SUIT FOR DAMAGE OF GRAIN Nye-Schneider Wants Great Western

to Shell Out Six Thousand Dollars. A hearing in the matter of the Nye-Schneider-Fowler Grain company of Omaha against the Chicago Great Western Ral way ompany for about $5,800 damages in a grain transaction is being heard before

Special Master A. R. Moore in the United States court room Wednesday.

The Nye-Schneider-Fowler company of Fremont alleges that during the year 1907 it shipped 106,000 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat from Fremont to Omaha and had the same temporarily stored in two of the big grain tanks of the Independent Elevator company until the elevator of the Nye-Schneider-Fowler company could be made ready for the reception of grain, and that when the grain was taken from the Independent elevators, owned and controlled by the Chicago Great Western Rallway company for transfer to its own elevators that the quantity was 304 bushels short, that a large quantity of the grain was badly damaged, being bin-burned, moldy and caked, and that the aggregate damage thus sustained was $5,756.53, for which amount damages are asked. The claim was sold by the Nye-Schneider-Fowler company of Fremont to the Nye-Schneider Fewler Grain company of Omaha.

The evidence in the case showed that one of the grain tanks of the Independent Elevator company was in a damaged condition and had been patched with burlap and oile makeshifts.

The hearing occupied most of the day and the evidence will be submitted by the special master to the receivers of the Great Western for its consideration and action.

LO LAYS CHARGE TO SQUAW Indian Accused of Horse Stealing Says Allegation is Spite Work of Divorced Wife.

Tony Blackbird, a half breed Sloux Indian, was arrested near Gordon a few days ago by Deputy United States Marshall Proctor and brought to Omnha for arraignment before United States Commissioner Anderson on the charge of stealing two horses from the Brule Indian agency in South Dakota. Blackbird was taken to Lincoln on the order of the commissioner to appear before Judge Munger, who slone is authorized to issue an order transferring the accused to the South Dakota federal furisdiction, where the horse stealing is said to bave been committed. Blackbird is held in the Douglas county jail until his removal to South Dakota, which will be in a day or two.

GIRLS ON SIDE OF LOGASA Court House Stenographers Will Support Him on His Hymeneal

The announcement of Mr. Logasa, candidate for state legislature, that he will, when he gets to Lincoln, introduce a bill making marriage compulsory after a certain age, has gained the support of at least one influential portion of Omaha's citizen-

Platform.

The votes which are controlled by the stenographers at the court house are perhaps not many, but their influence is great. Mr. Logasa was told Wednesday morning that if he would promise faithfully to carry out his announced intention, the girls in the court house offices will form a march ing club, and when Logasa is elected they will carry him in triumph to the state capital.

No officers nor meeting places have been arranged as yet, but Logasa is giving the movement his active sanction, so it must succeed. As the happy father of eleven children, Logasa refuses to be driven from his compusory marriage ideas by any less blessed married men, and he will defend his views at the meeting of the Sixth Ward Republican club at Twenty-fourth and Burdette streets this evening.

Corn and Wheat More in July Than Same Month Year Ago.

GOOD PRICES THE DRAWING CARD

First Mouth Since Last December that the Local Grain Exchange Inaues Favorable Report for Corn.

Almost 500,000 bushels more wheat arrived on the Omaha market during July just passed than during the same month last year, while the receipts of corn amounted to 116,700 bushels more than during July, 1907.

Good prices were the electro-magnets which drew both corn and wheat out of the country, especially the corn. Reports that there was no corn in the country to send to market were discredited each time the price got around the 75-cent mark , and farmers sent in a string of cars.

Wheat receipts were helped by the rushing to market of many carloads of new wheat. But July is the first month when the Grain exchange has issued a good report practically since last December. The receipts for the first six months of 1908 show a decrease of 3,738,300 bushels to all grains as compared to the first six months of 1907.

The receipts for July mean two things, according to the grain dealers: The farmers have confidence in the coming corn crop and are sending their old corn to market; they already know what the wheat crop is going to be and are sending in grain as early as possible to secure prices which will not be maintained when it is known how large the yield of wheat will be in Nebraska and Kansas.
