RIOT VICTIM DIES

both of Chicago, had been heralded all over the city and this went for toward bringing about peace.

Effort to Cut Fire Alarm Wires.

An attempt was made to cut the fire alarm wires but was not successful.

The man who would have cut off the fire protection of the city was discovered on the roof of a building in the act of reaching for the wires. A half dozen shots from troops, who were on patrol in the court house square were aimed at him as he stealthily climbed toward the wires. One bullet probably hit him, for he dropped to the roof of the building, but made a successful escape.

To this affair is added the attempt to fire the negro section on the northwest side of Springfield. Prompt action of the fire department co-operating with a battalion of the First infantry stopped the impending conflagration.

A platoon of infantry was dispatched to Harvard park, a new suburb just outside the city limits to the southeast shortly before midnight. Several shots had been fired, but so far as could be learned, nobody was injured. The troops soon returned to headquarters at the county jail. The suburb is adjacent to the main shaft of the Central Coal mine, where many negroes are employed.

Throughout the night headquarters of the two brigades had frequent calls from frightened citizens, who requested protection from suspicious characters.

Springfield is steeped in the deepest sorrow. The capital of Illinois well and truly realizes the sadness of its state, but it has determined to take the most vigorous steps to reassert justice and order.

State's Attorney Hatch, who, at the instance of and with the co-operation of Governor Deneen stands in the van of this movement, is backed by three-fourths of the citizens of Springfield and will be supported by the other fourth when they realize what he will attempt to do. The exceptions are the 300 prisoners now in jail for rioting, who stand to be charged with murder by the special grand jury, which the state's attorney was to request today.

A careful estimate places the number of negroes, who have left Springfield since the beginning of the race war at 2,000. There are still many negroes left in Springfield, but of these many are planning to go at the first opportunity.

Rayner's Complicity Not Shown.

Rumors that A. Rayner, the St. Louis man who was arrested for alleging participation in the lynching of William Donnegan Saturday night, had confessed to the police, could be only partially verified today. Rayner denies that he was concerned in the actual killing of Donnegan, saying that he was across the street when this took place. He gave the police the names of several others who, he declared, were guilty of participation in the outrage. None of these persons is known, however, and it is thought that Rayner has imagined the identity of his companions in order to escape further experiences of the "third degree." Rayner and Kate Howard, the latter accused of participating in the wrecking of Loper's restaurant, are the only prisoners against whom the police claim to have damaging evidence. The Howard woman has been released on bail. The explicit charge against her is grand larceny. She told the police that she entered the restaurant merely for the purpose of securing souvenirs of the Friday riot. One of her "souvenirs" the police say, was a pail of lard weighing twenty pounds.

Evidence Difficult to Secure.

The police and state's attorney are meeting with the usual difficulties in their attemps to discover the leaders of the riot. Every person arrested claims that he or she was present merely as a spectator and the prisoner can always produce several friends to substantiate this claim. Then there is the plea of the patrolmen that they "couldn't recognize" any of the rioters. If State's Attorney Frank Hatch succeeds in securing the punishment of any of riot leaders it will be accomplished in the face of tremendous difficulties.

Governor Deneen's office was again the mecca of the military commanders this morning. A new member of the council was General Jack Foster, who arrived this morning and superseded Colonel Sanborn of the west division.

General Foster put the entire Seventh regiment on patrol duty relieving the First and Second regiment men who had been on constant duty since their arrival from Chicago. The Seventh had not secured any camping ground as yet, being still bivouacked along the curbing on the Second street side of the arsenal.

Experiences of Some Negroes.

Among the refugees in the arsenal is Mrs. William Donnegan, the white widow of the aged negro who was strung up Saturday night and whose death yesterday followed.

"I left my sons to take care of the house," she said, "for I was afraid to stay there any longer." It is because of her marriage to Donnegan that the mob feeling against her husband is believed to have been aroused.

Ezra Richardson, brother of the man whose alleged attack on Mrs. Hallam started Friday night's outbreak, is among the negroes at the arsenal.

"I am here and am going to stay here till this thing blows over," he said. "I had my run for life yesterday. I was driving a team in the outskirts of town yesterday afternoon when a crowd of white men got after me. There were about eight of them and all were on foot, except two, who were on bicycles. They stoned me and said: 'Lets get this nigger,' but I whipped up my horse and escaped."

Governor Deneen, who has been working almost incessantly night and day, was up at 7 a. m. today ready for the day's work. Before noon he visited the refugees and listened to their stories of distress. He had a word of encouragement for all.

NOVEL WAY AROUND CONTEST

Deed for Each Heir to Prevent Fight Over Will.

UNIQUE METHOD OF RICH FARMER

William Hopper of Elkhorn, Who Died Last Week, Did Not Propose to Have Any Lawsuits by Children.

An unique method of preventing a will contest was devised by William Hopper, a wealthy farmer, who died at Elkhorn a few days ago and was disclosed Monday, when his last testament was filed in county court for probate. Accompanying the will was a sealed package cantaining six deeds, one of reach of six children, with the direction that they be delivered to the executors of the will and by them to the various beneficiaries.

Hopper's wealth is estimated at $200,000, mostly in Douglas county land. In his will he provides that if any of the children refuses to accept his or her share of the property under the will or shall attempt to set aside the will it shall be cut off with $100 and its shares shall be divided among the children that accept the terms of the will.

Aside from the six deeds, which have not been opened, he gives to Daniel G. Hopper, a son, 66.60 acres near Elkhorn with all the buildings, with a provision that this son pay $5,000 into a trust fund for Mrs. Lomila McLean a daughter. This trust fund, together with sixty-five acres of land also given her in trust is to be administered by his two sons, Bryan B. Hopper and William C. Hopper, and his two sons-in-law, Charles Witte and James Walsh. The income from the trust property is to go to Mrs. McLean during life, and at her death the property to her children.

He provides for the cancellation of the indebtedness of Bryan B. Hopper to the estate as part of his bequest. The six deeds to tracts of practically equal value are to go to the other six children not otherwise provided for—Mary Jane Witte, Bryan B. Hopper, Mrs. Hannah Crook, Mrs. Sarah Ellen Spicer, Mrs. Alice Walsh, W. C. Hopper and Mrs. Frank Deerson. Bryan B. Hopper is allowed as his share of the bequest the money due the estate from him.

HOW YELLOW SWELLS WEALTH

Russian Newspaper Makes Multi-Millionaire Out, of Man Worth Five Thousand Dollars.

That an American fortune of $5,000 may reach the colossal sum of $3,000,000 in the columns of a "yellow" in Russia is demonstrated by the experience of Victor Schmidt.

Schmidt is 72 years of age and has been placed in the hands of a guardian. He has a bank account of $5,000. Clippings from Russian newspapers which have reached Omaha show the papers in that empire are telling about the poor Victor Schmidt, who left that country for America impoverished and is now worth from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000.

It is suspected by Schmidt's friends here that some one is trying to work supposed relatives in the old country for attorneys' fees to collect the fortune for them when Schmidt dies.

While Schmidt's Russian relatives are dreaming dreams of great wealth Schmidt is objecting to an order of the court allowing him $40 a month out of his $5,000 to spend. Schmidt thinks this is too much and he is trying in district court to have his guardian, W. F. Wappich, removed. He wants to handle his money himself. Mr. Wappich filed a petition in district court Monday asking the court to make an order retaining him as guardian. He says Schmidt is living in a cellar under a house on Jones between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets and refuses to move into better quarters, which his means would justify. Schmidt wants to increase his wealth to $10,000 and in order to do it he is trying to live on $75 a year.

Mr. Wappich says a guardian should be continued in an effort to better the condition of the old man.

Y. W. C. A. DRAWS BUSINESS

Building Not Yet Completed is Magnet for Mercantile Interests in That Section.

Already the influence of the Young Women's Christian association building at Seventeenth and Howard streets is being felt in the enhancing of property prices and the outlook is that some substantial buildings will follow it within a short time.

Leases have been signed by the Central Mercantile company and the Jetter interests whereby the mercantile company secured the three-story brick building opposite the Young Women's Christian association building for five years. The building is being remodeled to accommodate a large stock of furniture and carpets. A saloon and barber shop have been retired. The company has a capital of $50,000 and has been in business in Omaha for several years, occupying a building on Leavenworth street.

Dealers who control lots at Seventeenth and Jackson streets and the big corner at Seventeenth and Howard streets report inquiries and it is possible a building or two will be erected.

George & Co. have sold the building south of Jackson on Seventeenth street and this will be remodeled. The tendency is said to build west of the Young Women's Christian association building as well as opposite it on the vacant lots held at high prices.

CORN FROM THE SAND HILLS

Samples Will Be Sent by Eleven-Year-Old Boy of Grant County.

Along with corn from every county in the world where American seed corn will grow, the management of the National Corn exposition will have corn from the "sand hills of Nebraska."

J. Wilkes Jones has received an application from Dan Foss, 11 years of age, of Whitman, Grant county. The boy says:

"Is it too late to enter the corn contest? If not I would like to send some corn from the sand hills. Our fields look fine. We have been roasting ears out of our field of sweet corn for a long time. I will send you some field corn when it is ripe to show that everything grows in Grant county. I expect to win a prize, but will you send me a corn show button, please?"

MRS. NELLIE DAY TO MILFORD

Woman Who Has Vexed Local Authorities Will Be Sent to State Home.

Mrs. Nellie Day, who has been a vexation to the county and charity authorities for a number of years, is to find a final lodging place in the Milford home if present plans are carried out. The insanity commission before which Mrs. Day was examined has recommended that she be sent to Milford by the commissioners and the Milford home authorities have promised to take her.

Mrs. Day is a widow and has been living with her brother for several years. A warrant was issued two or three years ago for the arrest of her brother, Robert Bruton on a statutory charge. Lack of evidence led to his acquittal by a jury, but the two have been before the juvenile court on similar charges several times. The youngest child is less than a year old and all of the children have been taken away from them and placed in an institution.

AIR PIANO PLANT CLOSED

Sheriff Seizes the Imaginary Factory Conducted by George L. Saeger.

George L. Saeger's wholesale piano business has been closed up abruptly by Sheriff Eugene Beal of Ogalalla, according to a dispatch received by Sheriff Bralley. The principal objection to Saeger's pianos is that they are imaginery. He has sold them all over the state, according to officials who have followed his trail, but he came up short when he reached the domain of Sheriff Beal.

Saeger first became a public character in Douglas county, where he did a flourishing business selling imaginary pianos, the first of the month. His plan was to ride up to a farmer's house, represent that he had a piano on his hands he had to sell at once because the man who bought it could not make the payments. He would sell it at a ridiculously low price, take $5 in cash and a note for $40 or $50 and promise to send over the harmony box in a day or two. Then he would pass on to his next victim and the purchaser would wait in vain for his piano.

In this county he went under the name of George H. Perry. Around Ogalalla he passed at George L. Johnson, but Sheriff Beal says his real name is Saeger and his mother lives at Boone, Ia. He says he has a good case against him there and will prosecute.

Saeger is said to have operated at Columbus, Silver Creek, Elm Creek and Kearney.

MERCHANTS' MEETINGS ARE ON

Need of Goods Biggest Inducement for Buyers to Come to Market City.

Midsummer and fall merchants' meetings of the Omaha Wholesalers' and Jobbers' associations began Monday morning and before Joint Agent H. E. Bruner could get his desk in place three merchants presented certificates for him to validate.

The outlook is for a large attendance. The railroad fare is an inducement, but more than anything else it is said the merchants need the goods.

There is said to be no longer a reason for buyers being ultra-conservatives and those now in the city show they are ready to fill out their fall and winter needs. For the next two weeks they will invade this market and carry to towns from here to Idaho carloads of goods. That the Omaha territory is enlarging is shown by a report of the George H. Lee company, which sold this month two carloads of goods in Spokane and four in Portland and four in Seattle.

Jobbers are making their arrangements to give the visitors a full opportunity to get fall goods at favorable prices. The revision of practically all classes of merchandise makes it important for the retailers to come to the market and make a personal study of the various offerings.

JUDGE ACTS AS PEACEMAKER

Lectures Boys on Brotherly Love and They Promise to Bury the Hatchet.

"I'll take back everything from you if you will from me," said David Petersen to George Abraham in juvenile court Monday morning after a hearing of accusations and counter accusations by Judge Kennedy.

"All right, I'll take it all back," said George and the two shook hands.

The evidence disclosed the two had been carrying on a little war all of their own. A brickbat and a long-necked bottle made up the arsenal which was introduced in evidence. George said David called him "sheeney" and David said George called him "Dane." Judge Kennedy gave them a talk on brotherly love.

"We are all Americans," he said, "and ought not to call each other names like that." Both boys promised.

The fight between the boys had been taken up by their respective parents.

"We live in the same flat," Mrs. Petersen explained to the court, "but we are not neighbors. We don't neighbor."

They promised before they left the court room to "neighbor" hereafter and be good friends.

RATHSACK FOR LEGISLATURE

Mayor of Schuyler Runs on Republican Ticket in Colfax County.

W. A. Rathsack, who, as mayor of Schuyler, went to the mat with the temperance people of his city on the matter of the saloon in his city, is running for the legislature in Colfax county on the republican ticket. Mr. Rathsack is vice president of the First National bank of Schuyler and is prominent in business as well as politics.

"I realize I have a fight on my hands," said Mr. Rathsack, who spent Monday in Omaha. "Colfax has been able in times past to swing a fusion majority of about 250 and, while it has sent some republicans to the legislature, it requires a persistent fight to overcome the pop vote. And this year the pops, or democrats, as they are now called, are making the fight of their lives. Everything that can be done by the democratic organization will be done to carry Colfax county. But Otto Zuelow of Schuyler turned it into a republican district and we believe we will be able to do it again this fall by united action."

J. C. Van Housen, populist, who was the fusionist candidate for speaker, was Colfax's representative in 1907.

SKIN CLEARED
By Simple Change in Food.

It has been said by a physician that most diseases are the result of indigestion.

There's undoubtedly much truth in the statement, even to the cause of many unsightly eruptions which many suppose can be removed by applying some remedy on the outside.

By changing her food a Kan. girl was relieved of eczema which was a great annoyance to her. She writes:

"For five months I was suffering with an eruption on my face and hands which our doctor called eczema and which caused me a great deal of inconvenience. The suffering was almost unbearable.

"The medicine I took only gave me tempory relief. One day I happened to read somewhere that eczema was caused by indigestion. Then I read that many persons had been relieved of indigestion by eating Grape-Nuts.

"I decided to try it. I liked the taste of the food and was particularly pleased to notice that my digestion was improving and that the eruption was disappearing as if by magic. I had at last found, in this great food, something that reached my trouble.

"When I find a victim of this affliction I remember my own former suffering and advise a trial of Grape-Nuts food instead of medicines." "There's a Reason."

STATES FOR CORN SHOW SPACE

Minnesota and Wisconsin Among First to Choose Places for Exhibits.

The work of selecting space for the various states which will have exhibits at the National Corn exposition is now on and within a few weeks every state will know just how much room can be secured and begin preparing the exhibits accordingly.

Blue prints will be made of the Auditorium and plans for temporary buildings adjoining it, that those who want concessions may secure them early. Already a pile of applications are on file for concession space.

Prof. C. P. Bull of the Minnesota Agricultural college at St. Paul, spent Saturday in Omaha selecting the space which will be used for the Minnesota exhibit. This exhibit will be in joint charge of the Minnesota State Fair association and the Crop Improvement association of Minnesota.

Prof. Bull announced that arrangements had been made to give a "National Corn Exposition Day" at the Minnesota State fair and Tuesday, September 1, has been selected as the date. J. Wilkes Jones, manager of the corn show, will go to Minnesota during the fair and be with the visitors and officers on "Corn Show Day."

While in Omaha Prof. Bull received a telegram from Prof. R. A. Moore of the Wisconsin Agricultural college, announcing his inability to join him in Omaha as planned, and asking Prof. Bull to select space for Wisconsin similar to that selected for Minnesota, which was done.

The Minnesota agriculturist declared the Omaha Auditorium to be an ideal place for the big corn show.

OFFICER WITH PAPER DIES

Peculiar Incident Delays Extradition of Harry Wilson to Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Considerable difficulty is being encountered in relieving the city of the presence of Harry Wilson, who was arrested three weeks ago and later identified as a man wanted in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on the charge of burglary. The New York authorities were immediately notified and replied that an officer would be sent with requisition papers, without which Wilson refused to go back. Chief Donohue received a telegram from Poughkeepsie Monday morning which told of the sudden death of the officer in whose name the requisition papers had been made out and who was the only one who could execute them. The telegram also stated that new requisition papers would be made out and another officer sent for Wilson.

GOOD SIGN OF PROSPERITY

One Eastern Railroad is Forced to Enlarge Facility by Increased Business.

The Lackawanna railroad has secured the large double pier at the foot of Catherine street, New York City, on the East river and will, effective September 1, establish a new freight station with daily float service to and from the same. This pier is ideally located for doing a large freight business. The section of the East side adjacent thereto, and in what is known as the "Brooklyn Bridge district," is filled with industries, manufactories and business houses of all kinds. As a result of the excellence of its service the westbound merchandise traffic of the Lackawanna railroad has shown an extraordinary growth in recent years and the establishment of a freight station, aside from the opportunity of a largely increased business in that section, has been found to be a necessity as a relief to the large amount of traffic which it has been called upon to handle through its pier stations on the North river. Considerable of the business which comes from east of Broadway will hereafter more conveniently use the new East river pier.

Dudley New Bank Examiner.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Aug. 17.—(Special.)—J. L. Wingfield of Mitchell, who for the last year and a half has filled the position of deputy state bank examiner, tendered his resignation a few days ago, and State Bank Examiner Jones of Madison has appointed F. A. Dudley of Canistota to fill the vacancy. The new deputy already has assumed the duties of his position. He is one of the most accurate and rapid accountants in the state. The new deputy announces that he probably will make his headquarters in Sioux Falls. The retiring deputy is secretary of the republican state central committee and has a wide acquaintance throughout the state.

Cavalry Returns Early.

STURGIS, S. D., Aug. 17.—(Special.)—The seven troops of the Fourth cavalry stationed at Fort Meade, which left the post on July 10 for Dale Creek, Wyo., for maneuvers, are expected to return on Tuesday, August 25, about two weeks earlier than was the intention when they left. This regiment was greatly depleted during the last two or three months on account of so many of the men being discharged, having served their time. Not many reenlisted, but during the last six weeks about 250 new recruits have arrived for distribution among the troops that were short in number.
