VETERANS COME IN SLOWLY All Are Expected to Show Up This Week with the Possible Exception of Collins, Center, Who May Not Return to School.

DINCOLN, Sept. 19.-(Special.)-Nebraska will time up against the Peru normal at Ar.telope park Saturday afternoon in the opening game of the season on the Cornhusker schedule. The normals played the iritial game with Nebraska last fall and proved an easy prey, the score being 53 to 0 against them. Although the contest of a year ago was only a romp for the Cornhuskers, it gave their coach a line on the early form of the scarlet and cream players just as the game next Saturday is expected to do. It was in the Peru game last season that "King" Cole first saw the possibilities of Captain Weller as a punter and drop kicker, and from that time he set out to develop him into the phenomenal toe artist that the Cornhusker star became before the close of the season.

If a few more of the "N" men of last fail return to training this week the game with the normals is expected to be another romp for the Cornhuskers. Coach Cole will try some of his new plays in this game and give several of the promising klokers a chance to show their ability in booting the ball for distance and accuracy. Those who do the best work will be given special training in the kicking department that a man may be found among them hwo will be able to take up former Captain Weller's task in the kicking department.

The slowness with which the veterans of last year came back to practice this week was a little discouraging to the coaches, who had looked for a large numher to be present for the first week of training. Captain Harvey and Right Guard Frum were the only two old men who had Frum were the only two old men who had chicago WINS FIRST GAME third day of practice "Bill" Chaloupka, the big right tackle, and Kroger, fullback, arrived on that day, and Johnson and Cubs Outbat and Outfield the Phila-Beltzer, ends, showed up yesterday. But the fact that there are twelve "N" men of last year who are eligible this fall and that less than half of them reported this week the return of these veterans did not add much joy to "King" Cole's cup.

Surprise to Coach.

sulky attitude of the players has puzzled Manager Eager and the conches this week. The twelve "N" men of last season are not delinquent in their studies and all of them stand excellent chances of making their letters again this year. Their return to training within a few days would give Nebraska the best opportunity of re-cent years to defeat Minnesota in the annual game at Minneapolis, October 17, To ond. COACH CRONK HAS A BIG TASK
Whipping Material Into Form for Up All Time of the Heavy Teams is Now Taking Expert.
Coach Cronk feels hs has a hard task before him to put out a winning team. The sentiment expressed last year by old players that the '68 season would be the most trying in years seems likely to prove true. A great deal of hope was based on the reputed value of new men which may have been unmerited. Six men are yet absent from last year's team and one at the best is all that may yet airtive. Browne, the famous kicker, leaves a large hole, indeed, and as yet no very promising substitute has appeared. There is still a possibility that Mortar, the smashing halfback, may put in an appear- ance. There is also a loss in last year's second team, Lavrick, Fuller and Templin, from whom much was expected, not having yet shown up for gridiron work. Fred

Fred A. Jones has been elected trainer for this season. He will have the active co-operation of many old students in keeping the men in good condition. The training gymnasium has been refurnished with excellent tables, sufficient to accommodate all the men. More attention will be given to the care of men than has formerly been done. President Stookey will support athletics of all kinds and especially foot ball. A reception for new students was given Friday evening in Clarke hall. The decorations were purple and gold. Refreshments were served and a fine program rendered.

Spellman, who played with the Dietz team in 1906, will try (Continued on Second Page.) for end or quarterback. Thomas played a great game at quarter last year and, as he is in better form this season, it is expected that he will develop into a phenom this year. He passes the ball prettily and is fast on returning punts. Moran, who played half last year, will be seen in his old position. He attracted much attention last year with his quickness in getting started and his ability as a line plunger. Tuttle or Goodrich, both fast and heavy men, will land the middle place behind the line. Both men are fast and great line plungers and they were two of last year's stars. Quigley, who played center and tackle last year, will play at halfback this season. He attracted much attention his fast running and with his ability in getting down on the ball under punts. Jensen, who played every position last year, will be a valuable man for this season. Foot ball practice will begin Tuesday night with preliminary practice and a large number of candidates other than the regulars is expected to be on hand and the Dietz association predict that a strong team can be developed, even stronger than last year's fast aggregation. Any fast teams wishing games in or out of the city address Frank Quigley, manager, 2111 Maple street, or telephone Webster 2585, or Frank Thomas, captain, 2770 Webster street, or telephone Harney 1812. For that game some other player would have to be substituted for Borg. There is a man on the squad now who looks as though he could hold down that position very well. He Wolcott, a husky second year man, whom Cole had playing at center this week. He weighs 300 pounds and did good work all week. He is regarded as a new man who is likely to win his letter this

Developing a Kicker.

Frum, last season's right guard, and Harvey Rathbone, a second year man, did the greater share of the work in the booting department this week. Frum practiced all summer in punting and this week was able to send the ball fifty yards. Rathbone is a former Lincoln High school player and he boots the ball well both for distance and for drop kicks. His work this week attarcted considerable attention and marked him as a player who will probably get a numeral this season or next.

Practice this week was light. The squad, starting out Tuesday afternoon with fifteen members, numbered forty by Friday. Coach Cole, on the first two days ran the candidates through a drill in handling the ball. They lined up for much of the time on those days and passed the spherold to each other in order to get used to holding it. They also were sent after the ball when it was kicked, and compelled to fall on it that they might become ac ustomed to holding the speroids sent down the field on punts and forward passes. Thursday and Friday the men were lined up in team formation and sent through several simple plays. Punting and dropkicking held the attention of a few of the candidates every day. Next week "King" Cole will give his pupils some new plays that will be tried out in the game against Peru. The forward pass and on-side kick will be two of the plays used.

Among the second-year men who have showed up for practice this week and who give promise of doing some strong playing are Temple and Elliott. Both were members of the freshmen team last year and played excellent ball. Temple is a back field man and was captain of the freshmen last fall. He weighs 180 pounds and is fast. IOWA IS READY FOR OPENING

Only Four Veterans Absent and Team Will Be Good One.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Sept. 19.-(Special)-Between fifteen and twenty members of the Iows foot ball squad returned this week already for the official opening of the season on Monday. With better prospects than Iowa has had since the days of Dr. Knipe and the famous 1900 team. Coaches Catlin and Griffith will soon begin to whip into shape an eleven to defeat Nebraska, Kansas and Illinois this fall.

Iowa loses only four veterans this fail and the coaches are fortunate in having star material from last year's freshmen team to fill the vacancies. There are several candidates for each position and some of last season's regulars will have difficulty in holding their places on the varsity. The hospital list started before official play began and Trainer Tommy O'Brien's services were called into play before any of the players donned a suit, Carberry, left and last year, has two broken fingers on his right hand, sustained in a fall. He will not be able to start practice for two weeks. "Mike" Hyband, and on the freshmen team last year, and a strong condidate for quarterback, went to the hospital for
