ELLIS WRITES CRISP LETTER

Kansas Cityan Addresses One of These Tart Missives to Each Vice President of River Congress.

George C. Call of Sloux City, secretary of the Missouri River Navigation congress, may be asked for his resignation by the executive council as a result of having a meeting called for Sloux City this week without authority from the president; for refusing to honor orders drawn on the secretary-treasurer in accordance with the constitution of the congress, and for statements "calculated o disrupt the organization."

The charges against Mr. Call are made n a letter written by President Edgar C. Ellis of Kansas City to Mr. Call, copies of which have been sent to all the vice presi-

Congressman Ellis does not beat around the bush any in charging the secretarytreasurer at Sloux City with conduct which has the appearance of a plan to break up the organization just at a time when It is getting in shape to do effective work for the Missouri river. Milwankee Advertising Manager Comes to Ascertain What There is His Road Can Do to Help Along.

Like the phonograph the "moving picture machine" is to be made to serve a more worthy purpose than gathering in nickels and dimes at the doors of small theaters. It is to be put to the most practical purpose imaginable-showing modern methods on the farm and this will be probably the first real practical work the machine with its flickering pictures has ever done. The National Corn Exposition has reeived from London a moving picture camera and C. W. Martin is to visit the model farms of Illinois and Iowa, making the films for the picture machine which will be shown at the corn show in Deember. It was Mr. Martin who conceived the idea that the moving picture machine ought to be used for a more worthy purpose than reproducing a prize fight by rounds. showing children how daring firemen rescue people from burning buildings, throwing on a white sheet, a Mexican bull fight or dancers of a sinful ballet show.

Milwaukee Ready to Boost. "The Milwaukee road can be relied upon do all in its power to promote interest in the corn show," said Charles S. Young advertising manager of the Chicago, Mil waukee & St. Paul road. Mr. Young arrived in Omaha Friday to consult with F A. Nash, general western agent of the Milwaukee, and Charles C. Rosewater, chairman of the publicity committee of the National Corn Exposition, to see what was expected of the Milwaukee road in the way of promotion for the corn exposition.

"While we have made no definite plans as to what the Milwaukee will do in the way of promotion for the show, I can state positively that the road will do all possible o get corn producers-all people interested n corn along our line to come to the Omaha show. After the conference we will decide definitely what we will do."
