Wallace, who issues this statement:

First, it is Labor day, a legal holiday, and we believe many who cannot usually attend day session in such a convention can be present on this holiday. Particularly urge your men to take advantage of this rare opportunity to learn some of the best and newest things in the development of Sunday school work.

Another reason for the selection of this date is that we can then have at the evening session the presence of Mr. Marion Lawrence, general secretary of the International Sunday School association, who will pass through our city at that time and give us an evening. This is a rare opportunity to hear the best known and best loved Sunday school worker in the world. It is seldom that he meets with a local convention, his continent-wide and world-wide duties crowding his time. Be sure and help fill the hall in the evening to hear this prince of men and loved leader in our great work.

Remember this is an organization of Sunday school workers, without regard to denominational lines or ecclesiastical distinction. It recognizes the fact that all Christians have one platform upon which they can stand—the spiritual needs of the child—and that in the Sunday school we have a common text book, the same problems and like needs. Through organization we more easily secure the beat help. We find an opportunity to compare experiences, exchange methods and receive encouragement and strength through co-operation.

Seven Per Cent of Omaha's Population Dependent on Pay Checks of Union Pacific.

Seven per cent of the people of Omaha are directly dependent upon the pay checks according to absolute figures prepared by A. L. Mohler, vice president and general manager of the Union Pacific.

For his own information Mr. Mohler has had a careful canvass made of the employes of the Union Pacific in Omaha, Council Bluffs and South Omaha, finding from each employe just how many persons were directly dependent upon him and the Fat Folks Buy figures show a grand total of 12,343.

The figures in detail are: Omaha Council Bluffs 174

A chronic cold is just one of those things which none of us want, yet even a chronic cold has its good points, more especially if you happen to be up in years a bit-not too old, of course. People who are up in years, and who suffer from chronic bronchitis, seem to get remarkably well. It keeps the blood in good circulation, for, of course, the victims have to cough, and that gives the heart a jerk and sends the blood coursing nicely through the veins and arteries. If the cold be not too scute, old people derive considerable benefit. An acute attack, on the other hand, may cut off an old person in a day or two. It is the chronic type only which yields benefit. Smallpox is a dreaded scourge; so much so that, if it be reported that a case exists in a neighborhood, a thrill passes through the whole community. Yet those who suffer from smallpox, and recover, usually live to a green old age. It seems to renew life in some mysterious way
