

QUALITY OF BUTTER PIVOT

Standard Must Meet World's Test to Give Omaha Market.

CREAMERY MEN LIKE GATE CITY

All Members of National Association Who Met Here Are Impressed, but Grade of Product Settles the Prices.

On the proposition of producing a quality of butter which will meet all tests in the markets of the world, raise the Omaha butter market and perhaps Omaha setting the price in the greatest dairying district in the world.

As a result of the meeting in Omaha of creamery butter makers from all parts of the country, the creamery men have a new enthusiasm in making Omaha a butter market and there is now little doubt that a price committee will be selected and within a short time "Omaha extras" and the Omaha market flashed practically around the world.

The making of a butter market depends on quality. Though the National Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers has nothing to do with market nor price making, the Omaha market was thoroughly discussed by the leading butter makers of the country. They told Omaha creamery manufacturers plainly that if Omaha made a butter of quality, which would be a standard in the market of the world, there was no doubt that Omaha would make the prices along with Elgin and New York City. Immediately there was a meeting of the butter makers of Omaha. They passed a resolution ten words or less in length. It simply said that the creameries here which turn out the best butter would also turn out the finest butter and make the price.

All Men Are Impressed. J. H. Rushton, president of the Fairmont Creamery company, who originated the idea of a National Creamery Butter Manufacturers' association, said:

"We had but little opportunity at the recent meeting of the national organization to discuss the butter market proposition for Omaha, as it is a matter entirely foreign to the purposes of the association, but the creamery men individually were much impressed with the Omaha creameries and will assist us in organizing a butter market if we furnish the quality. This we will do, which means that Omaha will be a butter market and price maker."

Prof. G. L. McKay, secretary of our organization, has traveled around the world looking over the creameries and the methods of handling dairy products. He told us without qualification that his visit to Omaha was a revelation to him, that Omaha creameries besides making more butter than any other city in the world, were the best equipped, and he believed we could produce the quality which would set a new standard in creamery butter making.

Means Much to West.

The organization of the butter market in Omaha means much to the west. At present the prices are made at Elgin and New York. Prof. McKay said while in Omaha that he frequently doubted the accuracy of the Elgin and New York prices, not because the committees were not conscientious, but because it was hard for them to secure all the information necessary in order to fix a price which will be fair to the butter makers of Wisconsin, the north and east and at the same time to the producers and manufacturers of the west, where dairying is rapidly becoming more than the crossroads business which it has been for half a century.

The market in Omaha means that a price committee will give due consideration to all conditions in the west, the supply and demand, the price of feed and cost of transportation before setting the price for the finished product which naturally regulated the price for the butter fat or the amount the farmer receives for his cream. In short, according to creamery men, Nebraska will make prices for Nebraska and western products, instead of those in the east, who are liable to think the cows are half buffalo and still milked by Indians.

PROTESTS ON LAND VALUES

Claims Are Filed in Appraisement Looking to Creation of Levi Carter Park.

Eight protests against the appraisement of land for the proposed Levi Carter park, by Cut-Off lake, have been filed and the protestants are preparing to take their cases to the district court on an appeal from the appraisement of the board. The Thomas Davis Real Estate company and the United Real Estate and Trust company, the latter representing the Kountze estate, were the first to file protests; the others being George Warren Smith, John A. Creighton Real Estate and Trust company, George and Laura Anderson, The Barker company, Byron Reed company and Thomas Plummer, et al.

In a letter to the Board of Park Commissioners, E. J. Cornish, member of the board, states that the Creighton company agreed to accept $90 per acre for its holdings; that Smith brothers of Boston and the Byron Reed company agreed to accept $100 per acre for their holdings and that the heirs of Tom Anderson agreed to accept $15 an acre for their seventy-eight acre tract.

Mr. Cornish also advised the board that money given by Mrs. Carter is now available and that tender of the money can be made at once and possession taken. He urges the surveying of the tract at once and says in his opinion the first improvements to be made should be a roadway around the lake and free public baths near Locust street.

W. W. COLE IS HELD FOR TRIAL

Bound Over to District Court on Charge of Selling Liquor Without License.

W. W. Cole was bound over to the district court by Judge Leslie of the county court Friday morning on the charge of selling liquor without a license and on another charge of keeping it for sale at Krug park, of which he was manager. The case, backed by citizens of Benson, was taken under advisement by the county court Wednesday.

Elmer E. Thomas, attorney for the plaintiffs, asserted that the license the city of Benson promised to the Krug Park company could never have been granted because the protestors appealed from the decision of the city council and were sustained in their contention by Judge Kennedy of the district court, who decided that a corporation could not hold a liquor license.

W. G. Armstrong, secretary of the park company, was similarly charged, but the case against him was dismissed. Mr. Cole was bound over on $500 bonds and immediately filed $1,000.

Doctors of Two Nations Agree as to the Benefits of Beer

American Doctor: To what, Doctor, do you attribute the success of the German people?

German Doctor: To one thing, my dear Doctor, just to their temperance.

American: But Doctor, we think of your people as heavy drinkers.

German: Ah, but the drink is beer. While other nationalities have their wines, whiskies and vodkas containing large percentages of alcohol and very little food value, we stick to our beer with its nourishing barley and tonical hops and only 3½% alcohol.

American: You say only 3½% alcohol as though that ingredient were not beneficial.

German: I do not mean it in that sense. We find alcohol has a food and stimulating value when the proportion is not too great. The danger is in overstimulation, impossible when the percentage is so small as in beer.

American: Perhaps the superiority of your people may be due to the superiority of your beers.

German: Don't mistake there. We are strong admirers of your Schlitz Beer. It evidences the care used in its brewing. Its full rich flavor brings to you the taste of the barley and the hops, so often lost in the different processes. It has the sparkle and life, too, due to a perfect yeast. The freedom from germs shows careful sterilization. The fact that it does not cause biliousness proves its perfect lagering, or aging as you say.

American: That is splendid, Doctor. I have been using Schlitz Beer in my practice, prescribing it where my patients needed an easily digested food which has some tonic value. Especially beneficial, I have found it, after surgical operations where the stomach refused to retain other food. Also in cases where the patient was not inclined to drink enough to flush the system of its waste.

German: When you Americans generally appreciate these benefits of beer, then may the Fatherland take heed or your country will outstrip us as we have our neighbors; but good progress to you and the temperance work of Schlitz, The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous.

Ask for the Brewery Bottling. Common Beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz. To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded Schlitz.

BANK CLEARINGS DOUBLED

Increase Per Month Over Two Million Dollars in Omaha.

LARGEST EVER KNOWN IN JULY

Despite This Month is Unusually Quiet for Business Banks Show Larger Results Than Ever Before.

Compared to the clearings of Omaha banks ten years ago the report issued Friday for the month of July shows the clearings of Omaha and South Omaha banks have practically doubled since 1898 and have increased over $2,000,000 a month as compared to the same month last year. July, always a quiet month, has this year made an exceptional record with Omaha banks. Clearings amounted to $6,196,596, as compared with $4,128,721 for the same month last year. As a result the month has broken all records in the history of Omaha banking.

Bankers ascribe the increase to general conditions in and about Omaha. During the month Omaha paid the highest prices paid in the world for grain—both wheat and corn. During the month of July the highest price paid at a Missouri river market for cattle since 1902 was paid by the South Omaha packers—$5.20. During the month wholesalers and jobbers, manufacturers, retailers and all other lines of business, from the building trades to the shoe makers, a record breaking business has been done and the bank clearings have mounted accordingly. This is the record for July during the last ten years:

Year	Clearings	Year	Clearings
1908	$6,196,596	1902	$2,946,372
1907	$4,128,721	1901	$2,627,414
1906	$2,946,372	1900	$2,326,384
1905	$2,627,414	1899	$2,560,247
1904	$2,326,384	1898	$2,208,846
1903	$2,560,247
1902	$2,208,846

ROMANCE SWEET AND BITTER

Rich Girl Who Marries Ball Player and Comes West Asks Divorce.

Lorna Warner Cassidy has filed suit for divorce from Bernard J. Cassidy on the ground that he treated her cruelly in "strange and unusual ways." Mrs. Cassidy had a sensational experience in Omaha upon her arrival some months ago. She came from the home of a wealthy Boston dentist she said. Her husband was a minor league ball player in the east. Her parents objected to their marriage. Soon after the young woman's arrival in Omaha she had an experience with some kind of deadly powers, which put her life in jeopardy for some days. When death was cheated, though, she expressed a desire to live and she was taken to the Monarch hotel at Fifteenth street and Capitol, where she was nursed back to normal strength.

Just bordering 20, the girl had the charm of physical beauty and intellectual culture, but she scolded instead of fawned at her meager surroundings and told how she would never, never go home to beg for restoration to the lap of luxury. Toward Bernard, as she called her husband, she appeared at times indifferent. He could play good ball, but was unsteady and she loved the west and—ah well. She needed money but did not complain when only $15 came from her father. She had worked out as a domestic rather than brook her determination not to yield.

BIG JEFF OUT FOR CONGRESS

Files for Republican Nomination in Second District, Making Third Candidate.

Added interest has been injected into republican politics by the filing on Friday of A. W. Jeffers for congress from this district. The filing of the third candidate being somewhat of a surprise. The two other candidates on the republican ticket are C. L. Saunders and Thomas W. Blackburn.

Mr. Jeffers was the official orator of the Commercial club on its recent trade excursion west, and showed that his campaign speeches will match up well with "Governor" Saunders and Mr. Blackburn.

Congressman Hitchcock is the lone candidate on the democratic ticket for congress, unless it is proved that F. H. Alexander will run on that ticket. Mr. Alexander paid his money to the county treasurer Friday, but has not as yet made his filing which shows the party affiliation. M. Logassa filed Friday on the republican ticket for representative and Peter G. H. Roland and W. S. Shoemaker filed for the same office on the democratic ticket. W. E. Miller, republican, filed for county commissioner from the Fifth district. George C. Porter, socialist, filed Friday afternoon for congress and M. J. Mundy, also a socialist, filed for state representative. W. F. Scogger, democrat, filed for state representative.
