JOHN SHARP DUCKS POLITICS

Democratic Leader of House Talks on Anything Else.

THROWS BOUQUET TO NEBRASKA

Mr. Williams, Who Comes to Address Bellevue Chautauque, Thinks This Soil Better Than Mississippi.
John Sharp Williams, minority leader of the house of representatives, is at the Millard. He arrived Thursday night and speaks at the Bellevue Chautauque Saturday evening.

the weather, crops and philosophy in general. Politics? When the intrepid reporter threw out a political feeler Mr. Williams paused in the act of taking a sip of coffee, fixed him with a stern eye and said: "You are not trying to interview me, are you?"
Mr. Williams is an interesting and the interviewer decided, when he walked out of the hotel with the democratic leader's arm about his shoulder—a lovable man. But he declined to be quoted on such political remarks as he let fall and his desire is respected.

he said, "but on the way up here from Fort Worth, between Kansas City and Omaha, I saw land that is better. It's a beautiful country and this is the first time I have seen it."
The handmaiden who waited upon the distinguished guest brought the coffee at this juncture. She placed sugar in the cup under the critical eye of the democratic leader, who emphasized the fact that he took only three lumps. Following this there was almost a catastrophe. The young woman had poured the cream pitcher over the cup where nestled the three saccharine lumps. The cream was just about to flow over the lip of the pitcher when a warning cry of alarm from Mr. Williams stopped it.

MAN SHOTS SELF FOR WOMAN

I. J. Kramer Fires Bullet Over Loss of His Friend.

SHE TAKES UP WITH HIS RIVAL

Woman is Placed Under Arrest and Manifests Little Concern in the Action of Her Dying Suitor.
Ignatius J. Kramer, 1523 Leavenworth street, Omaha, foreman of the Gate City Malt works, shot himself just above the heart at 10 a. m. Friday, at Twenty-ninth and B streets, South Omaha. He went into the company's office alone and turned the weapon on himself in a fit of despondency over the love which Edith Johnson denied him. He was lying in a dying condition at the South Omaha hospital at last report, with a bullet wound passing entirely through his lungs above the heart and out his back. Strangely, he never lost consciousness, and was able to talk easily to all who questioned him. His pain was great and the hospital authorities kept him under opiates. He told this story to Detective Shields.

Truth and Quality appeal to the Well-Informed in every walk of life and are essential to permanent success and creditable standing. Accordingly, it is not claimed that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is the only remedy of known value, but one of many reasons why it is the best of personal and family laxatives is the fact that it cleanses, sweetens and relieves the internal organs on which it acts without any debilitating after effects and without having to increase the quantity from time to time.
