

SOCIETY TAKES TO OUTING

Garden Parties Are Popular at the Expense of the Clubs.

SMART AFFAIRS GIVEN AT HOME

Lawns and Porches Preferred for Bridge Parties and Automobile Picnics Are Popular with the Fashionable Set.

So Say We All. Why raise this rapping, roaring fuss about the new LAFAYETTE event? What lurks within its lurid folds? To call such misadventure down? For surely all may plainly see When fully sensation's storm, 'Twas never a question of modesty, But merely a matter of form.

Social Calendar.

WEDNESDAY-Children's dancing party at the Field club; Mrs. W. A. Redick, Monday Bridge club.
THURSDAY-Mrs. C. C. Allison, luncheon at Country club for Mrs. Hoxie Clark of St. Louis; Mrs. Helen Sholes' luncheon at Field club; Mrs. C. C. Belden, dinner party at Happy Hollow; ladies' day at Field club and Happy Hollow and dance at Happy Hollow.

FRIDAY-Junior Bridge club meeting; Friday Bridge club meeting.
SATURDAY-Week's end dinner and dance at Happy Hollow, Field and Country clubs.
A few cool days have encouraged hostesses to forsake the club and entertain at home, with the result that the last week has brought some of the prettiest parties of the summer.

At the Country Club. Miss Elizabeth Congdon gave one of the largest dinner parties at the Country club Saturday evening for some of the visiting guests. Covers were laid for: Miss Sue Harmon of New York City, Miss Frances of Kansas City, Miss Amy Gilmore, Miss Harmon of New York City, Miss Frances Nash; Miss Caroline Congdon and Miss Elizabeth Congdon, Mr. Barton Millard, Mr. Elmer Redick, Mr. Stanley Ineson, Mr. Frank Pollard, Mr. Frank Wilhelm, Mr. Harmon of New York, Mr. Richard Baum and Mr. Paul Gallaher.

At the Field Club. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones entertained for their guest Mrs. Clark of Denver. The party included two.
Mr. Farnham Smith entertained a party of eight, his guests, including Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Swobe, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Smith, Mrs. Frank Smith of Denver, Miss Eugenia Jones of Kansas City, Mr. Jo Baldrige and Mr. Louis Nash.
Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Baldrige entertained a party of six guests, D. B. Fuller, four; E. E. Hart of Council Bluffs, six; A. T. Austin, four, and Mr. Frank Colpitzer, five.

At Happy Hollow. Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Somers entertained a party of eight at dinner at Happy Hollow Saturday evening, covers being laid for: Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Carpenter, Miss Jessie Towne and Miss Alice Towne.

Among the others entertaining were: Mr. F. H. Chickering, who had four guests; Mr. John McDonald, five; Mr. M. D. Cameron, four; Mr. W. G. Shriver, four; Mr. Carroll Bolden, four; Mrs. M. P. Frank-houser, four; Mr. H. M. Rogers, four; Mr. F. F. Peterson, three; Mr. Alfred Darlow, four; Mr. H. G. Meyer, four; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wyman, six.

Mr. and Mrs. Selby entertained at dinner Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dempster, Miss Allen, and their guests, Miss Beverly and Miss Frances Beverly of London, England, and Miss Snowball of Huntley, Scotland. Hand-painted poppies on the place cards harmonized with the red and white centerpiece of canna. Covers were laid for the following guests: Miss Beverly, Miss Frances Beverly, Miss Snowball, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dempster, Miss Elizabeth Allen, Mr. and Mrs. George Payne, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Austin, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Benson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haney, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Peters, Mrs. Elizabeth Colfax, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trimble.

At the Field Club. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Fallon had as their guests at the Field club Saturday evening: Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gratton, Miss Waddell of Oakland, Cal., and Mr. Frank P. Rooney. Among the others entertaining small parties were: Mr. E. H. Bodwell, who had a party of four; Mr. J. E. Buckingham, four; Mr. George Proudfoot of Lincoln, four; Mr. H. B. Weller, four; Mr. Harry Lawrie, four; Mr. Louis Metz, eight; Mr. A. T. Matthews, four; Mr. F. L. McCoy, three, and Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Cannon of Salt Lake City, four.

Come and Go Gossip.

Miss Minnie Hiller leaves this week for Lake Geneva and Elkhart, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gould left Saturday for Duluth to take the lake trip. Miss Margaret Phelan left yesterday for a stay of a few weeks in Colorado. Mr. William Rees of Keokuk, Ia., is the guest of his brother, Mr. Samuel Rees. Mrs. T. H. Hippie and small daughter, Dorothy, left Saturday for Brockville, Ont. Miss Maude Kellner of Chicago is the guest of Mrs. A. W. H. Bush of 211 Dewey avenue. Miss Emily Davis of Cape Town, South Africa, is in Omaha, the guest of Mrs. F. W. Jones. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Conklin will move August 1 to their new home on Forty-first street. Miss Josephine Blixt of Osceola, is the guest of her brother, Mr. C. Walter Blixt and Mrs. Blixt. Mrs. C. J. Wilson of Atkinson, Neb., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. C. Coffman of Dundee. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Broatch are staying at the home of Dr. Nelson Metzger for a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. George Barker leave Sunday for Boulder, Estes park and other points in Colorado. Mrs. George Proudfoot of Lincoln is spending at their home for the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yates. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Riley are in Manitou, Colo., where they will spend the rest of the summer. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Malchen and daughter leave Monday for Okoboji to spend a few weeks at the Inn. Mr. and Mrs. George G. Squires and family leave Thursday for Bayfield and other points in Michigan. Mr. George Fairfield, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Fairfield, has returned to his home in Beloit. Mr. George Cleveland of Springfield, Ill., who has been the guest of Samuel Rees, Jr., has returned to his home. Mrs. George Klink of Fort Worth, Tex., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Strainman for several weeks. Mrs. Perley of Emporia, Kan., will arrive this week end for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Francis A. Brogan. Major D. E. McCarthy, chief quartermaster, Department of the Missouri, left this week for Camp Emmet, Crawford, Wyo. Miss Olive Stepp of Kansas City will arrive today to be the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Carl Furth and Mr. Furth for a fortnight. Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reed, have gone to Beatrice in their touring cars to spend Sunday with friends. Mrs. James P. Redman, accompanied by her daughter Elizabeth and son Roland, has gone to Santa Fe, N. M., for a month's visit with relatives. Miss Helen Hirschland of Oklahoma City, who has been the guest of Mrs. Hiller, will leave Tuesday for Des Moines, where she will visit friends. Miss Rachael Kincade of Kansas City, who has been the guest of Miss Amy Gilmore, will spend this week as the guest of Mrs. Ben Gallagher. Miss Mary Clark, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dinning for several weeks, will leave Tuesday for her home in St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaines and family leave Sunday for Piney Inn, near Sheridan, Wyoming, where they will spend the latter part of the summer. Mrs. W. C. Sloan of East Orange, N. J., formerly of Omaha, who has been visiting friends here in Denver, will leave the latter part of the week for her home. Mrs. Parrott of Brooklyn, N. Y., is spending a few weeks the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. K. Coutant, Mrs. Brinker of St. Louis arrived Friday to visit her sister. Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Sadler and family have gone to their cottage at Roaring Brook, near Harvard Springs, Mich., where they will spend the remainder of the summer. Dr. E. N. Robertson, formerly of Omaha, now practicing at Emporia, Kan., is in the city to spend a week's visiting friends. He is the guest of his mother, Mrs. John A. Dempster. Mrs. George A. Hoagland left Saturday for Central City, where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hord for a few days, returning home about the middle of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Drishaus have gone to New York for a visit. On their return early in August they will occupy their new home at Thirty-fifth and Poppleton avenue. Miss Hiller will leave the latter part of the week for Lincoln, where she will join a party of friends who are going to Manitou, Colo. They will be at the Cliff house. Mrs. W. H. Alexander of Salt Lake City, is visiting friends and who has been honor guest at some affair almost every day of the week in Omaha will leave the first of the week for her home. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard, who are visiting friends in Omaha, will leave Tuesday for their home in Jefferson, Ia., in their touring car, accompanied by Mrs. Hensman of Seattle and Miss Margaret Latley. Miss Henrietta Benedict, Miss Zora Fitz-Sarah Martin leave Monday for Lincoln where she is the guest of Miss Florence Chapman for a week at a house party at M. S. Chapman's home. The table will be set for the centerpiece a large bowl of golden stow and a novel way to find the places at the table will be used. There will be a bouquet of sixteen different kinds of flowers and each guest will be given one and a similar flower will mark their place at the table. Those present will be Mrs. Brinker, Mrs. Parrott, Mrs. C. K. Coutant, Mrs. Casper Yost, Mrs. David Baum, Mrs. A. T. Austin, Mrs. H. H. Sarson, Mrs. Porter, Mrs. Gould Dietz, Mr. A. W. Jeffries, Mrs. John Barker, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Harold Gifford, Miss Clara Hawley, Mrs. H. F. Black and Mrs. Charles Black.

Weddings and Engagements. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. C. Rumbolt, 212 South Seventh Avenue, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Bern Rumbolt, to Mr. Frank W. Howe of South Omaha, the wedding to take place in October. The marriage of Miss Philomena Gentileman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Gentileman and Mrs. Harry D. Reed was quietly celebrated Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the Church of the Holy Family in the presence of the immediate friends and relatives. Father Fitzpatrick officiating. The bride was attractive in a white tulle suit with a large white hat and carried a white prayer book. Mrs. Emma Gentileman, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and wore a pink suit and hat of the same shade. Mr. Bert Murphy was best man, and Mr. John Shenck presided at the organ. After the ceremony, a wedding supper was served at the Borne hotel, the young couple leaving that evening for an eastern trip, which will include Atlantic City, N. J. They will be at home after September 15, at 513 South Twenty-sixth avenue.

Green Gables Sanatorium. This institution is the only one in the central west with separate buildings situated in their own ample grounds yet entirely distinct and rendering it possible to identify each. The one building being fitted for and devoted to the treatment of non-contagious and non-venereal diseases, no others being admitted. The other, Rest Cottage, being designed for and devoted to the exclusive treatment of acute mental cases, requiring the most careful care and attention.

TOOK PART IN GREAT EVENTS

Reminiscences of Editor, Soldier and Lawyer at Four-Score.

ROGER PRYOR RECALLS OLD DAYS

Experiences of a Confederate Brigadier Reconstructed in the North—Lesson in How to Grow Old Gracefully.

Roger Atkinson Pryor, one of the few remaining brigadier generals of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times. Justice Pryor's home is on West Sixty-ninth street, New York City. His library window juts out a good deal beyond the frontage of most of the houses along the street. It is shady in the afternoon, and Justice and Mrs. Pryor sit a good deal there, among the judge's books, with a canary bird near by chirping gently, growing gracefully old together. Mrs. Pryor, too, is a Virginian. She was 18 and he 20 when they were married at Charlottesville, Va., on November 8, 1848. The November they will have married sixty years.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

FIXING FOR THE DAY

Home Preparation That Is an Aid to Business Women. These are particularly trying days for business and professional women, stenographers, salesladies, cashiers, teachers in fact, so all women who are denied the opportunity of frequent access to wash stand and mirror. In addition to dust, dirt and soot flying in the air, perspiration causes a shine and gloss that is annoying to say the least. The trouble and trial of wet weather are being evaded by a simple home-made preparation that does not rub off or show and yet affords protection against flying dust and perspiration. This is the receipt now so popular: Get from your drugstore 2 ounces of Rose Water, 1 ounce of Cologne Spirit and 4 ounces of Epsomite (skin food). Put the Epsomite in a pint of hot water (not boiling) and after it has dissolved strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit. Apply to the face with a brush. The wash is cooling and keeps the face in perfect condition for 16 or 12 hours. The Epsomite makes the skin soft, white and velvety and removes freckles, tan or sunburn.

TOOK PART IN GREAT EVENTS

Reminiscences of Editor, Soldier and Lawyer at Four-Score.

ROGER PRYOR RECALLS OLD DAYS

Experiences of a Confederate Brigadier Reconstructed in the North—Lesson in How to Grow Old Gracefully.

Roger Atkinson Pryor, one of the few remaining brigadier generals of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times. Justice Pryor's home is on West Sixty-ninth street, New York City. His library window juts out a good deal beyond the frontage of most of the houses along the street. It is shady in the afternoon, and Justice and Mrs. Pryor sit a good deal there, among the judge's books, with a canary bird near by chirping gently, growing gracefully old together. Mrs. Pryor, too, is a Virginian. She was 18 and he 20 when they were married at Charlottesville, Va., on November 8, 1848. The November they will have married sixty years.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

FIXING FOR THE DAY

Home Preparation That Is an Aid to Business Women. These are particularly trying days for business and professional women, stenographers, salesladies, cashiers, teachers in fact, so all women who are denied the opportunity of frequent access to wash stand and mirror. In addition to dust, dirt and soot flying in the air, perspiration causes a shine and gloss that is annoying to say the least. The trouble and trial of wet weather are being evaded by a simple home-made preparation that does not rub off or show and yet affords protection against flying dust and perspiration. This is the receipt now so popular: Get from your drugstore 2 ounces of Rose Water, 1 ounce of Cologne Spirit and 4 ounces of Epsomite (skin food). Put the Epsomite in a pint of hot water (not boiling) and after it has dissolved strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit. Apply to the face with a brush. The wash is cooling and keeps the face in perfect condition for 16 or 12 hours. The Epsomite makes the skin soft, white and velvety and removes freckles, tan or sunburn.

TOOK PART IN GREAT EVENTS

Reminiscences of Editor, Soldier and Lawyer at Four-Score.

ROGER PRYOR RECALLS OLD DAYS

Experiences of a Confederate Brigadier Reconstructed in the North—Lesson in How to Grow Old Gracefully.

Roger Atkinson Pryor, one of the few remaining brigadier generals of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times. Justice Pryor's home is on West Sixty-ninth street, New York City. His library window juts out a good deal beyond the frontage of most of the houses along the street. It is shady in the afternoon, and Justice and Mrs. Pryor sit a good deal there, among the judge's books, with a canary bird near by chirping gently, growing gracefully old together. Mrs. Pryor, too, is a Virginian. She was 18 and he 20 when they were married at Charlottesville, Va., on November 8, 1848. The November they will have married sixty years.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

Justice Pryor was born on July 19, 1828, in Dinwiddie county, Virginia, the son of Rev. Theodorick Bland Pryor, a sainted Calvinist minister, who believed in the Bible from cover to cover, word by word, and literally. His frame was as stout as his faith and from him Justice Pryor got his excellent physique. Young Pryor was graduated from the University of Virginia and married in the same year, 1848. And then he went into newspaper work. The November they will have married sixty years. Justice Pryor was a member of the confederacy and former justice of the supreme court of New York state, was 80 years old July 19. He did not celebrate the event, refusing to look upon an 80-year-old man as any sort of a person, but of the ordinary, but instead he indulged in reminiscences of his long and varied life in chatting with a reporter for the New York Times.

FIXING FOR THE DAY

Home Preparation That Is an Aid to Business Women. These are particularly trying days for business and professional women, stenographers, salesladies, cashiers, teachers in fact, so all women who are denied the opportunity of frequent access to wash stand and mirror. In addition to dust, dirt and soot flying in the air, perspiration causes a shine and gloss that is annoying to say the least. The trouble and trial of wet weather are being evaded by a simple home-made preparation that does not rub off or show and yet affords protection against flying dust and perspiration. This is the receipt now so popular: Get from your drugstore 2 ounces of Rose Water, 1 ounce of Cologne Spirit and 4 ounces of Epsomite (skin food). Put the Epsomite in a pint of hot water (not boiling) and after it has dissolved strain and let cool. Then add the Rose Water and Cologne Spirit. Apply to the face with a brush. The wash is cooling and keeps the face in perfect condition for 16 or 12 hours. The Epsomite makes the skin soft, white and velvety and removes freckles, tan or sunburn.

NEW HENSHAW HOTEL NOW OPEN! Solid re-inforced concrete ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF. 160 outside rooms with bath. Independent and Bell long distance phones in each room. Reached by any car from all depots. Conceded to be the best, largest and handsomest Cafe west of Chicago. The place for after-theatre parties. We give dinner parties special attention. Our own excellent orchestra plays from 12 m. to 12 p. m. Henshaw Hotel, 16th and Farnam Sts. Omaha, Nebraska. T. J. O'BRIEN, Proprietor.

Remember Our $3 and $5 Hats When You Are Looking for Summer Hats. All Pattern Hats at Cost. F. M. SCHADELL, 1522 Douglas St.

50c For All This Balduff's Table d'Hote DINNER. Cream of Chicken with Rice Assorted Relishes. Roast Young Chicken, Stuffed, Dish Gravy. Braised Fillets of Beef with Mushrooms. Green Gage Sherbet. Creamed Potatoes. New Corn on Cob. Assorted Fanciful Cakes Bonbons Coffee. Balduff's THE STORE FOR DELICACIES. Phone Doug. 711. Ind. A1711. 1518-20 Farnam St.

Hot Weather Wants. A few of them at special cut prices for Monday and Tuesday: 25c Bath Sprays, 25c Bath Caps, 25c Swinton's Talcum, 25c Boston's Talcum, 25c Colgate's Talcum, 25c Perrin's Toilet Water, 25c Ricksecker's Toilet Water, 25c Santal Hat Powder, 25c Boston's Toilet Soap, 25c Udo (Destroys perspiration), 25c Sponge Bags, 25c Soap Bags, 25c Traveling Toilet Case.

Cafe Loyal Hotel Loyal. In Sixteenth Street, From Capitol Avenue to Davenport Street.

Special Sunday DINNER DE LUXE THIS EVENING From Seven Until Eight O'clock. $1.00 PER PLATE. "The best dinner west of Broadway."

CENTS. Bustar Brown Bread. has a flavor that only the best ingredients can produce. It costs no more than bread of inferior quality. 5c at all grocers. Baked by U. P. Baking Co.

HAIR. On a Woman's Face, Neck Arms or Shoulders is No Considered Attractive. LA JEUNE DEPIILATORY (LIQUID) will remove hair from any part of the body in from 5 to 10 minutes—leaving the skin soft and white—no smarting or burning. 50c per bottle. By mail, enclosed, $1.00. Circulars free. SHERMAN & MCCONNELL DRUG CO. Cor. 16th and Dodge Sts., Omaha. OWL DRUG CO. Cor. 16th and Harney Sts.