WATER QUESTION UP AGAIN Two Weeks Given Old Company to $71 in checks.

Accept City Offer Has Expired. NO ANSWER RECEIVED AS YET

Committee Likely to Recommend Ac ceptance of the Wickham Bid at the Meeting of the City Council Tonight.

The water works matter is scheduled for another round at the meeting of the city council tonight. The two weeks given the Council Bluffs City Water Works company which to accept or reject the proposition of the special committee, of which Councilman Jensen is chairman, that it sell its plant to the city for $350,000, or something less than half what the company considers its value, expires today. Up to last night, it is understood, the water works company had not notified the committee whether it intended accepting the offer or not. Chairman Jensen said last evening: "We have not had a word from the company yet. If we do not get a reply by noon Monday the committee will prepare a report and submit it to the council Monday night. As street, matters now stand, the committee will in all probability recommend that the council take immediate action in approving the contract with E. A. Wickham for the construction of

Mr. Beilinger is of the opinion that it would do no harm to await the report of the special committee of business men now investigating the water works question before proceeding further. "This is a nonpartisan committee and its conclusions ought to be free from bias or prejudice," said the councilman from the Sixth ward. In connection with the water works controversy in this city, attention has been postponed for one week. The girls' sewtroversy in this city, attention has been called to an article in the current issue of the National Magazine, by W. C. Jenkins. The article in question is one of a series by Mr. Jenkins, under the general subject.

"Problems in Municipal Economics." In the July article the writer tells of conditions in Omaha, Denver and Council Bluffs, and devotes considerable attention to what the terms "The Waterworks Controversy in Council Bluffs."

Owing to the fact that members of a family belonging to the congregation are quarantined for smallopx, no services were held yesterday at the Peoples' Christian church. Broadway and Thirty-fifth street, and the building is being given a thorough process of fumigation and disinfection. No services or meetings will be held in the church before next Sunday. Council Bluffs."

After giving the history of the controversy, Mr. Jenkins, who states he spent several days in this city personally investigating the matter, has this to say regarding municipal ownership in Council Bluffs:

ing municipal ownership in Council Bluffs:

Municipal ownership may be a panacea for corporation diseases where its application is favorable, but neither of these conditions exist to any marked extent in Council Bluffs. The municipality is in no financial condition to obligate itself for the purchase of the present plant or to build a new one without seriously impairing its credit. There are other and more important municipal requirements in Council Bluffs at the present time than the municipal acquisition of the water works.

In conclusion I do not hesitate to express the belief that any student of public utility matters who approaches the Council Bluffs water question with an open mind, disregarding all preconceived conclusions regarding municipal ownership, cannot fail to be

Five Years of Church Work. Rev. Frank A. Case preached his fifth annual sermon as pastor of the First Baptist church at the morning service yester day. The pastor in his address reviewed the work and growth of the church during the five years of his pastorate, showing that the church had prospered financially as well as in membership. During the five years the church had only been closed six Sundays, and then on account of repairs to the building. The pasor himself had attended 1,000 services and had made upwards of 5,000 calls. He had ministered at 16% funerals only fifteen of which were of members of his own church. He had officiated at 140 weddings, of which forty-reven were of members of his church. Five years ago the membership of the First Baptist church was 375, while now it numbered 564, but of this number only 144 were members of the congregation five years ago. During the last year there were 110 additions to the church, s'xtythree being by baptism. During the five years of his pastorate there had been 470 additions, of which number 225 were by

The trouble, it is said, arose over the possession of some keys. C. D. French says he was asleep on the lounge when his brother entered the room and attacked him. C. D. It is expected they will not arrive until fall, as that is the proper time to transfer them. The new club house and boat house are completed and an order has been given a boat builder at Bigelow, Mo., for twenty-five boats to be put on the lake, some bought by private parties and others by the boat club. This will make quite a number of small craft, as local parties already own a good many row boats there.

What the executive council will do this year with the railroad assessment is a problem that can probably be solved only after the hearings. The railroads report that employes are jubilant. It is recalled by Judge Taft's friends here that while secretary of war Mr. Taft not infrequently expressed himself with priesthood and everything connected with great candor upon the subject of the proper employment of the powerful legal agency known as the injunction in disputes between employers and employes. They point out that the judge in several public speeches, notably in Boston, indicated his belief that the existing court practice should be regulated so as to admit of the trial of contempt cases before other judges than those issuing the writ, and that in other respects he was in favor of liberalizing court practice in the interest of labor, never, however, going to the extent of sanctioning the right of suspension of such writs of injunction without notice in cases where such action was necessary to prevent violence or destruction of tangible property.
