let us think of where you will have your Fall Garments made.

Now, because we mean so thoroughly every word that we say about our tailoring, either in our store or through our advertising, that the somewhat unusual degree of confidence reposed in us by our customers is perhaps not surprising.

Neither is it at all remarkable that our patronage is rapidly and healthily expanding. But, there are still hundreds of men who are not only deserving of our kind of tailoring, but who would undoubtedly genuinely appreciate it if they tried us this fall.

JUVENILE DEPT.

Not only is the space it occupies vastly greater than in any other store, and its equipment more beautiful and convenient, but the garments shown in it will prove a revelation to parents with children to clothe.

Every garment here, regardless of price, has been tailored according to our own specific instructions by expert tailors for the little fellows, several of whom have never made clothes for any store west of Chicago.

The result is a most remarkable showing of juvenile apparel into which has been worked a quality heretofore unknown in Omaha, but all selling at prices less than you have been paying for the usual kind.

It will pay you to bring your boy here next Saturday for his school clothes—you'll save considerable money and he'll look better.

Our Young Men's Clothes

Will be found in our Men's Clothing Section, and we honestly believe we are the first Omaha store to devote as much attention to it as to the Men's wear.

It is all made to our special order by high class tailors for men who have wrought exceptional garments for boys, who are almost men, instead of the shoddy tailoring which is usually said to be "good enough for young fellows."

The low price will be apparent to all who come to look.

WYOMING COAL MINES CLOSED

Work Suspended Last Night in Practically All Shafes.

EIGHT THOUSAND MEN IDLE

Suspension is Due to Deadlock Over Wage Scale—The Alabama Miners' Strike is Declared Off.

Butte, Mont., Sept. 1.—In consequence of the failure of the coal mine operators and mine workers to reach an agreement of a compromise which was held in this city late Friday and Saturday all of the coal mines in the state of Wyoming under the control of the Mine Operators' association of Wyoming were closed down last night and will remain closed for an indefinite period.

The order went out this afternoon about 11:30 men are affected. Colonel John J. Hart, representing the Wyoming coal mine operators and the Union Pacific Coal company tonight received the following telegram from Thomas L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

It is my earnest wish that you failed to agree. It seemed to me that the miners' representatives ought to have accepted the offer of President Lewis. Awaiting details. Agreement made with our organization cannot be broken as long as we believe that we must have wronged the situation.

A reply to the above message was dispatched to President Lewis by Mr. Hart, it follows:

In order to make the question clear, I unreservedly assert that I made a contract in good faith with Mr. Lewis, and as soon as we have the minutes of our joint meeting printed and in shape for distribution you will be able to obtain enough details to enable you to determine the question.

Mr. Hart maintains that the representatives of the United Mine Workers have broken faith with the operators in refusing to endorse the agreement which he insists was entered into between himself and Mr. Gilson by authority of the Mine Workers.

On Thursday the Montana operators and the coal workers will meet in Helena to hold a conference, concerning the progress of the wage scale in this state.

Representatives of the Montana operators in the city are:

James Pearson of the Commonwealth & Coal company; Edward W. W. Taylor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad; C. A. Anderson of the New York Telephone company; Rod Lodge; C. H.

VERDICT IN STEIN TRAGEDY

Coroner Unable to Determine Who Killed the Miner and His Wife's Son.

ASHLAND, O., Sept. 1.—Coroner Ash today held his inquest in the Stein-Purser shooting case in Landerdville more than two weeks ago. His conclusion is that he cannot determine who fired the shot which killed the young Dave Steiner man and his wife's son, Miss Purser.

The finding makes it clear that the verdict was made by bullets of the same caliber, as the coroner had two witnesses were used in the shooting case.

Prosecutor Fry claims to have obtained additional evidence in support of the murder theory and will make another appeal to Governor Harris to issue a writ of habeas corpus for Mrs. Mary Purser and her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Stein of Des Moines.

Governor Stinson has issued the following Labor Day proclamation:

Nebraska joins with pride in a working population in this state and country. Here the dignity of labor is held in highest honor and its achievement is venerated. We are all proud of the results of honest effort, to the measure of our ability to plan and to work, and we may rejoice that the wealth in our state is so widely distributed as anywhere in the world. It is especially fitting that our people here be so distinguished on the day of the year as a legal holiday in token of their esteem for the cooperation of labor.

Now, therefore, I, George Lawson Stinson, governor of the state of Nebraska, in accordance with the law and custom, do hereby proclaim the 10th day of September, 1908, as Labor Day, and respectfully request that all business, so far as possible, be suspended on that day, to the end that the workers may have a day of rest and that the children, who upon the future history of our country, may receive the benefit of a wholesome recreation for labor.

OMAHAN HEIR TO MILLIONS

C. W. Baker, Street Car Conductor, May Acquire Fabulous Fortune.

He and His Family Are Said to Own Ninety Acres in Heart of Philadelphia, Including City Hall Site.

C. W. Baker, street car conductor, 201 First street, may be one of the heirs to a Philadelphia fortune so vast that it is little wonder the man who picks tickets for a nominal salary is taking an interest in the matter regardless of the pleadings of his father who died six months ago and left him no money.

The story comes from Philadelphia that it has been discovered that the land on which the city hall in that city stands, thirty acres in the business part of the city as well as land in the adjoining real estate, altogether valued at $250,000, belongs to the heirs of a certain "Colonel" Baker, to whom a grant was given by the United States government many years ago, and is locally the property of 40 heirs scattered far and wide, but some of whom are known to be in Iowa and Nebraska.

It is claimed the grant is not subject to the statutes of limitation in any way and the only way the city of Philadelphia can secure a title to the site on which the city hall stands, is by paying the price to the heirs of Colonel Baker.

Of all the Bakers in Omaha, C. W. Baker, the street car conductor, is said to be the one to whom a share of the fortune will fall.

With Make Him a Millionaire.

If the rights of the 40 heirs is established to the property and it can be obtained, C. W. Baker of Omaha is a millionaire and might own a good share of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company instead of drawing a car conductor's salary for getting the car and running the engine from the rear platform.

"What do you know about this story?" Baker was asked, while he was at his pretty little home in the suburbs.

"Well, I hardly know what to say. My father died a few months ago and we have not followed the matter up since his death. About the last thing he said was that we were entitled to the property and would doubtless secure justice if we pushed the matter."

"Do you believe you are a relative of the Colonel Baker mentioned?"

"My father said we were related to him and entitled to the property, but I do not even know the relationship."

"Are you going to urge the claim on the Philadelphia city hall?"

"My brother at Harris, Pa., has the matter in charge for us. He wanted me to assist him, but I feel that I am busy and cannot give my time to it."

Pressed as to what he intended to do if he was in doubt about the magnitude of the claim, the street car conductor at Washington, D. C., would not say what he intended to do, but he said he was not a fortune teller and would not say what he intended to do.

The indigent street car conductor says he knows the Bakers in Iowa and in Kansas and the Sweetings of Queen City, Mo., are related to him as one of the Sweetings married his sister. The Sweetings of Philadelphia are unknown to the Omaha man who crosses Omaha on the rear platform of a street car, but he says his brother will follow the matter up and he is sure if there is anything to it for any of them he will get his share without the necessity of suing from the greedy but for justice on the interests of the street railway company.
