Search for Bern's Body. Relatives and friends of Hans Bern, who is believed to have committed suicide Monday night by jumping into the Missouri river from the bridge of the street railway company, were in the city yesterday and arranged with Chief Richmond for an effort to locate the missing man's body. They offer a reward of $100 for the recovery of the body and postal cards containing a description of the missing man will be sent out today by the police department.

Ed Swanson, a brother-in-law of Bern, and Henry E. Weisand, an uncle, accompanied by A. Weisand, a saloonkeeper of Emerson, Neb., by whom Bern was employed as bartender, were in the city. Bern, they said, was born and raised in Emerson.

A. Weisand, for whom Bern had worked during the last few years, stated that Bern quit work last Saturday night, saying he was going to Omaha Sunday. At that time Bern appeared to be in the best of health and spirits and Weisand was unable to give any reason for the young man's supposed suicide.

August Kruse of Emerson, who had been Bern's bosom friend from childhood and who accompanied Bern to Omaha Sunday, was also in the city yesterday. Kruse said that after spending the day together in Omaha he returned Sunday night to Emerson but Bern would stay a while longer in the metropolis. Auto Runs Down Horse and Rider. As Tony Rice, a farm hand on the Hanson place near Honey Creek, was returning to Council Bluffs last evening from South Omaha, riding a pony which he had purchased at the stock yards, he was run into from behind by an automobile on lower Broadway. The pony was thrown on its head and one of his hind legs was broken in several places. Rice was hurled over the pony's head by the force of the collision and struck the pavement on his shoulder. He was badly bruised and shaken by the fall, but escaped serious injury. The driver of the automobile did not stop, but is said to have increased his speed and hastened toward the city. Parties who witnessed the accident said the automobile did not carry a number. The driver was unable last night to discover the owner of the machine, which was a large touring car of a light color. The pony was shot to put it out of its misery.

Mrs. C. Baldwin, 505 West Broadway, reported to the police that her little dog was killed and her 3-year-old son nearly run down by an automobile which was driven past her residence at a high rate of speed. She was unable to discern the number of the machine which ran over and killed her dog. Mrs. Baldwin was returning home with her child and the police counted sixteen automobiles yesterday morning, which, in her opinion, were exceeding the speed limit.

After the circus had been entrained Tuesday night Totola climbed on a flat car and went to sleep. When the locomotive was backed down to the string of cars the bolt of the coupling threw Totola to the ground. HUGHES FAILS TO QUALIFY Board's Failure to Fix Amount of Bond Renders It Impossible.

MAY NECESSITATE RE-ELECTION

Some Talk of Consolidating Positions of Secretary of the Board and Secretary of the Superintendent of the City Schools.

Will J. Hughes have to be re-elected secretary of the Board of Education because he has failed to qualify within the time prescribed by statute? E. R. Jackson, county superintendent of schools, gives it as his opinion that such action will be necessary by the board.

The code, after making the requirement that the secretary and treasurer of the school district shall each give bond to the school corporation, says: "Each shall take the oath required of civil officers, which shall be endorsed upon the bond and shall complete his qualification within ten days."

The board has as yet not fixed the bond to be given by Mr. Hughes and consequently he has been unable to qualify within the ten days.

There has been some talk among the members of the board of consolidating the positions of secretary to the board and secretary to the superintendent of schools. Mr. Hughes would not accept the position if consolidated with that of the superintendent. He said yesterday: "I expect the board to meet in the near future to fix the amount of my bond as well as my salary. If the position entails substantially the same duties as those required of Secretary Dillon Ross I will qualify for the position."

SUITS AGAINST SALOON MEN

Complaint Made Against the Bar in the State Hotel.

In the district court Judge Wheeler yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining E. C. Goodrich, proprietor of the State hotel bar on South Main street, from selling intoxicating liquor, pending the hearing on the application for a permanent injunction.

The petition was filed by County Attorney Hess on complaint of H. Borwick, whose place of business adjoins the saloon. It was charged that the saloon had been kept open on Sundays and on July 4. Mr. Borwick testified that on several Sundays he had seen men carry liquor out of the front door of the saloon, but that more recently the trade had been carried on by the back door. He further testified that he saw liquor carried out of the saloon on the Fourth of July. The witness declared that the liquor had been carried on to such an extent as to have become a nuisance.

The hearing of the contempt proceedings against W. H. Beck, the Manawa saloonkeeper, charged with violating an injunction issued by Judge Wheeler by selling liquor on the Fourth of July, was set for yesterday, was continued until Monday because of the absence from the city of Beck's attorney.

Final action was taken yesterday in the matter of the settlement of the damage suit brought by Judge William P. Burns, administrator of the estate of the late William Burns, against the Rock Island Railroad company. The railroad company agreed to pay $1,500 in full settlement of the suit. William Burns was killed while employed in coupling cars in the local yards of the defendant company on April 1, 1907.

A session of the district court will be held Saturday morning and on next Monday morning, and adjournment will then be taken to Wednesday, August 5.

West Enders on Wargate. A joint meeting of the West Council Bluffs and the West End Improvement committee was called for this evening at the county building, corner of Avenue B and Twenty-fourth street. The meeting is for the purpose of discussing the action of the city council last Monday night in refusing to grant the petition of the West Council Bluffs Improvement club that the city solicitor give an opinion as to which franchise, if any, the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company is operating under in Council Bluffs.

The West Enders, it is stated, are highly indignant over the manner in which their request was treated on motion of Councilman Jensen, who suggested tabling the document and some resolutions which were need a covering of asbestos to insure them from spontaneous combustion. It is stated, may be looked for at the joint meeting tonight.

The West Enders are not over sanguine that the hearing before the Interstate Commerce commission on the question of a 5-cent fare between this city and Omaha and they want to know whether the street railway company has any franchise and by what authority the company is able to charge both a 5-cent and a 10-cent fare between this city and Omaha.

Taylor, who lives at 1968 South Eighth street, was removed to the city ambulance to the Jennie Edmundson Memorial hospital.

He made his way to the car barn of the street railway company and from there was sent to the police station, where Dr. Tubbs set the man's shoulder, which had been dislocated. Carney, enroute with his wife and two small children from Arnold's Lake, Ia., to Omaha, was taken off a Milwaukee train yesterday afternoon at the local depot by Sheriff Canning in compliance with a telegram from F. Carney, who said he had been operating moving picture machines at Arnold's park, disclaimed any knowledge of what he was arrested for and at his request Sheriff Canning telegraphed to Sheriff Jones. The reply received about 10 o'clock last night from Sheriff Jones was to the effect that Carney was wanted on charges of larceny and beating a board bill. Carney was placed in the county jail awaiting the arrival today of an officer from Spirit Lake.

Porch Climber With a Peg Leg. Mrs. John Taylor, wife of the proprietor of the restaurant at the K. C. house on South Main street, reported to the police early yesterday morning that a man had entered her room during the night while her husband was away. The fellow, who had climbed onto the porch, entered through a window. Mrs. Taylor was awakened by the man's entrance and screamed. The intruder at once beat a hasty retreat, but not before Mrs. Taylor was able to notice that the man had lost one of his limbs and wore a "peg leg" in its place.

William Jones, a transient with a peg leg, was found at Ninth and Broadway by Detective Wray and placed under arrest on suspicion of being the porch climber. Jones strenuously denied having been in the vicinity of the K. C. house and insisted that he was not physically capable of shinning up a porch post. He said he had only reached the city that morning on a Wabash train. Later in the day Jones was given his liberty with instructions to leave the city.

He will be arraigned in the police court Wednesday.

The chief object of this institute is to instruct the teachers in the fundamental principles of agriculture and domestic science, though a number of farmers are also in attendance.

SHENANDOAH.—At a meeting of the Shenandoah Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning in the superior court room at a regular annual meeting of the stockholders the secretary reported that the total expenditures for the year were $2,726. PROUTY MEN MEET SATURDAY

Refuse to Recognize Postponement of Congressional Convention.

PRIMARY LAW MAKES PROVISION

After Committee Once Announces Date It is Without Authority to Change It—Successor to McKay.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, July 16.—(Special.)—Prouty men refuse to recognize the action of the congressional central committee in postponing the congressional convention to be held here Saturday. The central committee called the convention for July 15 and then later sent out announcements that none would be held. The Prouty delegates will meet here on the day set. They claim that the primary law provides for calling the convention and that the committee has no authority to change it after it is once called. They say that the committee after setting the date and calling the convention have no further authority and really go out of office, as the new committee is selected by the county conventions and are now in authority. It is understood to be the intention of the Prouty men to nominate Judge Pruett for congress when the convention meets.

At the meeting of the trustees of the State Agricultural college at Ames yesterday the problem of finding a successor to Prof. McKay, who has been dean of the dairy department, but has accepted a position in Chicago at more than double the salary was discussed. It was feared there will be some difficulty in finding a man capable of filling the position and for a time it appeared that the trustees had set out a dean, allowing the under professors to do the work.

The trustees are having trouble in forcing the electric railroad that crosses its line to live up to its contract. The company was to have a depot at some time ago, but has not even started it, and the opening of school is but a short time away. It has furthermore agreed to give a twenty-minute service, but instead it is giving a thirty-minute service.

Grain Dealers Enlarge. At the meeting of the Grain Dealers' association today the name was changed to the Western Grain Dealers' association and under that name it will incorporate. It is proposed to take in Missouri, Kansas and the Dakotas, thus extending the influence of the society. George A. Wells continues as secretary of the new organization. J. A. Tiedeman of Sioux City was elected president and J. E. Jackson of Cedar Rapids vice president. This afternoon the insurance auxiliary of the organization met and elected officers.

Suits Against Corporations. Suit was started today by the state of Iowa against the Barber Asphalt company to compel it to pay $15,415 for doing business in Iowa without having first filed a certified copy of its articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The suit is on the same grounds as that against the Western Union and it is expected that there will be others started soon.

Service for Southwest. P. S. Eustis for the Burlington railroad informed the railroad commission that every effort will be made to get better service for the people living in the southeastern part of the state, so that they can come to Des Moines. He assured them that he would extend the service of the passenger train that stops at Van Wert as far as it can be done under the law that limits the length of time a train may be on the road. He said he hoped to extend it to Mount Ayr.

As to giving the people living between Shenandoah and Van Wert a train service so that they can come to Des Moines and Ames, the railroad commission has indicated that such a thing is not impossible. He did, however, hold out some hopes that the train that starts south from Chariton in the evening may hereafter start from Des Moines if it is found that it can be done.

The railroad commission adjourned the hearing till July 23, at which time Mr. Eustis promises to submit a tangible proposition. Mr. Eustis, however, insists that the traffic will not support an additional train from Des Moines to the southwest, or part of the state which is about the only solution of the problem in the minds of the patrons of the road.

GIUSEPPE ALIA IS HANGED. Assassins of Father Leo Goes to His Death Cursing the Roman Priesthood.

CANYON CITY, Colo., July 16.—Calling down imprecations upon the Roman priesthood and shouting in Italian the words "Long live the Pro-Testant!" Giuseppe Alia, the murderer of Father Heinrichs, was carried to the death trap and exactly at 8:30 o'clock last night paid the extreme penalty of his crime.

Perhaps a more sensational and thrilling scene was never beheld by any of the sixteen persons present than the execution of this Italian murderer, whose cries and screams were only hushed by the automatic springing of the mechanism which forever severed his tongue. He cried for vengeance against those whom Alia had considered the destroyers of his home and happiness.

At 4 p. m. yesterday Warden Clegborn of the state penitentiary, through his interpreter, Antonio Sasso, a prison guard, read the death warrant to Alia. Contrary to expectations the prisoner exhibited no emotion, not even moving a muscle, and when the reading was finished said: "All right, I am ready to die now."

At 1 o'clock Guard Sasso came to him with the information that within one hour the execution would take place. Alia again assented and said he was ready at any time. He further said he felt no sorrow whatever for having killed Father Leo. He was certain that the tongue he had cut off had been searching for for some months, and claimed that he had recognized the priest by a scar on the side of his face. Alia said he had worked for Father Leo in Portugal, and was sure that he had killed the right man. Alia said he did not believe there was a God, for if so he would not have been permitted to be in his present predicament. He said he found no fault with the law, but that the priest did wrong in breaking up his family.

At 10 o'clock, everything being in readiness, the warden's assistants approached Alia's cell and led the condemned man to the executive house, where the black cap and noose were adjusted by the deputy warden. During this procedure Alia became frantic and shouting "Long live Italy! Long live the Pro-Testant!" Alia was placed upon the trap, Chaplain Blake of the prison uttered a short prayer, the dripping water of the automatic mechanism released the great weight and at exactly 8:30 the body was jerked into the air.

Instantly Alia's neck was not broken, owing to the slipping of the rope, and he died of strangulation. After nineteen minutes Alia's body was cut down and he was pronounced dead.

TEAL POND MURDER MYSTERY

Suit Case of Dead Girl Found in Checkroom at Union Station in Troy.

TROY, N. Y., July 15.—What is considered the most important point yet developed in the Teal pond murder mystery case came into possession of the police late today, when County Detective Kaye found the suit case which Hazel Drew carried the day before she was murdered, and for which the police have been conducting an exhaustive search. From articles found in the suit case it is established, the police say, that Hazel Drew did not intend to go to Averill park on the day she was murdered, and the starting theory is advanced that she was murdered in Troy and taken either by carriage or automobile to Teal pond, where her body was cast into the stagnant waters.

There is much to be heard out this theory and it appears that the authorities are nearing a solution of the mystery. In the first place the murdered girl's black leather handbag containing all of her money except 5 cents, was found in the suit case. The fare to Averill park, which is near Teal pond, is 20 cents. While this find was made in Troy, detectives at Teal pond found a glove which was worn by the girl and in the fingers of it was a latent print. Conductors on all of the trolley cars running to Averill have been closely questioned and not one has been found who remembers seeing Hazel Drew on his car. It would have been next to impossible for the girl to have ridden to the park on a trolley car and not have been recognized. Linking those facts together the police conclude that the girl met some one in Troy, either on Tuesday afternoon or evening, that the murder took place in that city or near it. Following up this line of investigation, detectives are endeavoring to trace every step of the girl while she was in Troy on July 6. The recovery of the suit case establishes beyond doubt that she persons have been found who say they saw the girl here. The suit case was checked in the Union Square station at 1:40 p. m., July 7, but unfortunately the clerk who was in charge of the check room at that time is ill and cannot be questioned. The necessity of having the clerk describe the person or persons who checked the suit case are so great that an effort will have to be made tomorrow to have detectives admitted to his room so that he can look at a picture of Hazel Drew. If it turns out that the girl did not check the case and a man left it at the check room, a great step toward unraveling the mystery will have been taken.

Equally important will be the discovery that if the girl checked the case, if she was accompanied by a male companion.

LOOKING INTO BEEF COMBINE

Winston Churchill Investigating Efforts of Americans to Control British Market.

LONDON, July 15.—Pressed to take some action to prevent the American beef combine from obtaining control of the retail beef trade in Great Britain, Winston Churchill, president of the board of trade, today informed Lord Robert Cecil in the House of Commons that the operations of the six firms constituting the beef combine were receiving the careful attention of the government. Mr. Churchill said that his investigations thus far had not convinced him of the necessity of appointing a House of Commons committee of inquiry.

Premier Asquith today received a deputation of representatives of the meat trade, who asked the government to remove the embargo on live cattle from Scandinavia and appoint a committee to inquire into the general question of the supply of meat cattle to Great Britain. The premier was very sympathetic in his reply and asked for time so that he might consult with his colleagues. He appeared to favor the admission of live cattle where it could be safely done. The meeting was in private.
