

MAYOR JIM IN SPOTLIGHT

Proposes to Stay There Until His Gubernatorial Boom is Launched.

WHOLE SHOW AMONG NEBRASKANS

Mayor Brown Attracts Attention for a Time Until He Convinced Crowd He Did Not Have Bryan's Draft of Platform.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DENVER, Colo., July 7.—(Special Telegram)—The Dahlgren gubernatorial boom will be about the only really new thing in sight at Denver.

Far be it from Mayor Jim to overlook a bit of that kind. When the Dahlgren boom arrives on the scene Tuesday morning they will march to the Brown Palace hotel where they will be greeted by Mayor Jim, who has had his hair freshly cut for the occasion.

Former Congressman Shallenberger of Alma is here apparently unimpaired of the program that has been planned for making Dahlgren's candidacy a national issue.

Really Dahlgren is representing the Nebraska democracy at Denver. There are a few hundred others here, but they do not seem to know, and none of them appear to care, where they are going, or why they are here.

There are some Jacobsonians here, leading a very virtuous and painlessly lonely existence. John Powers, Bob Altonchison, Frank E. P. Fry, and a few other Jacobsonians are around the tables, each one looking as happy as though he had found a wasp in his pocket.

There was a real genuine demand today for Mayor Brown of Lincoln. He was credited with being the captain of the messenger boys and charged with the duty of delivering the platform prepared at Fairview.

As a matter of fact, some forty-six states, a few territories and some insular possessions are going to have a hand in selecting the candidates to be whipped by Tati and Sherman in November, but up to date it is a Nebraska convention.

Henry C. Richmond, late editor of the Fremont Herald, has been appointed assistant secretary of the convention and will be connected with the national committee during the campaign.

Frank T. Ryan came out from Omaha with the hope of meeting a "bunch of silver republicans." He was much discouraged to find that silver republicans are now gone in single file and very far apart.

Fred McConnell of Omaha is here on business and taking a look in Edson Hill, general counsel of the Union Pacific; Lee Tom Nolan, Ed E. Howard, and Frank Johnson of Omaha are among the spectators.

With the arrival of any Nebraska proposition the delegation from Nebraska is complete, most of the others coming in on a special with the Third district crowd.

The delegates-at-large, J. J. Dunn of Omaha, Mayor P. M. Brown of Lincoln, F. J. Hale of Atkinson and J. H. Moorhead of Falls City, are at the Brown, the others being scattered or scattering. They are: Second district, George Rogers of Omaha and Dr. W. J. McCann of South Omaha; Third district, W. A. Smith of Beemer and Phil A. Kohl of Wayne; Fourth district, J. O. Girkle of Seward and Bart Koehler of Geneva; Fifth district, C. P. Harmon of Holdrege and B. F. Scroggins of Oak; Sixth district, A. M. Mortisey of Valentine and J. R. Swan of Greeley.

Arthur Mullen of O'Neill, president of the Bryan Volunteers, is on the ground and dividing honors with Dr. Hall of Lincoln in being host to the Nebraska delegates.

Question Now Goes to the District Court for Settlement. FORT DODGE, Ia., July 6.—(Special Telegram)—Judge Wright today issued a writ of certiorari applied for by Congressman I. A. T. Hull against the board of supervisors of Story county acting as a board of canvassers of the primary election returns of June 2.

Social Happenings

Both stands are well taken. Now if our friends whose profession allows them to put the finishing touches to our early appearance will just shut down on the antiquated custom of printing cards of thanks in the newspapers we will all sing their praises.—Tecumseh Chieftain.

A Bit of Advice

At a recent meeting of the undertakers of Nebraska, held in Lincoln, a number of the delegates expressed themselves as strongly opposed to the custom of opening caskets in churches or elsewhere for the gaze of a morbidly curious multitude.

For prefacing his remarks with a profane appellation when commanding his dog to get off his newly laid cement walk August Hanson was made to pay a fine of $3.00 Monday afternoon.

Fish Story—A farmer in this locality was seeking through his meadow last week when he was attacked by an enormous catfish, which sprang from behind a haystack, where it had been hiding, and caught him by the arm.

Inspiration—Since it has been decided to purchase a quantity of printing material for the use of the convicts in the state penitentiary the one who addressed the governor in poetry pleading for a pardon should reconsider and remain where he is.

Our Chef Cooks for Her

Let us cook some of your summer meals while you rest in the breeze. We will cook them better than you can, because we have better facilities. We will send the meals to you ready to serve—delicious, fresh and appetizing. And we'll serve them more cheaply than you can, by far.

Pork and beans and tomato sauce—all baked together—baked in the Van Camp way.

We have made this dainty dish—after 47 years of experience—the daintiest dish on the table.

If you have used Van Camp's—as millions have—we have nothing farther to say. You are using them still, and will use them always. You never will buy any others.

But, if you haven't tried Van Camp's please let us tell you something very good that you've missed.

Michigan beans, picked over by hand. The whitest, plumpest, fullest-grown

We buy only the choicest Michigan beans, grown on a soil rich in nitrogen.

Then these choice beans are picked over by hand, so all but the best are discarded. That is why our beans are so perfect, so full-grown, so uniform in size.

Sometimes we pay, to get such beans, eight and nine times what other beans would cost. But we always demand, and always get, this highest grade of bean, no matter what the price is.

The immense popularity of Van Camp's is due, in large part, to those beans.

Our tomatoes are all vine-ripened, and our sauce has a sparkling zest

You have eaten sauce made from tomatoes picked green, and ripened in shipment. You found it was flat.

You have eaten sauce made of scraps from a canning factory, and you found it lacked richness.

Our sauce is made solely from vine-ripened tomatoes, picked when the juice fairly sparkles.

We spend to make it five times what common sauce is sold for. But the result a savor, a superlative zest, which Nature alone can give.

That is the sauce which we bake into our beans, so that it goes clear through.

Our ovens are heated to 245 degrees. That's why our beans are digestible

Home-baked are heavy and hard to digest. They ferment and form gas. It is simply for lack of heat.

We apply to every bean more than twice the heat that gets to the center of your baking dish. The particles are separated so the digestive juices can get to them. Our beans digest completely.

Then we bake in live steam—not in dry heat. None of our beans are crisped, none are broken.

All are baked alike—all baked until they are mealy. Yet they are nutty because they are whole.

There is no need to have beans that are mushy and broken. People don't like them that way. Learn how different beans are when baked in the Van Camp way.

Beans are Nature's choicest food—84% nutriment. They give you more food value than meat, pound for pound. Yet they cost but a fraction as much.

They are delicious and appetizing; all people like them. You can serve them daily, without tiring your people, if you serve Van Camp's.

There is no food more nourishing, no food that is cheaper, no food better cooked.

It pays to get the best beans—the beans that your people like. Then serve them in place of meat.

Keep a dozen cans in the house—a delicious meal is then always ready

No matter what you do in winter, you surely don't want to bake beans in summer. Let us do the baking now.

Each can of Van Camp's means a meal always waiting. A meal without labor, a meal without heat.

But don't get the wrong beans. Don't let someone argue, "My beans are as good as Van Camp's."

No other beans can compare with Van Camp's, and millions of people already know it. That's why we bake more beans than any other concern in the world.

You will know the difference when you try Van Camp's. We shall not need to remind you again.

Three sizes: 10, 15 and 20 cents per can.
