PEOPLE COME OUT IN THE RAIN

AUBURN, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—Senator Burkett spoke last night at the Maclay opera house to a large audience. Senator Burkett arrived here yesterday afternoon after a strenuous trip from Falls City in an automobile. The party met with several breakdowns enroute, in consequence of which they were several hours behind their schedule, and they stopped here long enough to change machines before going to Brock. W. H. Cooper took the party in his automobile from here to Brock, where the senator spoke in the afternoon, and returned here in the evening. Before the meeting Senator Burkett and his party were given a reception at the Hotel Drexel. Mr. Burkett has been making from two to four speeches a day on his trip, and reports good audiences and plenty of enthusiasm everywhere. He is much elated and gives it as his opinion that the republicans will roll up their usual comfortable majority in this state in November.

The seats were all taken and there were many people standing. The principal speaker was Congressman Walter I. Smith of Council Bluffs. The first part of his address was upon the tariff. He urged the necessity of the maintenance of the protective principle and the revision of the schedules along these lines. The latter part was a discussion of the differences between the platforms of the parties. Labor Commissioner Rider was the first speaker. The audience was enthusiastic and the strong points made by each speaker were generously applauded. In spite of threatening weather the meeting was a success.

Beauty and Bad Breath

Cannot Go Together No Matter How a Woman May Try to Make Them. It does not matter how beautiful a woman may be, if she is afflicted with bad breath she will be shunned and pitied by men and even women will studiously avoid her. If any woman doubts this statement let her make a point of asking a friend in whom she may confide, a man friend or relative. If he be honest he will tell her that foul breath from the mouth of a woman will drive men from her more rapidly than any other personal affliction. Foul breath arises in man disgust and when this quality is brought into play no amount of self-dental or reasoning can overcome the natural repugnance which comes to man when he is in company with such a woman. What is true of bad breath in woman is not true in so great a degree in men. Women are looked upon as the incarnation of sweetness, breeding, virtue and refinement. Foul breath will sicken a man in that he cannot feel for such a woman a companionship necessary to make him desire to be in her company. There is absolutely no occasion for bad breath in either man or woman. Charcoal, the strongest absorbent known, when taken into the stomach, will prevent this repugnant tendency or affliction after each meal and upon retiring. You might at fifty of them without harm. They are not medicine, but pure willow charcoal mixed with sweet honey to make them palatable and compressed into a lozenge to preserve their peculiar and lasting strength. The best time you wish to go into company and not want your foul breath to humiliate you, eat several of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges and your breath will be pure and sweet. Every druggist carries them, price 25 cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mo.

"The resignation was not addressed to me," he said. "The question of its acceptance and of a successor lies with Mr. Mack."

The first speech of the day was at Woodstock, Ill., where a big crowd heard him repeat his statement often made that it was considered by republicans undignified to appeal for votes from the rear platform of a train. His remarks were cut short by the train pulling out.

TAFT MAKES HIT IN IOWA

Characteristic Short Speeches Take Well with Crowds.

TALKS WITH MANY HE MEETS

Voice Does Not Hold Out, but Candidate Makes Excellent Impression—Crowds Greet Train.

WATERLOO, Ia., Sept. 26.—Mr. Taft's tour of Iowa began with a short address to an immense crowd at Cedar Rapids before 8 o'clock. The carrying power of the candidate's voice was still notably deficient. In explaining his condition, Mr. Taft told the crowd that it was "because I talked yesterday to about 15,000 good Iowa republicans."

It was, he added, very trying not to be able to impart his ideas satisfactorily to the big crowds that greeted him, but he expressed the keenest appreciation of the compliments shown him by the presence of the crowds and their enthusiasm.

When he had concluded at Cedar Rapids, his review of the duties of good citizenship which he said included the selection of government agents who had been tried and found satisfactory rather than those who made promises and prophecies which time universally proves un sound, he was requested to face the crowds on all four sides of the raised platform from which he spoke. As he did this, he remarked with a smile, "I feel like a performing bear."

"Well," was the retort from the crowd, "we are going to give you the blue ribbon all right."

"That's what I want," rejoined the candidate. "I want Iowa to show the good sense of her men and women by rolling up a 200,000 republican majority, which I believe she will do."

Another big crowd awaited the special at Vinton, and from the rear platform the candidate made a brief talk and was heartily cheered. Waterloo's reception was another big affair, and here, too, the crowd was demonstrative.

Senator Clapp of Minnesota boarded the special in Iowa at Act as the escort of honor after the Minnesota line should be reached. Five stops were scheduled in Minnesota before St. Paul is reached at 3 o'clock. Here Mr. Taft plans to deliver a speech on postal savings banks and the guaranty of bank deposits. He will go to Minneapolis tonight, where he will remain over Sunday.

In his speech at Vinton, which gives a good idea of Mr. Taft's recent talks, he spoke as follows:

"I only want to say to those who are farmers that they are in a very comfortable situation with reference to their crops and their prices. That if they will look back twelve years they will find a situation under the Gorman-Wilson tariff bill that was not so comfortable; when prices went down to half of what they are now, and then a panacea was proposed that was just cut down half our debts by act of congress, and having thus paid off half, we go on and struggle with the remainder."

"Instead of that, which was the recommendation of the gentlemen who is now my opponent, you went ahead and pursued the honest policy of paying your debts in the coin in which you had contracted them, and honestly proved to be the best policy, necessary with that and with the adoption of the Dingley tariff we went to prosperity never before known in this country."

"We have had a panic. We got too far spread out, and in business circles and in labor circles that panic is hurting. But we are on the upgrade. And if we can only keep the confidence of those men who control capital so that railroads may borrow money, so that corporations engaged in industrial enterprises may borrow money, prosperity will come again. But my friends I ask you, heart to heart, if you were alone in business would you select a gentleman as your agent, putting out a man who had served you well? Would you select a man as your agent to bring about confidence who had made recommendations for twelve years with respect to economic systems and economic plans and short cuts and non-trutms to prosperity, every one of which had been refuted by the event? I believe the people of Iowa are a long-headed people. I believe that when they see a good thing they know it, and I believe that they next November will show their common sense, will show that they are still standing without wavering, for progressive government, by voting the republican ticket and again bringing about prosperity."

Respects to Mr. Gompers.

MASON CITY, Ia., Sept. 26.—To an audience composed of laboring men at Waterloo, Judge Taft paid his compliments to Samuel Gompers in the following vigorous language:

"Mr. Samuel Gompers has already delivered the vote to the democratic party and that makes it rather hopeless for one who is struggling for the republican party to deal at all with the labor question. He seems to have removed it from doubt by carrying the vote in his pocket. He leaves no place outside for me. Now, I venture to think that the laboring men of the country think for themselves and have an intelligence that enables them to take their own judgment as to the party and the candidate whom they elect.

"It is rather a cheap method of attacking a candidate to say that he is opposed to labor, that he is in favor of oppressing and tyrannizing labor and that he has nothing in his heart that sympathizes with labor. The only way you can meet that is to say that it is not so and that is what I do say. I yield to no man in my sympathy with labor or as a class, in its effort to organize to make itself properly powerful in the community, to maintain its equality and its level in the struggle for life and in dealing with capital on those issues where its interests and those of capital are opposed."

speech at Cedar Falls.

At Cedar Falls, where he located the home of the great Iowa Normal school, Mr. Taft spoke of the profession of teaching as perhaps the highest in our civilization, and followed with a brief reminder of what had been done in this respect in the Philippines and his disagreement with Bryan on this question.

He was presented with a huge bouquet of red roses and an ear of corn of great size. As he held one in each hand when the train moved away from the big crowd he remarked, "Beauty and utility." The Waverly Junction meeting brought forth the same big crowd with the same expressions of approval of the candidate. Owing to the addition of Mason City to the itinerary the Taft special will not reach St. Paul until 5 o'clock.

Frankie Talks of Trip.

C. F. Frank, chairman of the republican state central committee of Iowa, who has been with Mr. Taft during the campaign in Iowa, after receiving the thanks of the candidate for the demonstrations in the state, had this to say of the trip:

"Nothing could demonstrate more clearly the sentiment of the Iowa voters than the cordial reception given Mr. Taft from the time he entered the state at Clinton. The warm reception given him by the immense crowds which assembled everywhere is the most effective answer to those who might have harbored any doubt as to his popularity or ability as a campaigner. The whole of Iowa believes in the Roosevelt policy and the welcome given Secretary Taft demonstrates the confidence they have in him and the belief that he is not only able, but willing along the lines which have so distinctly marked the last seven years of national history.

"I am greatly pleased over the general interest shown and the warm receptions given everywhere, and Iowa feels honored by having had so great and distinguished a guest. We will surely express our appreciation on November 3."

BEATRICE, Neb., Sept. 26.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Taft club was held last evening. W. H. Pollard in Demand.

Senator Dixon, director of the national republican speakers' bureau has urged Congressman Pollard to give some of his time to campaign work outside of Nebraska. Owing to other duties it will hardly be possible for Mr. Pollard to grant the request. Mr. Dixon's request is considered a high compliment to Mr. Pollard as a campaigner. It is as follows:

"Can't you possibly arrange your state campaign so as to give the national committee at least ten days or two weeks for campaigning outside of Nebraska between now and election. The reports that have come into headquarters from your Indiana meetings have been most enthusiastic. They say as you get better that no one has done more good in Indiana than yourself. The national committee is most anxious to secure your services. Can't you write me saying that we can have you?"

Democratic Executive Committee.

Chairman T. S. Allen of the democratic state committee has appointed the following executive committee: John Matter, Jr., Nebraska City; T. J. O'Keefe, Alliance; H. D. Miller, Stanton; Clark O'Hanlon, Blair; D. A. Geil, St. Paul; W. Wilson, Stromberg; Harry Dungan, Hastings; J. J. Thomas, Seward; Harry V. Hayward, Omaha; Theodore Greiss, Sutton. The Union Pacific Railroad company today intervened in the complaint of Omaha lumber dealers against out-rites from Lincoln. The company followed the example of the Lincoln Commercial club and filed a demurrer with the State Railway Commission. The commission will hear argument on the demurrer of the Lincoln club September 29.

Conditional Pardon.

Governor Sheldon today issued a conditional pardon to Raymond R. Kennard of Plainville, who is serving a one-year sentence for forging an endorsement to a check for a small amount. He was received at the prison March 11 and is 22 years of age. He now has typhoid fever. The governor has ordered him taken to a hospital at University Place, there to remain till he recovers and then be taken to the home of his parents in the same town, and thereafter to be employed at some useful occupation and to report to the governor monthly the amount of his earnings.

HITCHCOCK DENIES THE RUMOR

National Chairman Has Heard of No Other Resignations.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Chairman Hitchcock this morning deprecated rumors that other resignations, in particular that of National Commission Treasurer George R. Sheldon might follow that of T. Coleman Dupont, head of the speakers' bureau, whose resignation was announced last night.

"I know of no other resignations," Mr. Hitchcock said, "nor any contemplated." Mr. Hitchcock also said that no successor to Mr. Dupont, whose resignation was accepted yesterday, had been selected and would not be before the first of next week. Mr. Hitchcock said he had received no information from Washington since his return from Chicago on any matter touching the campaign, except that Washington was well satisfied with the plans to be carried out from now until the close of the campaign.

It was given out at headquarters today that Colonel Dupont's resignation does not affect his position as national committee man from Delaware. He will continue to
