NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Moved to Advance Prices Makes Material Progress.

MOVEMENT IS INTERMITTENT

Reactions on Realizing Sales Stopped by Buying Rally—Strength in Certain Issues Affects Entire List.

NEW YORK, July 8.—The movement to advance prices of stocks made material progress today, although the rise was not uninterrupted and was not free from some important fluctuations.

The advance was particularly noticeable in the case of the steel stocks, where the movement was practically dormant.

The decline and the running out of selling orders brought the reactions continually to a pause, through in part the effect of a movement in railroad stocks was due to the desire to await the appearance of the government report on the grain crop.

The movement in railroad stocks was due to the desire to await the appearance of the government report on the grain crop, which did not appear until 2 o'clock.

The favorable interpretation placed on the outlook for corn was visible in the special stratum of railroads which carry much of that crop, as well as in the weakness in the price of that grain.
