WESTERN AMATEUR GOLFERS

Great Tournament on Arsenal Club Links on Tap.

CRACKS READY TO START MONDAY

Hotels at Tri-Cities Filled with Enthusiasts Who Will Tee Off in What Looks Like a Great Meet.

DAVENPORT, Ia., July 11.—The greatest assemblage of western golfers that ever gathered for a championship tournament fills the hotels of Davenport, and of Rock Island and Moline, Ill., and between 100 and 200 of them will tee off Monday morning on the Rock Island Arsenal golf course, to decide another western amateur championship.

The course of the Arsenal club lies on a beautiful island in the Mississippi river, between the three cities named, and the visitors who played in the Olympic cup contest today, or followed the players around in the gallery, conceded that there is something in the local claim that it is the most beautiful course in the country. It has the unusual and distinguished feature that a fine roadway skirts every link, enabling spectators in carriages and automobiles to follow the entire course, from the first tee to the eighteenth green. This permitted so large a gallery that it was somewhat disconcerting to the players in the Transmississippi championship.

Ever since Thursday the links have been thronged by visitors who will take part in next week's tournament. Warren K. Wood of the Homewood club, Chicago, was the first to register, Thursday morning, and next were Robert B. Hunter and Kenneth Edwards of Midlothian, Ned Sawyer was on the course soon afterward. The four were the western association team entry for the Midlothian cup, and evidently intended to be thoroughly familiar with the course before today's contest for the cup. The Arsenal club has made every preparation for turning over to the western association a perfect course. Tom Bengelow, golf expert for A. G. Spalding, is here to conduct the tournament, and there is no question of its being run off with the army-like precision that marked the Transmississippi last year.

The Arsenal club has a magnificent clubhouse. Its course is 6,164 yards in length, with a bogey of 81 for the 18 holes. It was recently negotiated in 72 by "Sandy" Baxter, the professional in charge of the links. During the coming week it will be the scene of some of the best golf that has been played in the west, and the tournament, at all appearances, will be run under ideal conditions.

HARVARD MAY MEET CAMBRIDGE

Proposal for an International Boat Race in September. BOSTON, Mass., July 11.—The Harvard crew is willing to row the Cambridge eight in England next September. The Harvard men are sounding the feeling of the Englishmen on the subject. Several good friends of Harvard graduates have undertaken to see some of the rowing authorities at Cambridge to ascertain with how much favor Cambridge views the proposition. Until this informal expression of sentiment is secured, no further move will be made by the Harvard crew or by any of the Harvard graduates.

The Cambridge crew is practically the same as that which rowed Harvard two years ago, with such disastrous results to Harvard. Stewart, who stroked Cambridge at that time, is still stroke oar. The Cambridge oarsmen, although their annual race with Oxford in April, are still in training, but the Harvard men have scattered.

COLOR LINE MAY AFFECT PUGILISM

Whites and Blacks May Have Clash to Themselves. NEW YORK, July 11.—Fighters continue to draw the color line it will only be a question of time when the colored pugilists will either be compelled to fight men of their own color or quit the ring forever. In the last twelve months a great many white pugilists have openly declared that they would never meet a colored boxer, no matter how big a purse was offered for the battle. The latest fighter to draw the color line is Stanley Ketchel, the middle-weight champion of the world. Ketchel was offered a fight with Sam Langford, the colored fighter of Boston, to be fought at Jim Coffroth's club at Colma, Cal., but as soon as he received the offer he wired back to Coffroth, stating that he would never fight a colored man.

JACK RABBIT RUN ON A TROLLEY

Deaunted Coursing Races Proposed by Utah Man. SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 11.—Coursing will become a sport that the most tender-hearted can approve if the plans of a Salt Lake syndicate are carried out. O. P. Smith, well known in Denver, and on the Pacific coast, has perfected and patented a substitute for the live rabbit used in contests of this character. It is a stuffed bunny which runs the length of the field on an underground trolley, finally to disappear through a hole like the ordinary escape. The slot used is so narrow that it will not embarrass the running greyhounds, and the speed of the rabbit can be regulated at will. The dogs run, necessarily, on a straight course, and will be scored for speed only.

OLD-TIMERS RIDE IN MATCH

Jockeys Past Three-Score Will Contest Once More. LONDON, July 11.—There is a suggestion of old times in the sporting match arranged to take place at Newmarket at one of the meetings this month when two veteran jockeys will ride, John Osborne, aged 73, and J. Butters, who is over 60. Lord Durham has matched his 3-year-old Miasmus against Mr. J. A. de Rothschild's Chimborazo, of the same age, Osborne rides for Lord Durham.

Both Osborne and Butters, who are trainers, ride regularly in exercise gallops, and they will provide an object lesson for the younger generation as to how jockeys rode several decades ago. Osborne rode the winner of the derby as far back as 1864, and the St. Leger in 1862.

JONES MAKES DECIDING RUN

Two-Bagger Is Followed by Vicker's Failure to Cover First on Isbell's Grounder and Dougherty's Fly.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—The Chicago Americans today played their second sixteen-inning game in successive days, winning. Jones scored the deciding run on his two-bagger, Vicker's failure to cover first on Isbell's grounder and Dougherty's sacrifice fly. Tannehill prevented the home team from at least tying the score in the sixteenth by getting a hot liner and completing a double play, ending the game. Vickers and Walsh had superb control. Score: CHICAGO, 1; PHILADELPHIA, 0.

DENVER SLUGGERS STRONG

All Their Hits for Extra Bases and Scoreless Are Filled Up.

DENVER, Colo., July 11.—Denver presented its full lineup today for the first time in weeks. The men did not make a single, each safety being for extra bases, and the three home runs following bases on balls or errors of the visitors. The Des Moines team is in a bad way, badly broken up by the number of men hurt. Oscar Higgins is here, and is using the wire in an endeavor to get good players from somewhere. A local man tried out at short today, fell down badly, but he was worth anything at bat and fielding poorly. Willie Moines hit the ball hard, the hits were not bunched, except in the second, when Nishoff's home run came with two on bases. Denver had just one man left on bases and that in the first inning. Score: DENVER, 3; DES MOINES, 0.

OMAHA WINS A GREAT GAME

Sanders Invincible and Team Supports Him in Grand Style.

AUTREY AND WELCH MAKE RUN

Fisher Pulls Off Spectacular Catch and Nearly Every Rounder Stars to Beat Lincoln, Playing Fast Itself.

Omaha, 1; Lincoln, 0. War Sanders was invincible and the entire Rourke family gave him good support, so Lincoln lost. The Green tribe was shut out yesterday by the score of 1 to 0 in one of the best games of ball ever seen on the Omaha grounds. The stellar features were numerous and the wobbles few. Harry Welch made the only error by misjudging a high fly and then not getting it back in time, but it did not matter in the score and he more than made up for it by taking five other chances and also by soaking the ball right on the nose for a double which won the game. Schoolmaster Jones and War Sanders were slated to do the throwing and the wise fans settled back for a pitchers' battle. They had one. It was a corker. Chicken Autrey drew the only passing, but Welch too stingy to hand out even one. Not a man was hit by a pitched ball and Lincoln made but four hits, while Omaha made five. One man was struck out by each of the twirlers. For the first three innings but three men to an inning faced the battling little fellows. Jones kept that record going for two more innings, but Welch dropped a fly and spoiled it for Sanders.

Autrey and Welch do it. It does not take long to tell how the only run of the game was made. Autrey made it in the seventh inning. King had popped a foul to Zinran, when Chicken smashed one so fast between Fox and Jack Thomas that neither could get his hands upon it. That was the start, and Dr. Harry Welch put the finishing touches upon the run by smashing a corker to the right center field fence. Not down the foul line, but ever Captain Fox's head and against the Walk-Over sign. There was no chance for the fleetfooted fielders of the Lincoln team to head off that ball and Chicken trotted home from first with ease. Welch took two on the stroke.

Of features the game had plenty. The first feature noticeable was the way the bases were guarded and the fatality which overcame a daring base runner who attempted to steal or even to move off to far. Jude was the first man up for Lincoln and he made a single. Old Foxy Fox sacrificed him, the only sacrifice hit to the bench. Austin beat out a slow infield hit in the fifth inning and was caught trying to steal second.

Fisher Makes Great Catch. Fisher showed himself the right man in the right place when he grabbed Fox's drive down the left field line. It looked for all the world like a two-sacker, but Fisher was on the job and pulled it down with his great hand, as pretty a catch as one would like to see. Captain Frank also made several bids for applause, once especially when he booted the ball and then ran it down, whirled and caught Zinran before he could reach first. Goding was not going to let the youngsters do all the stellar work, so he pulled a foul tip off the wire mating.

Sanders was at his best and the Green-backers were like putty in his hit. Four hits were recorded, but one of these fell between Frank and Welch and King and any one of the trio might have caught the ball. He pitched a perfect game and the fans felt safe as soon as Omaha had two men over on base when Jude drove the ball clear to the fence, but Bill ran back, leaped against the fence and caught it. The same teams this afternoon.
