

TRICK TO BLOCK POPULISTS

Watson Men Are Told Electors Must Pay Twenty-Five Dollars.

LAW LETS THEM FILE FREE

Scheme is to Scare Out the People's Party Brethren and Thus Give Democrats the Whole Thing.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 30.—(Special Telegram.)—The latest reported trick of the astute demagogue who are running things in Nebraska is to deceive populists into believing that the filing fee for electors is $25 so as to prevent the pop from filing for Tom Watson electors. The law imposes no filing fee on electors.

A. W. Potts of Stockton has filed an application for the Tom Watson ticket. He is the first person to do such a thing, and evidently therefore the first who refuses to be scared out by this piece of chicanery. He sent to the secretary of state his application for a place on the ticket and a postage money order of $25, saying in his letter that he had been given to understand that the filing fee was $25. Mr. Junkin filed his application and returned his money.

While Mr. Potts did not state in his letter who gave him "to understand" that the filing fee was $25 there is a "defined" rumor around the state house in other corners of Lincoln as to the identity of the person. Furthermore, there is a very pronounced conviction here that Mr. Potts was not given this understanding by anyone who thought he was telling the truth, and will further it is believed, that this simply reveals a systematic plot by the demagogue leaders to deceive pop all over the state in this way in the belief that if they have to pay $25 they won't file and Mr. Watson won't get any men on his ticket.

Additional Primary Filings.

Senator Sibley came to town today with a receipt for the filing fee for the filing fee in Lincoln county to go on the republican primary ballot as a candidate for congress. All the blanks in the office of the secretary of state have been exhausted and Mr. Sibley promised to rustle a blank and get his filing completed in time.

H. H. Hildreth, republican, of Myron D. Carr of Columbus filed as republican candidates for railway commissioner. H. G. Echeverri filed as a populist candidate for the sixth congressional nomination. W. B. Jones of Polk and W. F. Cranin of Fauby filed as fusion candidates for congress from the fourth district.

The following are new filings for state senator:

Harry Beckedantz, republican of St. Paul, Seventeenth district; John C. Glinz, republican of Brockville, Twenty-ninth district; Robert Y. Appleby, republican of Stanton, Eleventh district; Wallace Lovinger, democrat, Lincoln, Tenth district; J. A. Ollis, jr., democrat of Ord, Fifteenth district.

Following are the new filings for state representative:

Henry A. Reader, republican of Ayr, Forty-sixth district; A. L. Mathews, republican of Callaway, Twenty-ninth district; F. Springer, republican of Mitchell, Fifty-fourth district; W. H. Williams, democrat of Anselmo, Fifty-sixth district; W. H. Williams, republican of Ayr, Forty-sixth district; W. H. Williams, democrat of Anselmo, Fifty-sixth district; John A. Weems, democrat of Fullerton, Twenty-fifth district; C. C. Hoffman, democrat of Hubbard, Sixteenth district; Charles A. Robbins of Lincoln filed as a republican.

Missouri Pacific Answers.

The Missouri Pacific railroad has filed an answer to the proposed increase in rates by the stockyard company at St. Louis. The company says the charges at the stockyards are frequently paid by the railroad; that it has been ordered to decrease its live stock rates. Should it be compelled to reduce rates and the stockyards allowed to increase rates, it would lose money handling live stock. Besides the answer says the rates have been in effect for 12 years and are therefore sufficiently high.

Douglas Hospital Complimented.

Joel Piper, chief clerk of the Board of Charities and Correction has come back to Lincoln from Omaha after an investigation of the county farm and he is full of commendation over the new tuberculosis hospital being erected there. He says that some of the inmates of the poor farm are sleeping in the basement, which is no place for them, but with the completion of the new hospital, Douglas county will be well on the map. He complimented Superintendent Farrar for the way he is looking after the institution.

Resolution on Fair Rate.

Secretary W. R. Mellor today received from the chairman of the transportation committee of the American Association of State Fairs and Expositions the following copy of the resolution which was adopted by the members of the Western Passenger association at its meeting July 29:

Recommended, that a rate of one and one-half fare for the round trip be made for the state fairs in Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nebraska and Kansas for the season 1908, with such minimum as lines in interest may desire to establish for each of the states named, and other details to be arranged later.

Lineman Severely Toss.

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., July 30.—(Special.)—R. Edward Collins, one of the men employed by the Independent telephone in stretching its new copper lines between this city and Omaha, met with an accident last evening that may cost him his life. He was chopping stumps from a tree when the axe slipped and struck his right foot, cut three of his toes off. He bled freely, and when he reached Union, where he was taken, he was nearly dead from the loss of blood. A physician stopped the flow of blood and he was brought to this city. He is very low and it is feared he cannot survive. He had been at work for the company but three days and claims to come from Sidney, Ia.

Registration List Greatly Exceeds Return to State Board.

HOW THEY VARY IN VALUES

Number of Candidates for Legislative Position Are Counting Under Wire at the Last Moment.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 30.—(Special.)—With sixteen counties not reporting the number of automobiles, the reports of the county assessors indicate that these officers this year have shown a remarkable nose for gasoline. There were registered in the office of Secretary of State Junkin April 1 of this year, 433 machines. The assessors have returned a total of 1,706 machines with the number from sixteen counties missing and in this list is Gage county, where everybody is rich and should have an automobile.

Automobiles vary in price considerably more than any other class of property, the range being from $100 to $10,000. In 1907 assessed value in Kimball county, Kimball county returns only one machine and it is supposed that the $2 worth in Deuel county includes no more than one machine. Secretary Schavand of the State Board of Equalization doubts the figures on that $2 wagon and has written the assessor for a verification. Douglas county, where they have a horse show, comes in with 24 automobiles, assessed at $147 each, while Lancaster, with its presidential candidate and Taft banner, has 175 assessed at $126 each.

Where Riches Are Lacking.

The counties that have reported no automobiles at all are: Thomas, Jackson, McPherson, Logan, Hooker, Grant, Blaine and Banner. Other counties which have reported on the assessed value but returned no number are: Sherman, 345; Keka Paia, $2,144; Harlan, $2,283; Cheyenne, $1,081; Cedar, $1,666.

Keith county returned eight at an average assessed value of $29.75. Adams county returned 106 at an average assessed value of $100.

DAHLMAN ON PROHIBITION

Mayor of Omaha Debates at Bellevue with W. C. T. U. Leader.

GREAT CROWD OUT TO LISTEN

He is Denounced as Exponent of Anarchy in Standing Up for "Personal Liberty"—Sends Shot Back.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

"If I am elected governor of Nebraska, and I expect to be, I will never sign a prohibition bill and will oppose all laws against Sunday theaters and base ball. I think prohibition strikes at the very foundation of this nation of ours and robs the individual of his personal rights." This was Mayor Dahلمان's challenge to Mrs. Mary Harris ARMOR at the Bellevue chautauque Wednesday night.

"Mayor Dahلمان may not be governor after his speech tonight," was the response of Mrs. ARMOR, when she spoke in answer to the talk of Omaha's executive. Mrs. ARMOR, president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Atlanta, Ga., was there a huge crowd in the grand tent and people were standing many deep about the sides as the debate went on. The argument was many times heated and carried a vein of sarcasm, but the talkers were good natured, though intensely in earnest and when the end was reached, though Mrs. ARMOR had decidedly the better of her antagonist in the number of supporters and the warmth of their expression of enthusiasm, it was evident the mayor had many sympathizers in the company.

There was a huge crowd in the grand tent and people were standing many deep about the sides as the debate went on. The argument was many times heated and carried a vein of sarcasm, but the talkers were good natured, though intensely in earnest and when the end was reached, though Mrs. ARMOR had decidedly the better of her antagonist in the number of supporters and the warmth of their expression of enthusiasm, it was evident the mayor had many sympathizers in the company.

The program included two vocal solos by Miss Elizabeth Hamling of Omaha, a clever talk by George R. Stuart of Georgia on the subject, "Is Fun Divine or Devilish" and a moving picture exhibition.

Not Hair-Pulling Match.

The vast crowd was most orderly and appreciative, and incidentally full of fun. Judge A. L. Sutton in introducing Mayor Dahلمان took a sly look at the mayor's bald head and remarked, "This is not to be a hair-pulling match."

It was generally known that the mayor intended his talk to be his first speech in his campaign to lose the governorship, and so it was of double interest. At the outset he remarked that he didn't know how the debate would turn out, but he pressed his belief that he would at least be able to get home after it, even if he could not go to his office the next day. Then he made his pledge to veto all measures aiming at personal liberty.

"Why do people single out the saloon for their opposition, when there are lots of other things that merit it?" asked Mayor Dahلمان. "People who wear diamond rings when they ought to wear plain gold ones, and men who ride in automobiles when they ought to walk, are not touched by law because popular opinion says, 'Mind your own business,' but a man's right to drink what he wants when he wants it is strictly his own business and within his own rights."

Teach the Duties of the Home.

"Teach the girls the duties of the home, instead of letting them parade the streets with prohibition banners. As for the young men, I can do more for a youth who has been arrested for drinking too much by pardoning him and giving him a talk in my office than any preacher in Omaha could do in the same case."

"My home is a Christian home," declared Mayor Dahلمان, "and my wife and children join in their prayers to God every day of the year. But I want to say that my children are given perfect freedom in such matters as including their appetites. My own experience teaches me that with proper teaching and reasonable liberality of views children become educated to avoid overindulgence."

The mayor took up the practical side of prohibition, referring to the states where it has been tried, and declared it a failure. He said statistics would bear him out. In Omaha, he said, the records would show there are more drunks in Omaha every Monday morning since the new closing order has been enforced upon the people than before the Sunday closing began.

The mayor said there are many evils worse than the liquor business. If the reformers would turn more of their attention toward correcting evils against the unborn babes of the land and less to temperance fights, the world would be better for it. The mayor subscribed here to the Rooseveltian theory of the size of families.

"The mayor did his best, and that was all he could do," remarked Mrs. ARMOR as she advanced to the front of the platform. "I am disappointed in his speech, for I had expected that he would give us something new, and he has only used arguments that are twenty years old. I answered everything he said in my talk last Sunday."

Mrs. ARMOR denounced "personal liberty" as used by the mayor, to be in direct opposition to the ten commandments, nine of which say "Thou shalt not."

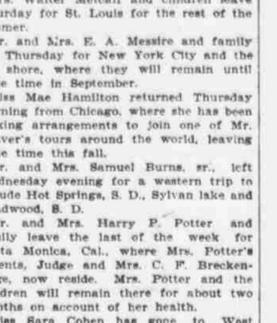

"Adam and Eve believed the devil was the mayor does, but God is a prohibitionist, and so am I. If Mayor Dahلمان knew the liquor question better, he would be a prohibitionist, too. Liquor will wreck the cities if you give it time, so God bless the mayor of Omaha and convert him."

Although she spoke fast, Mrs. ARMOR took all the time allowed her and used

STATE BANK SOON FORMED

New Institution Will Be Organized Within a Few Days.

ST. LOUIS MEN ARE COMING HERE

State Trust Company of the Missouri Metropolis is the Prime Mover in the Enterprise for Omaha.

Directors of the State Trust company of St. Louis, who propose to organize a big state bank and erect a building in Omaha, will arrive in the city within a few days to complete the organization, according to Omahans who are to be directors in the institution.

"St. Louis money will be the principal capital in the new bank," said one who is to be a director. "The State Trust company people have been in Omaha off and on for over a month and believe there is a field here for the big institution which they propose to organize. I know of no reason at the present time why the deal should not go through. One more Omahan will be interested who will be a member of the board of directors."

C. N. Atkinson, cashier of the State Trust company of St. Louis, who has been in Omaha, vice president of the big St. Louis trust company, have been the ones who have done the negotiating with Omahans with a view to organizing the bank in Omaha. Jacob Gordon is president of the State Trust company of St. Louis. The vice presidents are H. A. Vrooman, J. H. Conroy, E. A. Child, T. B. Ballard, C. H. Brown, C. N. Atkinson, C. E. Vrooman and H. A. Vrooman.

Monroe C. Steele of the Hobbs-Jones Grocery company, who is slated to become one of the managers of the new bank and is intimately connected with the St. Louis capitalists, is out of the city. C. C. George and other real estate dealers who have been negotiating with the bankers for a site refuse to discuss the matter and decline to say whether the bankers have an option on the lots at Sixteenth and Harvey streets or not. It is known, however, by those on the inside that the written agreement between the bankers and real estate dealers handling the property amounts to an option. If H. H. Hildreth, attorney for the new institution, refused to discuss the matter, he said some of the St. Louis men would be in the city within a day or two and would give out whatever there was to be announced on the subject.
