EVENTS ON RUNNING TRACKS Sir Martin Wins Flatbush Stakes from Mankette by Four Lengths.

NEW York, Sept. 6.-Under nearly qual weight conditions, John E. Madden's colt, Sir Martin, and James R Keene's futurity winner, Maskette, met yesterday in the rich Flatbush stakes at Sheepshead Bay, and Sir Martin won. As in the futurity, Sir Martin had run well while giving the Keene filly nine pounds, shouldering 127 to her 118, it was thought that today, with the handleap removed, he might take her measure, and he did not disappoint his admirers. The result of the pretty race was loudly cheered. It has given rise to a belief in some quarters that after all the question of the best two-year-old of the season is not yet settled and perhaps is one altogether of weight, if not of distance also, the Flatbush stakes, which Sir Martin won today, being seven furlongs long to the futurity's six. In the race today Wedding Bells jumped into the lead at the start by a length and a half, with Maskette and Sir Martin in close attendance. At the bend into the stretch Maskette took the lead by half a length with Sir Martin Schilling put Sir Martin under a drive, and catching the Keene filly at the furlong pole, took the lead and won easily by four lengths. Maskette was a length and a half before Favette.

Ballot and King James broke together at the start, Ballot took the lead on the paddock turn by half a length over King James. These two continued to draw away from the field and at the far turn Ballot was leading by a length. Ballot swung into the stretch with a lead o two lengths.

Schilling put King James under a hard drive and although he closed gamely, he was unable to catch the Keene colt, who won very easily by a scant length. King James was second, with Dorante third.

AK-SAR-BEN CALLS TO ALL Mighty Monarch Wants Every Qui-

vera Subject to Enjoy Himself. MORE TARS FOR GALLANT SHIP

Two More Initiation Nights Are Left and Samson Says He Has Room for All Who

Come

King Ak-Sar-Ben cannot be accused of being a selfish ruler, for he runs no closed orporation, but wants all the dwellers ties. To that end he has issued his final call for members, and although the membership is now 1,208, as compared with 1,960 a year ago, Samson says he has room for many more. Two more initiation nights remain and a letter has been addressed to wrestling bull, which enters the arena with the members asking that each hustle at least one more member for the final chance of joining the navy. More tars are needed to run the gallant ship and the following at this time will make the fall festivities letter has been sent out: OMAHA, Sept. 1.—Sir Knight: Ak-Sar-Ben XIV knows the worth of the gallant tars who man the ship of state in this year of grace 1905—all good men and true, no drafted conscripts, but freely enlisted, patriotic, loyal. Hence we have commissioned you all as recruiting officers; your dutics, to spin a good yarn of the fine ship Ak-Bar-Ben and to let all men know what it means to cruise under her colors.

To which end we command that the chief officer of the ship, erstwhile known as the Lord High Chamberlain Samson, grant every man jack of you shore leave to bring in one more sale seaman to serve before the mast until we put into port. You will not be able to walk the plank if you bring two, or even three, but one landlubber you MUST persuade to come on deck and try his sea legs.

That the bunks may not be crowded we refuse to sign 2,500, or even 1,500, but we think 1,499 a good saug number to stow away in the afterhold. Then we will batten down the listches, up anchor and away to the islands of the Biest, otherwise the coronation ball and the fail festivities. Yours for success.

SAMSON.

Larger and Orander. Everything will be put on larger and grander than ever, and to do this more men are needed. The good ship cannot be allowed to founder for want of men to give it a boost. Every tar is called upon to bring at least one more jolly seaman to within his realm to join in the fall festivi- the den either next Monday night or the week afterward, which will be the closing night. Doc Breed is busy filling up the big King's Highway with concessions and something will be doing all the time. The
