. It brought the last democratic candidate for the presidency, Mr. Alton B. Parker, also Leader Murphy of Tennessee, as well as McCarron of Brooklyn, Francis Burton Harrison, and other notable of the New York democracy.

While the leaders of the party were detouring in Denver today, the delegates to the convention were enquiring for the journey in all sections of the country, the stream of arrivals from now on will be steady and increasing in volume. And as they come every hour through the electric arch of "Welcome" at the Union station, the new convention city and its citizens bear heavily. It has been decreed that all 1,200 seats in the convention hall can be allotted for local use.

There is one grief, however, which the citizens bear heavily. It has been decreed that all 1,200 seats in the convention hall can be allotted for local use. With four sessions of the convention in sight, this means that only 6,000 Denverites have a chance to witness the proceedings at any time.

was concerned he believed in a strong expression on the question of the writ of injunction. "The talk of attacking the courts," he said, "they reason erroneously. An injunction plank is no attack on the courts, and I should not regard the matter from that point of view. It is right and whatever is right will win."

Asks from the question of who shall be the standard bearer of the democratic party next November, interest today centered in the chairmanship of the democratic national committee. Although but one delegation has perfected its organization, that of Utah, and the membership of the new national committee is as yet unknown, as the contest for the chairmanship began today in earnest.

While Mr. Campau's friends have become active, the adherents of Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland are exerting themselves in his behalf, and they made it known today that they would bend every effort to secure for the mayor of Cleveland the coveted place. So far the contest seems to lie between these two men, and the outcome is being watched with the keenest interest.

Ohio Democrats Are Seeking a Place on Committee. COLUMBUS, O., July 2.—W. L. Finley, head of the democratic state executive committee, and his followers are plotting to defeat Tom L. Johnson, mayor of Cleveland, in his efforts for re-election as the Ohio member of the national committee.

He has not changed his mind about his candidacy. DENVER, Colo., July 3.—Some of the immediate followers of Judge Gray of Delaware have wired him requesting permission for the use of his name for the vice presidency. They admit that they do not expect a favorable response and say this move will not hinder them to press the judge for first place.

man, though with a promise not to use names, some of the delegates have been brave enough to express an occasional thought not first expressed by the Fairview dictator. I. J. Dunne came in yesterday afternoon for a few hours and had a talk with the peerless one about that nominating speech. "Don't quote me on anything," was all he would say as he made a rush for his train, either to go to Omaha or Denver. He had all the appearance of a man who has had a copy taken of his speech.

DELEGATES BEGIN TO SWARM IN Denver is Doing Its Best to Make Everybody Welcome. DENVER, July 2.—This is the first of the "arrival days" for the democratic national convention—Monday will be the last. Then the performers for the "big show" will be here and places to eat and sleep will be as scarce and valuable as tickets for the residents of Denver to the convention hall.

Southern Democrats Will Pay Respects to Mr. Bryan. DENVER, July 2.—The advance representative of the Oklahoma delegation has arrived in the person of Richard A. Billups, national committeeman from that state, and member of the state senate. Mr. Billups, who is 28 years of age, probably is the youngest member of the national committee ever chosen.

Wisconsin Ready to Aid Bryan. Hopes to See No Obstacle Placed in His Pathway. DENVER, Colo., July 3.—Judge T. E. Ryan of Waukesha, Wis., national committeeman from that state, and one of the strong Bryan boomers, arrived from Lincoln this morning. Judge Ryan said that he could see nothing but the Nebraska in the presidential race.

Indiana Man Says He Will Not Push Himself. DENVER, July 3.—John W. Kern of Indiana, one of the men most prominently mentioned in connection with the democratic nomination for Lincoln today in company with several Indiana delegates. Mr. Kern denied explicitly that he was in any sense a candidate for the nomination for second place on the ticket.

thoroughly up to date on all questions of the day." Judge Ryan declined to say anything concerning the result of his conference with Mr. Bryan at Lincoln except to state that they were in perfect accord. The delegation from Wisconsin after a brief stop at Fairview, will reach Denver the first of the week.

BURROWS WILL WITNESS CONTEST He Will Be Spectator at Denver, as May Mrs. Alice Longworth. DENVER, Colo., July 3.—There will be many republican spectators at the convention and among them United States Senator Burrows of Michigan, who presided over the recent republican convention at Chicago. "I shall look on the proceedings of the democratic convention with much interest," he said, and added, "I have never had the pleasure of attending a national convention of any party other than my own."

Mr. Burrows has been since the Chicago convention the guest of Thomas F. Walsh at his country home near Denver. He pronounced the Denver convention hall one of the finest auditoriums he has ever seen. Among other visitors expected is Mrs. Alice Roosevelt-Longworth, who, having witnessed the proceedings of the republican convention, has expressed a desire to attend the democratic meeting also. She and her fair sex visitors from outside states will receive marked attention from the ladies of Denver. The Jane Jefferson club of which Mrs. Ruth Bryan-Leavitt, daughter of Hon. W. J. Bryan, is president, is preparing elaborate headquarters at which refreshments will be provided and refreshments served, and other organizations will follow suit. The ladies of Colorado will seize the opportunity afforded by the convention to spread the equal suffrage propaganda among their sisters of other states by attempting to show that the franchise department has operated advantageously in this state.

Mrs. Leavitt is a resident of Colorado, and was at one time talked of as a delegate to the national convention. Mr. Bryan's daughter, Miss Grace, and his only son, William J. Bryan, jr., are in the state and will attend the convention. Colorado and Utah have each elected a woman delegate-at-large to the democratic national convention—Mrs. Mary C. Bradford of Denver, and Mrs. H. J. Hayward of Salt Lake City. As alternates, Sarah Ventress of Salt Lake City and Mrs. K. M. Cook of Brighton, Colo., have been chosen. Their votes will be the first to be cast by women in any national convention of democrats.

Mrs. Hayward has not reached the city, but Mrs. Bradford, who lives here, is taking an active interest in the convention. She is a widow and a grandmother, educated, experienced on the lecture platform and is a writer on labor problems. She has the distinction of being the first woman in the state to be nominated for state office—superintendent of schools.

Asked. "That is a contingency that I have not considered," he replied. "Will you permit the Indiana delegation to bring your name before the convention?" "I have not thought of it," was the reply. M'CLELLAN OPENS HEADQUARTERS New York's Mayor May Be a Candidate for Presidency. DENVER, Colo., July 3.—According to a placard posted in the hotel at an early hour today, George H. McClellan, mayor of New York, is a candidate and presumably for the presidency. The placard was not specific on that point, but merely announced that Mr. McClellan's headquarters were to be found at a certain apartment in the Brown Palace hotel. A hasty search failed to locate the sponsors of the boom, but New Yorkers who were seen professing ignorance as to any movement in Mr. McClellan's favor.
