

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Liverpool and Cash Demand Send Wheat Further Up. CORN AND OATS SELL LOWER. Increased Receipts and Lack of Demand Are the Cause for This—Weather Conditions Are Excellent.

OMAHA, Sept. 16, 1908. Liverpool and cash demand send wheat higher, while corn and oats are sold lower on increased receipts and lack of any demand. Weather conditions throughout the country are excellent and without any buying power is developed, values are predicted in drop.

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade. CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The wheat market today turned surprisingly active and strong.

At the outset the market for wheat was firm, with December contracts over the previous close. Soft winter wheat, including the heavy northwest receipts and in some instances a decline in price.

The weakness of corn was shared by the oats market. Cash bids in the sample market were comparatively steady. Local receipts were, comparatively steady.
