WOMAN SUES OWN BROTHER James Theunert of Benson

Plaintiff in Stormy Suit Over House. Mrs. James Theunert of Benson is suing in the district court for property which she asserts her brother, Robert J. Smiley, after they had built a house together and acted as partners, mortgaged without her consent and then refused to pay off the mortgage Mrs. Theunert was so filled with a sense of her own wrongs at the hands of her brother that the court suffered a stormy session, in which the lawyers and Judge Redick on the bench ineffectually strove to quiet the witness. The brother objected to Mrs. Theunert's third husband. He didn't mind the first two, but, according to the testimony, he threatened to drive Mr. Theunert out of the house, and after he had lived as his sister's partner in a boarding house for twenty years, he mortgaged the house and left. Since the house was "unbearable" to him he had no more interest in the ownership of it and so allowed the mortgage to lapse. Mrs. Theunert contends that the house was more than half hers in the first place, and that her brother promised her that the mortgage would never trouble her, as he would take care of that himself.

Whereas. The dairy industry, from the raw material to the consumer of its product, comprises many parts, covers a large territory, presents many difficult problems

Whereas, It has grown wonderfully in quantity, quality, value, variety of products and uses, and within itself promises still greater growth;

Whereas, In order to bring about this growth to the failest extent there must be a thorough understanding and co-operation between the three great interests involved in handling this industry, to wit: The producer, manufacturer and consumer. First—The producer must be encouraged to the largest possible production of the highest possible quality by means of the largest possible remuneration.

Second—The manufacturer must address greater growth;

Second—The manufacturer must address himself to the problem of handling the production as it practically comes to him along the lines of the highest science; along the lines of the greatest economy, sanitaion, purity. No Chance for Combine.

Prof. McKay explained at length that there was no possibility of the association being a "trust" nor a "combine" and said that if there was any possibility of financial affairs coming directly into the association, he would not be identified with Thursday and together they will go for an the movement as he would be satisfied to remain in educational work as the dean of the dairy department of the Iowa Agricultural college.

He told of the ob- and through the efforts thus made, with jects of the national association, reading the hearty support of the Indian bureau, first from the newly framed constitution, the sale of intoxicating liquors was reduced to a minimum.

However, the wily dealers in intoxicants now have a strange new liquor, which they are said to be selling to Indians, which costs less than whisky or other intoxicants and which makes a "drunk" come more quickly. This new liquor is made from mescal buttons," the flower of a plant beonging to the cactus family. The drink is strongly intoxicating and is indulged in to an alarming extent by the Indians of the Winnebagos in Nebraska and Wisconsin. Worse than the intoxicating qualities of 'mescal buttons," the fluid leads to insanity of violent form and saps the vitality of the Indian and soon makes him a hopeless imbecile.

The matter of the sale of this new "high ball" of mescal button concection has been called to the attention of the Indian bureau and is now being investigated. In fact, the Indian bureau has requested Prof. Wiley, chief chemist of the Agricultural department, to send one of his experts to Thurston county to make a thorough investigation of the conditions as reported.
