At a meeting of residents of McPherson and Bennett avenues, and that section of the city, who are interested in the transportation question, held at the suburban home of Henry Sperling, Thursday night, preliminary steps towards the organization of the Independent Transportation company were taken. Judge J. R. Reed, Attorney A. T. Flickinger and Henry Sperling were named as a committee on incorporation. The company, when organized, will go before the city council with a request for a franchise for a street railway.

That the city will probably be involved.

That the city will probably be involved in more or less litigation in connection with many of the bills and claims presented at the session of the Board of Health last Monday now seems imminent. The special committee, consisting of Councilmen Rigdon, Morgan and Jensen, to which these bills, aggregating about $2,000, were referred for investigation, has decided to recommend that they be rejected. The committee will recommend that in future no bills be paid unless the article purchased is with authority of the board.

As the result of a conference held at his office last night between Councilmen Rigdon and Younkerman, members of the special city council committee appointed by Mayor Maloney and a committee from the journeymen plumbers of the city, City Attorney Kimball will draw up an ordinance providing rules and regulations for all plumbing work. The proposed ordinance, however, will not be ready for submission to the city council at its meeting next Monday night and it will likely be a week or two before Mr. Kimball has it drafted. The ordinance will also provide for the appointment of a city plumbing inspector, who will be paid by fees.

While they were at work a train of empty cars in charge of Engine Foreman Williamson was pushed up another siding past where the men were working.

A few minutes later the train of empty cars in charge of Williamson was started back, and switched onto the same track Peterson's men had just "pinched" a partially unloaded car of cinders a short distance down the track, away from the other cinder cars. Williamson's truin came down the siding and, bumping into the cinder car, pushed it down the track until it struck the car on which Peterson's men were working. Boysen, who was assisting in pushing the car, was caught between the bumpers and crushed.

The evidence showed that the train of empty cars was not preceded by a switchman, as the law requires. E. Bruggerman, was stated, was the switchman who should have preceded the train as it was being switched onto the siding.

Ayers, acting for the democratic state committee, today presented to State Secretary Wipf the names selected at the Rapid City convention to sented them as the candidates selected for that purpose by the democratic state comretary refused to file such names as regular democratic nominees and this will probably mean a suit in the supreme court to test another phase of the primary election law. Yet another phase of the question came in an attempt on the part of C. J. B. His withdrawal has seen submitted to the attorney general for an opinion as to his power to take such action and if the attorney general should hold adversely it would probably mean

The Burlington railroad has written to Secretary Botsford of the Commercial club of this city that it will give the additional train service for southwestern Iowa to Mount Ayr that has been asked for. This decision of the Burlington forestalls any action of the State Railroad commission, to which the matter was submitted on the petition of the southwest Iowa people. The Burlington gives the assurance that the service will be extended as soon as a turntable and coal station and shelter for the engine can be built at Mount Ayr. The train will leave Mount Ayr in the morning and arrive at Des Moines at 10:30; and leaving, will leave Des Moines at 12:40 and reach Mount Ayr in the evening. It is now a two days' trip for many of the towns of southwestern Iowa to reach Des Moines. The towns of Kingston, Decatur, Davis City, Togo, Lamoni, Tuskege, Kellerton and Mount Ayr have all been more than one day away from Des Moines, and the citizens of those towns had to travel all night to reach Des Moines for the hearing before the railroad commission. There are some other towns that are still not benefited, and this matter is still pending be fore the commission.

Just six months ago He was on a stool adding up columns of figures and getting cussed when the balance didn't come right. He had a habit—the habit of reading the Classified Advertisements in The Bee EVERY DAY.

One day he saw this:

FOR SALE—One of the finest double store grocery and market on South Side; excellent location and high class trade, Sickness compells me to leave state. Big hargain for spot_cash buyer. Address

The advertiser had consumption—needed money—only a little-for inattention through sickness had made a good business run down.

The Man had that "little money"-He was well and able to hustle-and in six months-

Well-look at Him.

There are just as good opportunities EVERY DAY in the Classified columns of The Bee.

If you have an "air castle" -a little business of your own, a fertile little farm, a cozy home-you can make that "air castle" a reality if you do as the man did-
