CEDAR RAPIDS BUSINESS COLLEGE.

What a Model, Progressive School Can Accomplish. Stability is the keynote of this institution, founded twenty-nine years ago. For the last twenty-five years A. N. Palmer has had charge of its destinies. It has from the beginning been a successful and growing institution. The success of the enterprise is the best criterion by which to judge the qualifications of its teachers, who have always been experts, each in his line, and who have commanded higher salaries than are paid in similar institutions in the great middle west.

It may be interesting to note some of the things that a model school of this kind can accomplish. Aside from the thoroughly equipped institution, in points of classrooms, a series of departments, including bookkeeping, banking, shorthand, typewriting, civil service and auditing, there has been a strengthening also in the more vital phases of commercial education. The Burroughs adding machine, Edison's phonograph and a Gammeter multigraph are prominent places in the school rooms.

While the Cedar Rapids Business college employs the champion penman of the world, and while it carries an extensive equipment and occupies a $60,000 school home, it does not dwell upon advantages of this kind as being leading in its character and mission. They go deeper into the things that will bring results.

SPALDING COLLEGE.

Ample Facilities for Training Two Hundred Students. Spalding College was opened to students for the first time on January 27, 1908, under the auspices of Right Rev. Richard Scannell, D. D., bishop of Omaha.

The college is situated in the heart of the city, and is surrounded by a beautiful campus. The buildings are modern and well equipped. The faculty is composed of experienced teachers. The college offers a liberal education in the sciences, arts and letters.

The York college summer school closed on August 7. Of the last fourteen successful students, this one is the best of all—more students, a larger number in the collegiate work, and a larger proportion of men.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

The oldest Baptist college in the south for the education of women was destroyed by fire recently. This was the Southern Female college at LaGrange, Ga., of which Rev. M. W. Watson was president. It is believed that steps will be taken to rebuild the college.

TRAINS FOR RAILWAY SERVICE.

Skelton's School of Telegraphy and Railway Business, Salina, Kan. While there are many places where telegraphy is taught, Skelton founded the first exclusive telegraph school in the west, the same being established in 1887, and has been in continuous operation since that date under the same ownership and at the same location. It will be seen that it is the oldest school of the kind in this territory. It is also the finest and has many good features never attempted by other schools.

THE ALCOHOL in beer is a trifle—only 3 1/2 per cent. The effective ingredients are barley and hops—a food and a tonic. Pure beer is both good and good for you.

In Germany, Holland, Sweden, Denmark and Austria beer is the national beverage. Nearly all people, of all ages, drink it.

And all the world envies their sturdy strength. Every doctor knows how beer benefits. If you need more strength or vitality he will prescribe it.

But be careful to choose a pure beer, else you get harm with the good. And select a beer well aged to avoid biliousness.

The way to be sure is to order Schlitz. We go to extremes in cleanliness. We even filter the air that cools it. We age it for months. We sterilize every bottle.

Schlitz has no after effects.

Va., Aug. 9.—Although Candidate Taft threatened to bring suit on the bond that was given him to guarantee him that he would not be called on for a speech, nevertheless he responded in a brief commendation of the Green Brier County Horse show, when called on and complimented by General C. C. Watts, democratic candidate for governor of the state in 1908. The speech came at the conclusion of the fair yesterday and Mr. Taft took occasion to give his most hearty approval of the enterprise. Mr. Taft took advantage of the opportunity to express his appreciation for himself and for Mrs. Taft for what he termed the cordial hospitality he has received here.

MECHANICS ARE IN NO WAY TO BLAME FOR DISASTER.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Aug. 9.—Count Zeppelin today issued an explanation of the catastrophe that led to a ship in which he completely absolves his mechanics from any blame. He declares that the defects in the motors and lack of experience in steering caused the landings which he made during the endurance trip which was intended to take the balloon from Lake Constance to Geneva and return but ended disastrously when half the journey had been completed at Eckerdingen.
