How About the Quality? MOST MEN when they order garments, think first of price, then style and fit; and they leave the quality to the last, or don't consider it seriously at all. It isn't the best way to buy clothes—anything else for that matter. But candidly, isn't that about the way that most men buy clothes? The truth is, there was never a time when the quality of the material in your garments was so important as it is today. In a peculiar sense it involves and includes all the peculiar points—style, fit, tailoring, price. The best of all Fall and Winter designs are here—in a variety enough to satisfy the most exacting. SHALLENBERGER RAPS JIM

Tries to Discredit His Chummy Relations with Mr. Bryan. DENIES HE IS W. J.'S BEST PAL. First Democrat with Temerity to Kneek One James—Rogers Says Alma Man Must Stand for Personal Rights.

Ashton C. Shallenberger of Alma, the man whom Mayor Dahlman gave such a fierce race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, is the first and only man thus far who has the temerity to come out and deny that Dahlman is Bryan's most intimate personal and political friend. Moreover, he says that Bryan did not send Jim into Illinois to stump the state; that the national committee did it, but that it has no significance, anyway. "Jealous," shouted a Jimocrat down at Dahlman headquarters when he learned of Shallenberger's declaration. "Jealous," echoed other Jimocrats.

Shallenberger even tried to discredit the significance of that Asia telegram. He was a member of a discussion of the Bryan-Dahlman alliance against his will, but after he got into it he discussed it with a will and much animation, if not animosity. It was plain to be seen that the fact of our Jim's chummy relations with the Peerless Leader has an irritating effect on Colonel Shallenberger, as well as the rest of the Jack-ocrats.

No, Mr. Bryan Did Not Call Him. "Did Mr. Bryan ever ask you to take the stump for him?" Mr. Shallenberger was asked. "No, and I do not understand that Mr. Bryan has asked Mr. Dahlman to take the stump for him. The invitation came from the committee, as I understand it," was the reply. "There is absolutely no significance in this speech-making tour of Mr. Dahlman in Illinois and this trip of his, or the telegram Mr. Bryan sent him from Asia, does not in any manner show that he (Dahlman) is Mr. Bryan's closest friend. Mr. Bryan is a good democrat and he is for the nominee, and in this instance I am the nominee."

"I reiterate, there is nothing in this talk that Jim Dahlman was Mr. Bryan's candidate simply because Mr. Bryan congratulated him when he was elected mayor of Omaha. Why, Mr. Dahlman wrote me congratulating me on my nomination. That does not mean that I am Mr. Dahlman's candidate—far from it. "I know nothing about this personal rights issue. I have been very busy and have given the matter absolutely no attention. Do not wish to be quoted in any way or the other."

Before his nomination Mr. Shallenberger intimated that he stood on the same platform with the mayor, but now that he has secured the plum he forsakes the hand that reared him and says that he knows nothing about this personal rights issue. Mr. Shallenberger stopped in Omaha on his way to Lincoln, where he will be present at the making of the state platform today. While in the city he received the ovations of a number of the faithful.

Will Have to Stand Hitched. George Rogers, former president of the Dahlman Democracy, who confessed to having under his protecting care the personal rights plank which the Dahlman men will attempt to get in the platform, had a long talk with the gubernatorial candidate and says Mr. Shallenberger will have to stand for personal rights. Mr. Rogers was the first of the great unwashed to bow before the leader Monday morning, but he informed his followers that he did not ask the great man where he stood on personal rights because he figured that the candidate would have to be for it.

Candidate Shallenberger was evasive when asked about the home rule proposition, but to members of the faithful he said he was for home rule, that Alma—his home town—has home rule, and that Omaha ought to have the same. "The convention democrats—all Jims—will go to Lincoln Tuesday to see that the platform is sound; Thomas J. Flynn, county chairman and president of the Dahlman Democracy; Charles E. Fanning, member of the old committee; F. T. Ransom, E. E. Howell, J. M. Tanner, senatorial candidates; W. F. Stoecker, candidate for representative; P. C. Healey, candidate for coroner, and Joseph P. Butler, high in the councils of the party."

TROLLEY COMPANY TO FIGHT Street Railway is Preparing for Stubborn Resistance of Order to Cut its Wire. Evidence that the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company is prepared to put up a hard fight to prevent the cutting of its wires and the destruction of its conduits under orders issued by the city council, was presented Monday, when a score of affidavits to sustain its position were filed in district court. The hearing was to have been held Monday before Judge Estelle, but in order to allow the city attorney to go over the affidavits presented by the street railway company, a postponement was taken until Tuesday of next week.

The affidavits are in support of the company's contention that the city authorities have recognized its right to sell heat, light and power to private consumers for so long it is now entangled from denying that right. J. B. Redfield of the Knapp & Bartlett company signed one of the affidavits saying his company has used electric current from the street railway company for sixteen years. In that time former City Electrician Schurig and the present incumbent, Waldemar Michaelson, he says, have examined the wiring and required certain changes, recognizing the general right of the company to sell the power. This was done, it is asserted, with the full knowledge of the city council. Other business men present similar affidavits, showing the city recognized the right of the company to sell power. District Clerk Smith Proposes Election Commission to Regulate. LET IT NAME AND REMOVE BOARDS Wants Law to Provide for Best Men on Such Work and Would Enforce Penalty Clause for Evading Service.

"I am in favor of an election commission of three to appoint and remove election boards and be entirely responsible for the conduct of all elections," declared District Clerk Smith. The statement was made in the course of the glaring errors which have been discovered by the canvassing board in the count of the vote by the precinct election boards. In one South Omaha precinct a mistake of sixty-seven was found in the official returns. Other candidates gained from twelve to eighteen in the same precinct. Errors of a less serious nature have been found in more than thirty of the precincts which have been recounted. This condition of affairs has caused considerable discussion among court house officials as to the best method of improving the character of precinct boards.

The present board was appointed last fall. Before the coming election new boards will be named by District Clerk Smith. Each of the republican and democratic county committees recommends five names to the district clerk, who selects from the ten the five who are appointed precinct election officers. "This year in order to help clean up the election boards I am going to post the names of those who are recommended by the two committees," and Mr. Smith said he will be allowed to hang in a conspicuous place and candidates and citizens will be asked to look over the lists and make objections to anyone whose name appears on it. In this way I hope to be able to weed out the incompetent or dishonest members and materially to raise the standard.

Ought to Have Good Men. "We ought to have boards made up of the best men in each precinct. Even busy men ought to be willing to devote a day or two to the service of their country on election boards. The law providing a penalty for anyone who refuses to serve on a board ought to be enforced strictly. "The present system of choosing election officials is bad because it divides up the responsibility among the eighty or ninety men who compose the county committees. The tendency is for the party committees to recommend politicians who are willing to work for the $5 they get out of it, instead of men who are competent to fill the positions and do accurate work. "The remedy would be to have an election board of three members, to be paid for their work, and to be given full power to appoint or discharge board members. They should be held strictly accountable for the conduct of the elections as far as their appointment are concerned. In this way the responsibility would be concentrated and better results would be secured."

RURAL CARRIERS COME NEXT National Association Will Meet in Omaha October 6 to 9 and Five Hundred Will Attend. J. H. Talbot of Table Rock, president of the Nebraska Rural Letter Carriers' association, was in Omaha Sunday completing arrangements for the annual meeting of the national association of that organization in Omaha, October 6, 7, 8 and 9. The headquarters of the national association will be at the Rooms hotel, and the convention will be held in the banquet hall of that hotel, but if larger quarters are needed, it will be held in the Auditorium or some other suitable hall. The president of the National Association of Rural Letter Carriers is Paul L. Lindsey of Tucker, Ga., who will be present during the convention. He is also expected, the Postmaster General Von Meyer, Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw, Superintendent W. S. Spilman of the rural free delivery service, and other leading Post-office department officials will be present. At least 500 delegates will come to the convention and probably twice that number of rural carriers from different parts of the United States with their families. The Commercial club will assist in looking after the entertainment of the visitors. The local committee of arrangements consists of S. P. Howland of Juniata, chief of mail, P. H. Talbot of Table Rock, P. V. Helmick of Waco and Mrs. Ruth Kenyon of Monroe.

The Farmer's Wife Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. It is not apparent that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it. The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood. If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements. The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Delightful Time in City. "Our stay in Chattanooga was a delightful one. The city has grown from a population of 1,500 during war times to 100,000 people. It is a clean city and all of its principal streets are well paved. It is a manufacturing center and has 236 different articles manufactured there. "I attended a political meeting addressed by the candidates for president and vice president of the independent party. The opera house was crowded and the enthusiasm was intense. Indications are that the independent will elect their candidate for governor in Georgia. Republican sentiment for Taft in Tennessee is encouraging and many republicans indicate the success of the republican electoral ticket in that state. "Nebraska was represented by every first-class postmaster in the state, together with a number of members of our state socialist. That fact gave us quite a standing in the convention and a good representation on every committee. Mr. Sizer of Lincoln was elected second vice president, which, according to the rotation they are now following, will make him president of the association two years hence. The association meets next year at Toledo, O., which city was selected after a vigorous fight put up by the city of Seattle."

MERCHANTS' MEETINGS O. K. Third One, Like Other Two, Brings Big Crowd of Business Men to City. The third merchants' meeting given by the Omaha Jobbers' and Manufacturers' association closed Saturday evening when more than 600 certificates were signed by the joint agent in charge of the passenger bureau. The number who bought tickets to Omaha on the certificate plan by the Omaha representative the number who attended the meetings, the railroad rates applying only to points within 100 miles of Omaha. The jobbers had two propositions, one to refund fares in proportion to purchases and the other to refund rates. Many merchants also came when they pleased and paid their fare without regard to reductions or inducements. Trade has been more than satisfactory with the wholesalers who are preparing to entertain thousands during Ak-Sar-Ben and offer some special lines at their warehouses. Arrangements have been made to give all the privileges of the Commercial club during the festival when introduced by members of the club. This means a quiet place to rest, reading and writing rooms in the heart of the city and other privileges usually extended to members only. See Want Ads as Business Boosters.
