BOOM IS STARTED FOR BELL

Talk of Placing Temporary Chairman in Second Place on the Ticket—Many Delegations Arrive.

DENVER, July 5.—The convention throngs have been pouring into the city by every train today. It has been a busy, boisterous Sunday, with bands escorting arriving delegations through the streets, with steadily swelling crowds in the hotel parlors and with leaders and delegates butting the new arrivals and holding private conferences on candidates and messages. Most of the leaders and more than half of the delegates are now here, and the use of humanity which comes to look on a city as it is now in full movement toward the city. The weather is almost perfect, warm but not unbearable, with a clear sky and a brisk mountain breeze, just the sort of weather to bring comfort to a convention. Many of the delegates have embraced the opportunity of a Sunday lull for a trip to the nearby Rockies, others have enjoyed the more exciting diversion of tournaments where the broncho busters are presenting a picture of real western life.

Auditorium is Opened. Tonight the crowds are turning to the splendid Auditorium, where the convention will be held. The vast amphitheater is lighted and open to the public for the first time for a band concert, and the brilliant scene within the enclosure, hung with flags and packed to its full capacity suggests the throngs which will soon gather for the convention struggle. A unique feature of the evening is the appearance of Charles A. Towne of New York, one of the leading vice presidential candidates. While these outward evidences of activities have a definite and formidable movement, but their best efforts, begun yesterday, have not been entirely successful. Chief Murphy of Tammany, on whom the hopes of the "allies" have been centered, will give no sign committing his forces against Bryan. He also showed a politician for that, when the life seems to be setting toward Bryan, and the contrary, his lieutenants are passing the word around today that New York's vote will be for Bryan. However, the allied opposition still contend that the fight will be continued.

Dahlman Talks for Bryan. The Bryan managers have at no time shown any nervousness over the record of the allied opposition, and today Mayor Dahlman of Omaha, one of the Bryan chiefs, made a very definite statement showing the expectations of the Bryan forces. He expressed his views as follows: "Mr. Bryan will be nominated on the first ballot. The Bryan forces now control thirty-six delegations, and in my opinion, at least, that many members of the committee on resolutions and probably more.

The platform adopted will be in accordance with Mr. Bryan's personal views and will express his well known ideas on all of the important political issues. "Governor Charles Haskell of Oklahoma is now regarded as the leading candidate for the chairmanship of the committee on resolutions, but there are many other prominent men being mentioned for the place. It is needless to say that a Bryan man will be chosen.

"The vice presidential question may be described as settling toward Bryan, and all themselves the old guard can unite in a strong eastern democrat the Bryan men will not show curiosity as to the attitude of their candidate toward Mr. Bryan in 1896 and 1900. If the eastern democrats fall to get together on a man we will make a selection from a hundred available candidates, any one of whom would be satisfactory to Mr. Bryan."

Good Seats in Handwagon. All of the Bryan men express the utmost confidence in their ability to carry out the program outlined by Mayor Dahlman. Charles W. Bryan, the brother of the Nebraska candidate, is looking after the Bryan leaders as they arrive and is making the completions of Bryan strength. He said: "Although we already have more than enough to carry out our program there are still good seats on the band wagon."

The arrival of delegations began early this morning and has been going on steadily all day, by all routes, from all directions and by regular and special trains. One route reports twenty-seven trains, stalling the lines up from Kansas City and all the other lines are equally clogged with the tide of travel. The local committee started an elaborate plan of reception today with relays of brass bands, which welcomed each incoming delegation and escorted it to the hotel, while "band cars" were run over the street car lines giving street concerts. Among the morning arrivals were the Cook County marching club, uniformed and hilarious, with trim black suits, shining silk ties and ratty caps topped with streamers. After these came the rough and ready Oklahoma train products, with the bell, with broad-brimmed sombreros, high boots and the stain of travel. Delegations from Florida, Alabama and Iowa filed through the streets during the morning and later came delegations from South Dakota, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky and Minnesota. The Tammany brasses on several special trains, were anxiously awaited, but word came that they stopped off at Omaha to go to church. They will be here early tomorrow, about the time that Bryan's home cohorts arrive from Nebraska, including the crack organization from Lincoln, the Commercial Travelers' club, which is coming of "and vengeance to the Bryan demonstration.

FOURTH JULY CASUALTIES

Three Died from Explosives Are Reported in New York and Six in St. Louis.

CHICAGO, July 5.—Three persons were killed, at least five others were probably fatally injured and nearly 100 were more or less seriously hurt in Fourth of July accidents in Chicago yesterday. From midnight Friday to midnight Saturday 101 accidents were reported to the police of Chicago and its suburbs. Three of these resulted fatally, the dead being:

JOHN F. HOFFELDT, 35 years old, manufacturer of patent medicine, killed when crushed in a machine while making a "devil's powder" of potato and sulphur exploded, driving portions of the vessel into his abdomen.

INADOR MONARK, 4 years old, fatally wounded by stray bullet, and died in a hospital.

CHESLER GANNON, 11 years old, decapitated by the explosion of a large charge of powder which he was ramming into a jack-work with a loaded torpedo cane.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The Fourth of July celebration here today was the noisiest in the city's history. Fortunately the death list was not as large as on some previous years. Six deaths were reported and there were 200 persons injured by 8 o'clock. Hospitals and Board of Health stations were filled with patients all day. A number of the injured were so seriously hurt that they may die.

Police restrictions regarding the use of cannon crackers and firearms were not heeded by most of the celebrators and there were many arrests. The police courts had long lines of prisoners and not a few of the breakers were meted out severe punishment. The necessity of barring the use of firearms was apparent early in the day. A youth who took advantage of the liberty of the day to practice shooting at a paper target shot and killed his sister.

ST. LOUIS, July 5.—Up to midnight 130 persons had been injured in St. Louis as the result of celebrating Independence day. The list showing this total was prepared from reports from the various dispensaries and includes only the injuries requiring anti-toxin treatment.

No deaths due directly to celebrating were reported today. Six fatalities have been reported, however, resulting from holiday outings and games.

NINE BALLOONS START IN RACE

Big Gasbags Cross Lake Michigan in Northeastern Direction.

CHICAGO, July 4.—Nine of the ten balloons entered in the Chicago-to-ocean race left here late this afternoon. The start, originally scheduled for 3:30 o'clock, was delayed to such an extent that the first balloon, the "Plover," did not get off its moorings until two hours and fourteen minutes after the scheduled time. The others arose at irregular intervals, the last to get away, the mammoth "Chicago" of 10,000 cubic feet, leading at 7:50 when night was already fast.

The start was a grand affair, with scores of thousands of spectators. When the "Cincinnati" left the grounds, its pilots, Leslie Haddock and George Howard, failed to calculate accurately their distance from a mass of electric light and telegraph wires strung across the water, and their basket became entangled in the obstacle. A warning shout from the spectators gave them their first notice of danger. Both men leaped over the edge of the car and grasped the wires. Howard fell back and the basket, which had been seriously shaken, as Haddock succeeded in clearing the car, Howard again came into view and waved his hand to the crowd, being apparently uninjured. The balloon "I Will" did not start. The bag showed several defects when it was inflated for a trial flight several days ago, and H. Perrigo of Chicago, its owner, was unable to obtain the necessary repairs in time. He called the "Illinois," taking the place of E. Gregory, who had been scheduled to accompany J. F. Case in that balloon.

All the balloons took a northeasterly course from this city, sailing out over Lake Michigan, where they were lost to view in the evening mist.

LAKESIDE CLUB HAS OPENING

Colored People Have Happy Time in Dedicated Their New Resort.

The formal opening of the Lakeside club, an organization of colored people with grounds near Courtland Beach, took place yesterday with a celebration of the Fourth. The club grounds were open all day and evening. During the day there were tennis and croquet contests, races for men and women and other outdoor "stunts." Swings and hammocks under the trees afforded means of rest and recreation. At the rathskeller light refreshments were served and the billiard rooms were well patronized.

In the evening the grounds were illuminated and dancing and music by Desdune's orchestra were the principal features of the entertainment.

POTTER STILL IMPROVING

Morning Bulletin Says Prospects for Bishop's Recovery Are Favorable.

COOPERSTOWN, N. Y., July 5.—This morning's bulletin on the condition of Bishop Potter was as follows: The improvement in Bishop Potter's condition continues. Respiration, 18; pulse, 96; temperature, 99. He had a pretty comfortable night and is resting quietly at the present time and the indications point to still more improvement. Dr. Bassett's hearty co-operation in carrying out the treatment has been most valuable, and at my suggestion yesterday afternoon Dr. Henry Han of Albany came in consultation and approving the treatment in every particular, expressed a decided hope for a favorable issue of the case.

FOLK AND FRANCIS AT FAIRVIEW

Governor and Ex-Governor of Missouri Call on Mr. Bryan—Buttermilk is Served to Indiana Delegation.

LINCOLN, July 5.—(Special Telegram.)

Compared with his Saturday, Mr. Bryan's Sunday was a quiet day, though several delegations called at Fairview. There was no music and no speech-making. Mr. Bryan contenting himself with shaking hands with his visitors. Among the prominent callers were Governor Folk and ex-Governor Francis of Missouri, Governor Higgins of Rhode Island, ex-Governor Peck of Wisconsin and Mayor Rose of Milwaukee.

Governor Sheldon shared with Mr. Bryan the honors of the day, all of the governors calling at the executive mansion with Mayor Brown to pay their respects to Nebraska's chief executive. Governor Sheldon came to the train with Governor Francis at 1 o'clock and remained until the Roger Sullivan special pulled out. Mr. Bryan also came to the depot to see the bunch on this special, incidentally speaking of Roger Sullivan, when Judge Thompson and Millard Dunlap, who have been at Fairview for the last four days, left tonight, they gave out the impression in their talks that Sullivan would not be re-elected to membership on the national committee. They are from Illinois and, having been Bryan's guests, they are suspected of knowing whereof they speak.

While no one has been furnished advance copies of the platform, there is no doubt that a tentative draft has been drawn, as Governor Folk said he and Mr. Bryan discussed the tentative draft and both agreed absolutely that income tax, finance and tariff would be the strong planks, and on these planks the fight would be made this fall. Governor Folk would not be specific regarding the planks, however.

Governor Francis was too fussy to say anything of importance other than this: "I am not a candidate for vice president or for chairman of the national committee; however, I cannot say I will not accept that which has not been offered to me." Then he began to talk about the value of farm lands he owns in St. Louis.

Buttermilk for Hoosiers. To his guests from Indiana today Mr. Bryan served buttermilk. This was the result of a visit he made to Indianapolis some time ago. At that time he told J. E. Hallett, president of the Indiana Democracy club, when the club came to Fairview he would serve buttermilk, the national drink of Indiana. Today he was reminded of that promise by a telegram from Mr. Hallett and five large cans of buttermilk were sitting out in the yard when the delegation reached Fairview.

Herbert H. Manson of Wisconsin came along with that delegation to pour into the ears of the candidate the facts regarding Timothy Ryan, whom he hopes to depose as national committeeman.

The entire Wisconsin delegation, he said, was for Bryan. P. H. Dunn of Maine, who was a guest of the Rhode Island contingent, said Maine's votes were equally divided for and against Mr. Bryan, but that the opponents of Bryan would be scared into the band wagon before the roll is called. Tom McManamy, secretary to former Senator Spooner, was in the Wisconsin bunch.

Some energetic democrat today hung a large painting of Bryan on a large building near the Burlington depot. A number of visitors failed to recognize it and several asked the painter to show him a picture of James Sherman, among this number being Governor Sheldon.

All for Bryan But Ridden. At the end of three days of visitation of outside delegates the net result of their levings is that Mr. Bryan will be the whole thing at Denver. Not a single delegate, except Herman Ridder, has said a word against the candidacy of Bryan and not one had crossed him in his well known views on the platform with the possible exception of Tom Johnson, who wouldn't talk about it. The delegates that have been here represent the majority of the convention and they have left the impression by what they said in Bryan can name the vice president write the platform and select the national chairman. A big bunch of Lincolnites left tonight for Denver.

That Injunction Plank.

Here is a plank drawn by former Mayor Dunne of Chicago and which he will present to the Denver convention. He says Bryan requests his membership in the committee on resolutions. It is believed, therefore, his plank meets Bryan's approval. The right of a court of chancery where property rights are involved to interfere and restrict the state in between its grants is unquestioned, but no such writ should be granted, without notice, except where it is clearly made to appear that irreparable injury will result unless the injunction is granted. In such cases, notice, and in such cases the motion to dissolve such injunction shall take precedence of all other motions, and shall be heard and determined before any other motion is heard. In all cases where injunctions are issued, the court shall be satisfied that the plaintiff shall be exonerated of all costs and expenses incurred in moving to dissolve said writ. In all proceedings for the enforcement of an injunction, enjoining the commission of any act, such as the common law, or by statute, the court shall not be committed in the presence of the court. The court shall be satisfied that the plaintiff shall be exonerated of all costs and expenses incurred in moving to dissolve said writ. In all proceedings for the enforcement of an injunction, enjoining the commission of any act, such as the common law, or by statute, the court shall not be committed in the presence of the court. The court shall be satisfied that the plaintiff shall be exonerated of all costs and expenses incurred in moving to dissolve said writ.

Flight of the Faithful.

Seventeen trainloads of democrats going to the Denver convention, by way of Fairview—all except Tammany—poured through Omaha yesterday, beginning early in the morning and continuing until midnight Tammany Hall, in four large trains of Pullmans and baggage cars, had the largest single party and spent the longest time in the city.

During the stay in Omaha the delegates and "chiefs" from New York City spent a quiet Sabbath morning. No "hymns" sung; no "anvil" beat, but the members of Tammany went immediately to the Catholic churches of the city, as J. J. Murphy, brother of Boss Murphy, remarked. "The Lord is on our side, but we see no good excuse for exasperating the devil by allowing him to find it out." A large number of the delegates attended the services at St. Mary Magdalene church, Nineteenth and Dodge streets, where on orders of J. J. Murphy, each delegate received a gold piece.

Only a few Dahlman democrats met the Tammany specials, which were advertised to arrive at 10 o'clock, but came in ahead of time over the Milwaukee and St. Paul, Rock Island and Northwestern lines. Some of the delegates spent two hours at the Dahlman club and others who did not care to go to church were given a whirl about the city in automobiles.

Not Zealous for Bryan.

Tammany was not very enthusiastic about Bryan or anyone else. Only small badges told that they were going to a national convention of their party. No banners decorated the cars; no portraits of the peerless one filled the windows. The 60 seemed like those who had marched into the valley of death too many times to care who they marched there again, or for or like a hungry horde of followers whose hearts have been sickened by the hopeless tedium of unpromising delay.

The delegates did not even regard each other gingerly and those on one section did not know nor care who was on the others. They knew Big Tim Sullivan, Judge J. Walsh and J. J. Murphy were with the party.

Chanler Out of the Race.

W. B. Murphy, chief secretary to Lieutenant Governor Chanler, said he knew that Mr. Chanler was out of the race for the vice presidency.

The lieutenant governor told me before I left that he was not to be considered as a candidate in any sense, said Mr. Murphy. "The lieutenant governor has prominently mentioned for the vice presidency, but as a matter of fact he is to be the next nominee of the party for governor of New York and he will be elected."

"With Chanler at the head of the state ticket New York will go democratic just as Chicago is a very strong man in the Empire state."

"In New York William J. Bryan is stronger than ever. He is sure of New York against Taft and Sherman. No one thinks anything of Jim Sherman back in New York."

The New York situation, which "will be one of the hardest nuts to crack at Denver," was not a popular topic of conversation with the Tammy delegation. Neither J. J. Murphy, brother of Charles F. Murphy, nor Morris Featherstone, Murphy's opponent, cared to discuss the situation. Senator James F. Crowley and Senator John Cochran said the little difficulty which Tammany has on with Brooklyn would be settled without trouble, and they had nothing further to say.

Brother of Boss Noncommittal.

"I have nothing to say about the assertions of the members of the McCarran bunch that they will knife Bryan if Bryan takes up with what most people call the Murphy crowd," said J. J. Murphy. "I have not the authority to speak on any subject. I am not a member of the party. Tammany has on with Bryan, but I am not here to say anything one way or another. Bryan may also carry New York, but I am not New York and know nothing about it."

The New York delegates had no intention of stopping at Fairview. They desired to hasten on to Denver, where the big New York caucus is to be held Monday, where the plan seems to be to agree on Bryan, patch up a platform, nominate Judge Gaynor of Brooklyn for vice president in order to offset the injury which Tammany will do his borough by throwing out Pat McCarran and his delegates, and it may be a high proportion of my supporters for the sake of Tammany politics, that Alton B. Parker will be nominated, as the Tammany delegates who stumped in Omaha Sunday regarded the former candidate as a mere dot which marks the close of a chapter.

DEMOCRATS CHEER AT DEPOT

Travel in Special Car with Mr. and Mrs. Medill McCormick.

WILL VISIT YELLOWSTONE PARK

"I Have No Ticket to the Convention and Don't Know Where I Will Get One," Says Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

"Three cheers for 'Nick Longworth'!" "Three cheers for Mrs. Longworth!" "Three cheers for the president of the United States!" "Three cheers for the next president of the United States!" "All of which were given with a vengeance, and with the exclamation 'Bryan' ringing in the last round. This is what Congressman Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, bumped into when he got mixed up with the Michigan delegates to the Denver convention at Union station in Omaha yesterday afternoon.

After the democrats got through cheering for him they called for a speech, to which the congressman was compelled to respond in a few words in which he told them that he was for Bryan—the nomination—just as much as you are."

Mr. and Mrs. Longworth spent an hour in Omaha Sunday, enroute to the national democratic convention in Denver, where they are going as the guests of Medill McCormick.

"We are really going to the Yellowstone country for an outing," said Mr. Longworth. "But we will stop in Denver for the convention. I don't believe it will be a very long stay, however, as it seems to me the convention will be short—looks as though it was all fixed up. "But, of course, we are all interested in the Denver convention. No, I have not got any tickets to any part of the convention. I don't know where I will get them, either."

Those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, Medill McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, and Mrs. McCormick; Miss Robinson of New York City, Tiffany Blake, W. B. Conner, George Porter and H. M. Parker of Chicago, and Norman Haggood, editor of Collier's Weekly.

The party is traveling in the private car "Constitution," and arrived in Omaha on the Northwestern train at 3:40. The train was delayed at the bridge, but when it pulled down under the trainshed and word was passed around among the hundreds of democrats at Union station that President Roosevelt's daughter was in the "Constitution" the car was surrounded. The Michigan delegation was the first to discover the Longworth party, but before the democrats learned that a greater attraction than their delegation had arrived, Mrs. Longworth had strolled with members of the party almost the entire length of the platform in the hope of getting a little fresh air, as the temperature was 86 in the car.

Sure for Taft. That there may be no mistake about her preference in the matter Mrs. Longworth pinned a white ribbon on her shirt waist bearing in large letters the word "Taft." The entire party left Omaha wearing the Omaha buttons in Ak-Sar-Ben colors which were distributed by members of the democratic reception committee who planned them on every visitor at Union station.

Mrs. Longworth wore a shirt waist of white and lavender, with a brown traveling skirt, tan shoes and a chain of jewels around her neck. Her hair was dressed loosely at the back of her head and tied with a black ribbon.

Mr. McCormick, who was formerly Miss Ruth Hanna, daughter of the late Senator Mark Hanna, was also halless in a white shirt waist and a chain of jewels around her neck. Her hair was dressed loosely at the back of her head and tied with a black ribbon.
