

It's your harvest time now

Saturday, August 1st, we inaugurate a Harvest Sale of bargains. Perhaps no other word in our language has been more abused than this same word, bargains. We do not often use it, but when we do we mean to convey to you Noah Webster's definition. So that when we mention Bargains for Saturday, we mean in good faith and in very deed "A GAINFUL TRANSACTION FOR YOU." Frankly, we say we have no further use for the merchandise, and we realize that we must make the prices exceedingly low to tempt you to buy at this time—and CONVINCE YOU THAT THE MERCHANDISE WILL BE USEFUL FOR YOU. AT 8 A. M. SALE STARTS.

CAMPAIGN FOR A THOUSAND
Crusade Set on Foot by Commercial Club to Secure More Members.

With a membership of 755 at present, the Commercial club of Omaha will attempt to secure enough to announce an even 1,000 by October 1, and members of the membership committee will head teams to secure the necessary number.
The membership committee consists of the following: L. M. Talmage, Dan Baum, Jr.; C. D. Beaton, Roy Coffeen, M. E. Colpetzer, Eugene Duval, O. D. Kiplinger, E. T. Swobe, H. A. Tukey and J. D. Weaver. The Commercial club has recently "cleaned house," according to the membership committee, and many were dropped from the rolls who might be considered "dead timber" to any club or the community. This accounts for the small number at present on the rolls, but it is hoped to secure enough to make it a club of 1,000 within sixty days.
Various methods are to be employed to secure members and some very effective advertising matter has been issued showing a list of the members and those whom the club thinks should get out of the list of eligibles into the roster. When the members of the committee have selected their helpers a general meeting of the committee of 100 is to be held and the prospective divided up. The campaign has been well planned and promises to be successful.

The new church building will cost $15,000.00 complete, the general contract being $12,500. Members of the church made personal pledges to the amount of $6,735, but with other assets there is still a balance of $4,115.00. The pastor of the church, Rev. P. H. McDowell, and members of the building committee, hope for sufficient contributions from friends who have not subscribed so that the new church building can be dedicated free of debt.

SHIPPERS RESIST ADVANCE

M. E. Smith & Co. and Other Jobbers Protest Higher Freight Rates.

ACT WITH NATIONAL ASSOCIATION

Urge Interstate Commerce Commission to Use Influence Against Increasing Cost of Transportation Any More.

In strenuous terms the National Wholesale Dry Goods association, opposes the proposed advances in freight rates and Omaha dealers are taking a firm stand in the matter. M. E. Smith & Co. are the Omaha members of the organization, and have sanctioned the following set of resolutions which were made public Friday:
Whereas, a general advance in freight rates is being advocated by the managers of many railroads, as a panacea for business depression, and to enable them to maintain the present wage schedule and pay satisfactory returns on their stock and other liabilities, we, the executive committee of the National Wholesale Dry Goods association, enter our most emphatic protest against such a course, and urge the Interstate Commerce commission and all others having authority to use every means in their power to prevent such an increase, believing it to be illogical, unjustifiable and, in no sense, warranted. The following are some of the reasons for our protest:
First—Since the absorption, amalgamation and development of the community of interest idea among the railroads, their chief ownership and control has passed into a few hands, and competition, except of the most friendly sort, has been eliminated; this, together with legislation against the rebate system, has practically amounted to a substantial advance in rates on the bulk of their business, varying according to commodity.
Second—By means of reclassification a very general advance has been made in rates during the last few years, and as competition is eliminated this increase. Occasionally an item is reduced in classification, but this is the exception and as a rule an item of small tonnage. Investigation and comparison will show to what a large extent railroads earnings have been increased by this method. In our line of business, notwithstanding the improvements in transportation and increase in volume of business, rates are in vogue today that were established fifty years ago. For instance, the oldest tariff rate on dry goods from New York to Chicago, established in the year 1825, is 25 cents per 100 pounds, today the rate is the same. Furthermore, we believe that dry goods and kindred lines have been for years paying an excessive and undue share of freights and are beyond question the most remunerative traffic carried by the railroads and we feel that an advance in these lines would be utterly unjust from every point of view.
Third—All mercantile and manufacturing establishments have suffered fully as great a reduction in their net earnings as have the railroad companies. There is no reason that we are expected to improve business conditions and believe it is economically unsound as would be the proposition for a merchant to advance the price of his goods because trade is dull.

Fourth—On a fair representation of the actual investment we feel sure rates now in vogue are ample to realize fair returns under normal conditions, and demand that no advance be made to pay returns on securities issued by modern methods as typified in the case of the Chicago & Alton railway.

FUNERAL OF MISS HEYWOOD

Services Held at Family Home and Burial Taken Place at Forest Lawn.

The funeral of Miss Clara Belle Heywood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Heywood, 923 North Twenty-sixth street, who died at the Wise Memorial hospital after an illness of six weeks, was held from the family residence at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.
The services were conducted by Rev. David R. Turnbull and Rev. F. W. Foster. Interment was at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mr. H. Campbell, Frank Marall, Bert Lynn and Gordon Cooper were pall bearers.
Born in Omaha, October 17, 1878, Miss Heywood had lived here all her life and for the last fourteen years she was employed as cashier in the office of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company in the Baa building, where, by her pleasant manners, she made a host of friends in business circles. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian church, and was a faithful worker in the society of the King's Daughters, in the church and in the Sunday school. She is survived by her father and mother, three sisters and two brothers.

LOBECK PULLS OUT OF RACE

On Request of Hitchcock and Others He Kills Governor Bee.

WILL NOT STAND FOR PETITION

Congressman-Editor Beebeches West, His Former Campaigner, to Quit, and West Puts It Up to Lobbeck.

C. O. Lobbeck has been pulled out of the gubernatorial race for the sake of harmony and other democrats who want to get next to the public crib and the comptroller was to circulate the Jack petition putting the comptroller in the race, but the congressman told him that it would never do unless Mr. Lobbeck ordered him to do so and then the strong men of democracy were sent against the comptroller.

Congressman Hitchcock, who wants to be re-elected, started the movement by calling on C. L. West, his former campaign manager, on Friday morning. Mr. West was to circulate the Jack petition putting the comptroller in the race, but the congressman told him that it would never do unless Mr. Lobbeck ordered him to do so and then the strong men of democracy were sent against the comptroller.

Jeff W. Bedford, councilman and candidate for county commissioner, was the first to approach the gubernatorial candidate. G. F. Brucker, councilman, came next and then Assistant Comptroller Cosgrove, candidate for membership on the Water board, put in his plea. Many others journeyed to the city hall and talked long and earnestly with Mr. Lobbeck. Between them they won their point and the comptroller decided to issue a statement to put an absolute quietus to the whole proposition.

Withdraws for Harmony.
"Lobbeck had to pull out for the sake of harmony and also for the sake of us who are candidates," said one of the objectors to the Jack campaign of putting up a man to run against Mayor Dahlman. "The mayor may or may not get the nomination, but it matters so much more that nomination and election, but we must be elected and to be elected we can have no strife in this county. Lobbeck had to pull out to save our scalps. See?"

Mr. Lobbeck knew nothing in advance of the move of the Jacks to file for him by petition, but the action of his friends was gratifying to him, he says, even though he does not see his way clear to accept the nomination. C. L. West says he will not go ahead with his petition, but would have done so regardless of protests had not the comptroller stated unequivocally that he would not accept a nomination on any account.

Statement by Lobbeck.
Mr. Lobbeck in his statement says: "Allow me to state that I will not be a candidate before the democratic primaries for nomination for the office of governor of Nebraska. I also want to thank my friends, one and all, regardless of party affiliations, who so kindly assured me of their support if I should become a candidate for governor."
"It should be, and is indeed, very gratifying to me to have had so many expressions of good will and I take it that it comes from the belief that I have rendered satisfactory and efficient service to the people. In the many years that I have been serving the public in an official capacity in the city of Omaha, and in representing the county of Douglas in the state senate.

"Again I wish to thank my friends and the citizens of this community and state for their many expressions of good will toward me, but I do not believe that I should, at the present time, become a candidate for governor."

JIM PICKED FOR LAST MAN

Dahlman, Says Prominent Democrat, Will Not Get Brewer's Aid.

"Dahlman will be a poor third in the race for nomination with Berge, Shallenberger and himself as the democratic candidates for gubernatorial honors," said an Omaha democrat who has been identified with the conservative wing of the party and has been successful enough to get into the state house. "This does not take Lobbeck into consideration."
"I think Jim is honest in believing he has a chance for the nomination, and if nominated for election, but he is deceiving himself. He is counting on certain strength he will not get. That he relies on the support of the brewers might be shown from his display at Bellevue the other night. Mr. Dahlman thinks he pleases the liquor interests by constant agitation of this so-called 'personal liberty' question. He is wrong and that is one way in which he shows that he is not as shrewd a politician as he thinks."

"I have it from one of the leading brewers in Nebraska that they do not want Dahlman for governor, would not support him if he ran and would regard it as the worst thing that could happen at this time for their business if he were elected. They do not want any man to parade himself as the champion of their cause. They take that sort of thing as apologizing for their business and they are not doing that. Neither do they want this constant agitation of the feelings of the prohibitionists and invite them to greater activity along radical lines."

"Now, the mayor may not believe this is the situation, but I can tell him it is and that he is away off when he takes the other end of the argument. He is simply making a show of himself. I firmly believe that Dahlmanism will be completely snuffed out this fall and that when he gets before the people at the primaries he will be given a lasting impression of the people's estimation of him."

"I think the brewers want Berge no more than they want Dahlman. Of course they wouldn't support such a man as Berge. Shallenberger would be more likely to get their approval and in my judgment Shallenberger will be first man in the three-cornered race."

Suitor Who Tries to Force Marriage Released on Promise to Let Girl Alone.

William Hignett, who followed his fiancée, Miss Cassie Davids, here from Chicago and attempted to force her to marry him, and who was arrested at the instigation of the girl, was discharged in police court Friday morning upon his promise to return to Chicago and cease annoying the woman. Hignett, who is an Englishman, explained to Judge Crawford in a broad cockney accent that the girl left Chicago to go to Denver, but he found that she had arrived in Omaha and that another had supplanted him in her affections. After his discharge in police court Hignett's troubles were not over. He was taken before Justice of the Peace Cockrell and put under a bond to keep the peace, which he signed himself. Hignett and the girl held a short interview, during which she returned his engagement ring and then left for Chicago, as he stated, to enjoy the bliss of bachelorhood henceforth.

Old Soldiers Ask for Quarters in New Building and Board Favors Request.

A committee from the Grand Army of the Republic headed by Dr. H. K. Spalding presented to the county commissioners Friday morning a petition asking that a section of the new court house be given over to the Grand Army of the Republic posts free of rent for use as a meeting hall and museum. As was stated by Dr. Spalding in reading the petition nearly every court house in the eastern part of the country has such a place set aside where the old soldiers can hold their reunions, keep their mementoes and maintain the offices of their organizations and their relief associations. The request was referred on motion by Commissioner Dye to the construction com-
